Traffic Counters Look Suspicious

Citizen participation can be a trying experience.

Two members of the Greater Eastside Citizens Association learned the lesson firsthand while conducting a traffic count at the intersection of Hwy. 2 and Hwy. 77.

They were parked in a lot near the intersection with a good view of the traffic. Soon a Nebraska State Patrol trooper pulled up.

"Why are you watching the State Penitentiary (located directly opposite them) with binoculars?" he asked. The trooper listened to their excuse and wrote down their names, addresses and phone numbers.

"What are you going to do with that information?" asked the traffic counters.

"Well, if there is an escape in the next few days, you'll probably be hearing from us," the trooper replied.

Tax Revisions Sent To Ford

Washington (UPI) — Congress Thursday sent President Ford the first major tax law revision in seven years, continuing tax cuts, curbing some shelters, increasing the minimum tax and changing hundreds of other breaks ranging from child care to retirement income

The Senate passed the bill shortly after the House approved it 383 to 26

The Senate vote was 84 to 2 — the two being Sens Ernest F Hollings, D-S C, and Dewey Bartlett, R-Okla

The legislation is a compromise between House and Senate bills which were developed over three years, amid intense lobbying

Ford is expected to sign the bill despite fears that Middle East peace efforts could be harmed by a section denying certain tax breaks to U S companies which participate in international boycotts such as the Arab action against Israel

In general, the bill would reduce the tax liability of the average middle-income American at least a little through such devices as an expanded child care tax credit for working parents of any income level, a more generous retirement income credit, and the extended tax cuts

As income rises into the upper brackets, however, taxpayers in general will find many shelters and loopholes tightened, although some new ones are opened and taxes on large estates are significantly lowered

For industry, the results are mixed Corporate tax cuts and the 10% investment tax credit are extended and some industries such as railroads gain valuable new tax breaks Some other industries, such as oil lose some tax advantages

Overall, the bill raises $1 6 billion in new federal revenue in 1977, falling to a little less than $1 billion a year over the next four years as estate and gift tax reductions come into play

One of the final battles of the bill was whether to approve a provision in the estate tax section that could cost millions of dollars to the heirs of wealthy estates

This provision will require that capital gains tax be paid on the increase in value of an estate during the lifetime of a property owner, if the estate is sold by heirs Only the increase in value after Dec 31, 1976 would be recognized, however, softening the blow for a number of years

Under present law, tax is paid only on the increase in value from the date of death, a situation which Chairman Al Ullman of the House Ways and Means Committee called probably the biggest loophole in the code

Here are some of the main provisions

— Tax cuts for both individuals and businesses are extended through 1977 with the increased standard deduction made permanent

— The minimum tax on the wealthy who pay little or no regular tax is increased and applied to more people

— Child care expenses necessary for both parents to work are allowed as a tax credit, with a saving of up to $800 even if deductions are not itemized

— Tax shelters are curbed in real estate, farming oil and gas movies sports franchises, equipment leasing and other enterprises

— The sick pay exclusion is repealed except for a deduction of up to $5,200 a year for those permanently and totally disabled

— Alimony payments are deductible even if not itemized

— Oil companies, which lost their depletion allowance in earlier legislation, face new limitations on intangible drilling costs and foreign tax credits

— The holding period required to gain lower capital gains tax treatment is increased from six months to a year while the amount of regular income that can be offset by capital losses is increased from $1,000 to $3 000

— Housewives would be allowed to share in their husbands individual retirement accounts for those whose companies have no pension

Ethics Panel Won't Move Against Scott

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Ethics Committee has voted 5 to 1 not to recommend action against Republican leader Hugh Scott and most other senators who allegedly received illegal Gulf Oil Corp. funds, it was learned Thursday

Sen Edward Brooke, R-Mass, was the only dissenter Wednesday when the committee voted on a motion by Sen Carl Curtis, R-Neb., that no further action be taken against Scott or others.

Joining Curtis in favor of the motion were committee chairman Howard Cannon, D-Nev, and Sen Herman Talmadge, D-Ga — who along with Curtis also were alleged to have received Gulf funds — and Sens John Stennis, D-Miss, and Milton Young, R-N D

Meeting in a private, unannounced session, the committee rounded out an investigation it began late last year into charges that Gulf lobbyist Claude C Wild Jr. parceled out hundreds of thousands of dollars in company funds to members of Congress, including a score of senators, between 1960 and 1973.

However, sources said the committee still might look further into possible corporate contributions to other senators, including Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii

And Scott is still under investigation by federal prosecutors on income tax matters stemming from the Gulf contributions

Scott, who is retiring from the Senate at the end of this term never has denied receiving money from Wild, but maintained he accepted it in the belief it came from legal private contributions and not corporate funds.

Scott said he distributed the funds among other senators for use in their campaigns.

Scott later issued a statement saying, "I initiated the committee's action by voluntarily submitting a written report to the committee I supplemented this with a personal statement of the facts, as I had offered to do voluntarily when I submitted my written statement.

"I am sure that the committee's consideration was most thorough and objective Corroboration was sought and received This clearance by the committee is most gratifying "

Last month Scott told the committee he had received only about $45,000 from Wild But Wild testified he gave Scott around $100,000, much of it in envelopes containing $5,000 each spring and fall for eight years.

Frederick Myers, a former Gulf Lobbyist, told the Securities and Exchange Commission under oath that he delivered cash in a sealed envelope to Cannon at his Nevada campaign headquarters about 10 or 12 years ago Myers said he did not know how much money was in the envelope

Curtis also allegedly received contributions from Gulf, according to SEC records, although company spokesmen said they believed it was from legal sources

The sources said the committee also rejected on a 5-1 vote a substitute motion by Brooke that the committee continue its investigation

Gulf's report said company lobbyists made illegal contributions to Talmadge and Sens Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn, Russell Long, D-La, and Henry M Jackson, D-Wash

Other senators named in court depositions and the Gulf report included Howard Baker, R-Tenn, William Brock, R-Tenn, Lowell Weicker, R-Conn, Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex, Robert Byrd, D-W Va, Robert Dole, R-Kan, Harry Byrd, D-Va, Ted Stevens, D-Alaska, Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz, Sam Nunn, D-Ga, Mark Hatfield, R-Ore, and J. Glenn Beall, R-Md.

Dole said he never received any Gulf money and Wild said he was mistaken in identifying him as a recipient

Beall and Inouye have denied receiving any money from Gulf Jackson, Baker and Brock said they received funds but paid them back

Buckley Gets The Point

Sen James L Buckley, R Con -N Y, got a little more than he bargained for in some sidewalk campaigning along Fifth Avenue in Manhattan He ran into a constituent who had a few points to make. Buckley, an easy winner in the New York Republican primary, charged his Democratic opponent, Daniel P Moynihan, with being out of touch with the people of the state and of adopting an elitist neglect" toward them

Senate Passes Tuition Credits

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Thursday approved a system of tax credits for parents to help with college tuition costs despite warnings it would drain $2 3 billion in revenues over five years

The Senate first attached the proposal to a minor House-passed measure and approved it by voice vote with only a few senators present

Several hours later, Sen James B Allen D-Ala, demanded the Senate reconsider the bill, and his motion was rejected on a 62-21 roll call

The action came shortly before the Senate took up the compromise tax reform bill from which Senate-House negotiators dropped a tuition tax credit provision

The program would provide a full tax credit for the first $100 paid for tuition costs in 1977 and rise to $250 by 1980 and thereafter The program would not go into effect until next July 1

Sen Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, chairman of the Senate Budget Committee said the program would cost $2 3 billion in the first five years and increase in cost after that

Allen said tax credits for tuition cost was a "a principle I approve but that passing the bill would undo a large portion " of the work by Senate-House negotiators in fashioning a tax bill that would meet budget constraints

Chairman Russell B Long D-La of the Senate Finance Committee said Rep Al Ullman D-Ore chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, promised to consider the proposal if sent to the House separately

Muskie warned the Senate that taxpayers will not benefit at all because colleges and universities would increase tuition costs to reflect the tax credit

Muskie also said passage of the bill would lead to increasing pressure on Congress to raise the amount of the tax credit and bring new burdens on the budget in future years

Sen William V Roth, Jr, R-Del, main sponsor of the bill, said Americans don t want a handout but " just want to retain some of their earnings to send their children to college

It is the very minimum we can do for college students It is an opportunity to give a small bit of help to Middle-Americans to allow them to send their children to school "

Norris Apologizes For Illegal Power Lines

By DICK HOLMAN
Star Staff Writer

Appearing "with egg on our face," Norris Public Power District officials admitted Thursday they built an electric transmission line illegally

Saying the mistake was his responsibility and promising to correct it, Norris General Manager Glen R Schmieding also confessed to the Public Service Commission that the district built and energized two more lines without PSC approval

The commission had found that Norris erected a line now carrying power at the west end of a public airport sod runawy at Hawks Field near Bruning, in Thayer County

"Glen Schmieding and I," Norris counsel Robert Crosby of Lincoln told commissioners, appeared "with egg on our face, penitent because we have goofed," despite his 20-year association with the district Schmieding, of Beatrice, has headed Norris for two years

Citing his own lack of "internal control of Norris operations, Schmieding promised, "I assure you commissioners this won't ever happen again " He said he assumed his engineer had obtained proper authority to build the lines

He attributed part of the problem to the March 29 storm, which felled lines and poles causing a lengthy power outage in Thayer and other counties, resulting in replacement haste.

"We want to make amends," said former Gov. Crosby. to reach "proper compliance as soon as possible " Schmieding proposed that Norris remove the overhead line at Hawks and bury it, also to suit state aeronautics safety requirements and any further department directives

The PSC noted that even if the airfield owner doesn't object, the law is clear regarding the line "We did not handle that job the way we should've," Schieding reiterated, and apologized repeatedly while providing details of two other instances of failure to comply

Those include a half-mile line serving a new home northeast of Sprague and a five-mile underground line that improved service to Davey residents Each was built and energized before legal authority was sought

"This also I didn t know about," Schmieding referred to Norris staff instructions to build the lines, "and I should've " He said the power district didn t intentionally try to circumvent rules regarding safety and public welfare hazard checks first

PSC Chairman Duane Gay said the commission tries not to delay applications or power service but must demand compliance.

In other action, the PSC deferred and directed a hearing on an application by Gentry Real Estate doing business as Gentry Limousine Co of Lincoln for operational authority

Omaha Commissioner James Munnelly questioned why no justification was offered for high rates despite the luxury car chauffeured service

Gentry of 620 N 48th, proposed a $15 in-town hourly rate plus 35 cents a mile outside the city limits with the first 20 miles free Full-day service would require a three-hour minimum plus mileage charges Waiting time is $5 an hour

Special rates Gentry proposed include a flat $42 for Lincoln-to-Omaha service between city limits, and a flat $35 for weddings Gentry applied for authority to operate 24-hour daily service for a 12-passenger-plus-baggage maximum within an 80-mile radius of Lincoln No protests were filed

The hearing date will be set later

Can Judge Retaliate For Door Slamming?

By United Press International

Does a judge have the right to get mad when someone, after being sentenced to prison, slams the door to the courtroom?

That question is raised in a case appealed from the Lincoln County District Court.

The judge's reaction was cited as a reason for reversal of the probation revocation decision.

Attorneys for Howard Lavern Snider told the Nebraska Supreme Court Thursday Lincoln County District Judge Hugh Stuart did get mad at Snider for slamming the courtroom door The attorneys said Stuart got back at Snider by revoking a sentencing order provision giving credit for any jail time served.

The sentencing stemmed from a charge of killing a steer, a felony crime

Snider pleaded guilty but maintained he only helped cut the steer up, not kill it. Originally he was placed on probation, but misdemeanor charges of minor in possession of alcoholic beverages and assault resulted in a revocation.

Stuart sentenced Snider to a prison term of one to three years It was at that Dec 19, 1975, sentencing that the door slamming took place.

"There is no statutory provision for the conduct that provoked the district judge to resentence the appellant," said North Platte attorney Joseph A. Shaughnessy

Initially, Stuart had given Snider credit for jail time served The incident that changed the judge's mind occurred when Snider was taken from the courtroom to begin serving his prison sentence.

"The district court judge revoked credit for time served only because he was angered by the appellant's act of slamming a door," Shaughnessy said.

The appeal records did not show how many days of jail time were at stake. Nebraska Penal Complex officials figure those out once a convicted criminal reaches the institution.

The judge's reaction to the noisy door closing wasn't the only point raised in the written brief asking the supreme court for continuation of probation

"The appellant also feels that the probation officer did not fulfill his duties to the court and the state in making sure that the appellant was following the first and second probation orders," Shaughnessy said. Following the court's initial decision to place Snider on two years probation, he was charged with breaking and entering a Lexington cafe.

The charge was dropped and the probation period was extended on the original steer killing charge A second probation order was entered which contained restrictions not included in the first one

Shaughnessy said Snider feels it was really the probation officer's fault he got into trouble again and had his probation revoked.

"He feels that if better supervision had been provided by the probation officer and the district court probation order would have been enforced, he would not have gotten into trouble again," the attorney said.

2 Undercover Drug Agents Protest In Work Slowdown

Star Staff Writers

Problems between State Patrol drug officers on the street and patrol supervisors reportedly came to a head two weeks ago in Omaha

Patrol sources said two patrol undercover agents in Omaha were concerned over the direction of their work They thought their supervisor was making himself look good by having agents make a large number of arrests for small quantities of drugs

The agents wanted to concentrate more on the larger arrests, according to sources

"They (the agents) don't get the encouragement to work undercover," one source said. "They've been told informants could do the same thing (as undercover agents) "

The conflict developed into what one source termed a "work slowdown " The agents didn't refuse to work, but they did less work than they could have done.

Capt. Lynn V Parks, head of the patrol criminal division, would neither deny nor confirm that the incident occurred

If there is a situation, it s an internal matter," Parks said I m not going to discuss internal matters in the news media "

Only two agents in Omaha were working full-time undercover two weeks ago, according to a report Those two were the ones involved in the clash with the supervisor, sources reported

Most sources in the patrol request anonymity because they either fear for their job, or because they are involved in drug work and cannot risk exposure Information is checked with at least three separate sources

"Undercover men just aren't getting the backing to go out and work undercover," one source said

One source said agents are told to make a lot of small arrests That s all they want us to do It's starting to get into the numbers game," he said

Sources said undercover agents were not working as much as previously One said undercover work involved a lot of overtime, especially for big cases.

If there's too much overtime, they (patrol supervisors) want you to pull off the case," the source said.

Capt. Lynn V Parks head of the patrol criminal division, reportedly went to Omaha and talk with the supervisors.

But sources said that since Parks came to Omaha, the situation has barely changed."

2 Undercover Drug Agents Protest In Work Slowdown

Star Staff Writers

Problems between State Patrol drug officers on the street and patrol supervisors reportedly came to a head two weeks ago in Omaha.

Patrol sources said two patrol undercover agents in Omaha were concerned over the direction of their work. They thought their supervisor was making himself look good by having agents make a large number of arrests for small quantities of drugs.

The agents wanted to concentrate more on the larger arrests, according to sources.

"They (the agents) don't get the encouragement to work undercover," one source said, "They've been told informants could do the same thing (as undercover agents)."

The conflict developed into what one source termed a "work slowdown." The agents didn't refuse to work, but they did less work than they could have done.

Capt. Lynn V. Parks, head of the patrol criminal division, would neither deny nor confirm that the incident occurred.

"If there is a situation, it's an internal matter," Parks said. 'I'm not going to discuss internal matters in the news media."

Only two agents in Omaha were working full-time undercover two weeks ago, according to a report. Those two were the ones involved in the clash with the supervisor, sources reported.

Most sources in the patrol request anonymity because they either fear for their job, or because they are involved in drug work and cannot risk exposure. Information is checked with at least three separate sources.

"Undercover men just aren't getting the backing to go out and work undercover," one source said.

One source said agents are told to make a lot of small arrests. "That's all they want us to do. It's starting to get into the numbers game," he said.

Sources said undercover agents were not working as much as previously. One said undercover work involved a lot of overtime, especially for big cases.

"If there's too much overtime, they (patrol supervisors) want you to pull off the case," the source said.

Capt. Lynn V. Parks, head of the patrol criminal division, reportedly went to Omaha and talk with the supervisors.

But sources said that since Parks came to Omaha, the situation has "barely changed."

Sen. Mansfield Ends 34 Years On Capitol Hill

Washington (UPI) — On the eve of his departure from Congress where he served 34 years, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield allowed himself one boast — he says he made the Senate more Democratic.

Retiring after 34 years in Congress, Mansfield, 73, leaves Friday for a trip to China — a country that has intrigued him since he served there as a young Marine — and Congress will have adjourned for the year by the time he returns.

So after 10 years as a represetnative, 24 as a senator and 16 as majority leader — the longest tenure in the Senate's history in that post — Mansfield's congressional career is ending.

As is customary when members retire, the Senate set aside time Thursday to honor him.

Senate GOP whip Robert Griffin, speaking first, said in tribute. "Were all our public figures Mike Mansfields, there would be no need to restore public trust in government."

Mansfield took the floor to reply with a four-page speech.

"I do not leave this place in sadness," he said. "I leave as one who has lived as a part of it and loved it deeply. I leave personally fulfilled and contented to have been here, one senator of the over 1,700 men and women who have served their states and the republic in the Senate of the United States."

President Ford also was calling him Thursday to give him regards and pass on a "verbal and informal" message to any Chinese officials.

Mansfield, in a retirement interview, pointed to a change that occurred after he succeeded Lyndon Johnson as leader in 1961.

"There is no longer an inner club dictating the Senate's affairs," he said. "No senators are more equal than others. Assignments are made on the basis of geography and philosophy. Seniority is still a factor but in a declining sense.

"There is no such a thing now as a super senator or a second-rate senator. They all participate. They don't go through a wallflower period or a silent period.

"I felt that's the way the Senate should operate. The newest senator's vote should count as much as any other senator's. The newest senator should be seen and heard — when he has something to say."

Mansfield is going to China as a guest of the People's Republic, taking along as his guest Sen. John Glenn, who served in China as a Marine in World War II.

Mansfield's service in China as a Marine occurred half a century ago after he had enlisted in the Navy at age 14 (lying about his age to do so), then in the Army and finally in the Marines.

He returned to civilian life as a copper miner and mining engineer. He credits his wife, Maureen, with persuading him to go to college. He taught history at the University of Montana for 10 years before his election to the House in 1942.

Asked about the disappointments in his lifetime, Mansfield brought up an old wound.

"Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos," he said. "A truly tragic period in our history. Useless. Unnecessary. Worthless. Costly. A black mark."

He felt the war deeply — all the more so because U.S. involvement began under John Kennedy. Mansfield felt fatherly toward Kennedy. He still lists him as "the best of the lot" of the seven presidents he has known.

As for the future, Mansfield said, "I've received a number of teaching and research offers. I don't know what I'll do yet, but if there is any way I can be of service to my government, I'll do it."

Carter Hits Ford 'Recluse' Stance

By United Press International

President Ford returned from stumping his home state to "Presidential" style campaigning in the White House Thursday. Jimmy Carter said Ford's strategy of staying in Washington was making him "a recluse."

Both candidates sought ethnic votes Thursday, and both scheduled visits, although not simultaneously, to an Italian-American dinner in Washington.

Ford's running mate, Sen. Robert Dole, and Vice President Nelson Rockefeller were painting a portrait of a politically moderate Ford for New York state voters.

Ford's formal campaign kickoff Wednesday at the University of Michigan was his first out of town campaign trip since he won the GOP nomination and the last scheduled outing until the first presidential debates in Philadelphia Sept. 23.

Besides the Italian-American dinner, Ford's Thursday activities included a meeting with the GOP southern state chairmen, a reception for the "Young President's Organization," and a visit to the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception to attend a reception honoring American-Hispanic Heritage Week.

In Indianapolis, Carter, who appeared earlier at a Mexican Independence Day fiesta in Saginaw, criticized Ford's style of campaigning.

"When a candidate becomes a recluse and refuses to submit himself to the cross-examination of a campaign, then that indicates a concern about his acceptance on the basis of trust," he said.

He critized the President's campaign-opening speech as advocating programs the administration has consistently vetoed, saying Ford's proposals on mortgage interest rates and job training both originated with the Democrats.

Dole stumped upstate New York Thursday but Rockefeller, on his own turf, stole the limelight.

Rockefeller repeatedly dissassociated Ford from the Republican platform which contains many planks that lean more toward the right wing of the party than Ford does.

A Detroit News survey released Thursday showed Ford ahead 41% to 34% in his home state.

And a poll released by Louis Harris reflected Carter's "fuzziness" problem with 45% of those polled saying they felt uneasy about Carter because they cannot tell what kind of person he really is.

Patty Hearst Faces Final Sentencing

San Francisco (UPI) — Patricia Hearst Thursday was ordered to appear in court Sept. 24 for final sentencing on her conviction for taking part in a San Francisco bank robbery in 1974 while she was underground with the Symbionese Liberation Army.

The date was set by U.S. District Judge William Orrick, who said he would hear defense pleas for leniency and an expected motion for a new trial before pronouncing sentence.

Miss Hearst, 22, who currently is being held in the Federal Metropolitan Corrections Center in San Diego, was convicted March 20 by a jury of seven women and five men of taking part along with four SLA members in the robbery of a Hibernia Bank branch on April 15, 1974.

She was sentenced by trial Judge Oliver J. Carter to the maximum term of 35 years in prison on two counts, armed bank robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony.

Carter said at the time he was imposing the maximum sentence because it was the only way he could get additional psychiatric examination of the newspaper heiress to help him reach a final decision on her sentence, which he said he would reduce. However, Carter died June 14 and Orrick was assigned to the case.

Orrick is expected to follow Carter's guidelines, normal under similar circumstances. Carter had said he was opposed to straight probation for Miss Hearst, and Federal Prosecutor James L. Browning Jr. said he would not be surprised if Miss Hearst received a term of about six years in prison under the Youthful Offenders Act.

Miss Hearst's chief defense attorney, F. Lee Bailey, said in June that new evidence has turned up in the case and he will ask for a new trial on the basis of it.

No matter what the sentence, Miss Hearst still is scheduled to face trial Jan. 10 in Los Angeles on an 11-count indictment charging robbery, kidnaping and assault in connection with a shooting incident at Mel's Sporting Goods in Inglewood, Calif., a month after the bank robbery.

Rizzo Vows Fight In Recall Ballot

Philadelphia (UPI) — A judge Thursday validated a petition seeking the ouster of controversial Mayor Frank L. Rizzo, and ordered a special recall referendum placed on the Nov. 2 general election ballot. Rizzo said he would fight the ruling to the state Supreme Court.

The mayor also criticized Common Pleas Court Judge David N. Savitt, who validated the petition and ordered the issue placed on the ballot, as a "political enemy."

Howard Gittis, Rizzo's personal attorney, said he would ask the state court for a stay of the ruling.

Gregory Harvey, attorney for the "Citizen's Committee to Recall Rizzo," said he would join Gittis in asking the high court to assume jurisdiction in the case to assure a final decision by Sept. 21, deadline for placing the referendum on the ballot.

There was no immediate word when the high court would act on the expected appeal.

"We'll wait and see what happens with the Supreme Court. I'm ready for anything that comes my way," Rizzo said.

"I have great confidence in that court and whatever they rule, I'll abide by," added Rizzo, who blasted Savitt as "being against me since day one."

"The most important ingredient that a politician needs is people. People is where it is and the people know my record. I'll be around a long time. I have further political ambitions."

Asked what action he would take if the state court ruled against him, Rizzo said, "We're not going to get into any 'ifs' and 'buts.' I'm not going to look at a crystal ball."

The mayor aslo refused to elaborate on his "political ambitions," saying to reporters, "I knew you would bite on that one."

Kissinger Given Only 'Days'

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — President Kenneth Kaunda told Henry A Kissinger on Thursday the American secretary of state has ' days, not weeks" to succeed in his effort to avert a racial war in southern Africa

Kissinger replied, "President Ford shares your view that time is running out We (Americans) have an obligation to all and you can be sure I am conscious of the responsibilities I face "

Word spread that Kissinger had raised with Kaunda and President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania — whom he saw in Dar es Salaam before coming here — the possibility of his meeting with Prime Minister Ian Smith of white-ruled Rhodesia

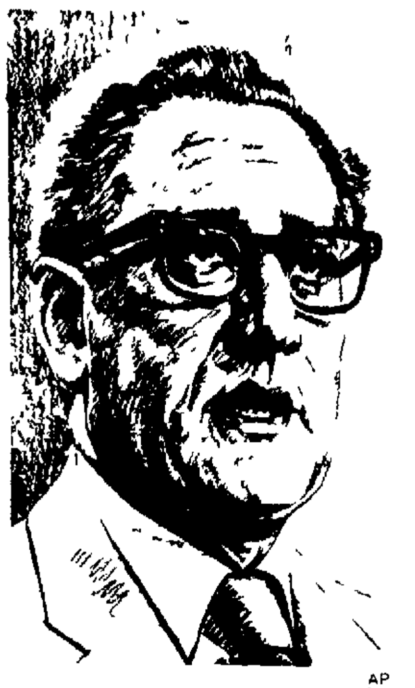
African sources said neither president wanted such a session but neither ruled it out Kissinger has pledged not to meet with anyone or take action without being asked to do so by black African leaders

Smith has arranged to be in Pretoria, South Africa nominally to watch a football game Saturday during the middle of Kissinger s three-day visit there A senior American official with Kissinger said the secretary would not negotiate with Smith if they met, but presumably only would try to convince him to yield power to the black majority by 1978

Kaunda, in his short speech after Kissinger arrived, mentioned five times that black Africans will fight if Kissinger's mission fails

"You have only a few days, not weeks, to succeed, because we all have reached the point of no return," Kaunda said "If you don't succeed, the alternatives will be too ghastly to contemplate

"Our stand is clear For us there can be no compromise We have no romantic views about an armed struggle "



AP

KISSINGER . . . 'obligated.'

Kissinger said he agreed with Kaunda's list of the fundamental issues — "the dignity to man irrespective of color, justice for men regardless of their color, independence and freedom for all "

Nyerere told Kissinger he was pessimistic about averting racial conflict. U S informants said Kissinger rates his chances of setting up meaningful black-white negotiations on Rhodesia and Namibia at slightly less than even

Kissinger had expected a firm stand by Nyerere and Kaunda Neither was likely to yield until hearing the outcome of talks this week between South African Prime Minister John Vorster and Ian Smith Vorster reportedly urged Smith privately to soften his stand on accommodation with Rhodesian blacks

Smith won the backing of his party Thursday to seek a settlement with the country's six million blacks But delegates made clear he must hold out against enforced racial integration and stick to land laws allotting half the country to the 270,000 whites

Nyerere and Kaunda met last week with the presidents of Botswana, Mozambique and Angola to set policy on Kissinger's mission

In Dar es Salaam, Nyerere told reporters "Africans would not be very happy" if Kissinger treated Smith "as a statesman " The black presidents view Smith as a white supremacist who has forced them into conflict and oppose any meeting that would enhance his importance

U S officials said that although Kissinger thinks a meeting with Smith on Kissinger's terms is unlikely, there is little doubt he wants to spell out to the Rhodesian leader the implications of a refusal by Rhodesian whites to yield power

South African police warned in Johannesburg on Thursday that they expected a series of attacks by militant blacks during Kissinger's visit to Pretoria, which is set to begin Friday They said the attacks have already begun with three firebombing incidents Wednesday and Thursday against two buses carrying blacks and at a white department store

Kissinger is trying to sort out procedure in advance of shuttle flights between blacks and whites to avert racial war over Namibia, or South-West Africa, and Rhodesia

Bombers Strike In All-White Area

Johannesburg (UPI) — Bombers struck all-white downtown Johannesburg for the first time Thursday, exploding two kerosene bombs in a department store Police killed a colored striker in Cape Town on the second day of a work boycott

Officials of the O K Bazaars store said the bombs went off shortly after lunchtime on the third floor of the department store, setting curtains on fire The white-owned store is on Eloff St the main shopping street in the exclusively white downtown section of Johannesburg

Several salesmen quickly extinguished the fire which caused no injuries The floor was 'fairly deserted ' at the time, the officials said

The incident was the first time the racial violence has hit the all white area of Johannesburg in three months of riots Antigovernment rioting struck Adderley St in all-white downtown Cape Town two weeks ago, forcing police to open fire with shotguns and tear gas on colored demonstrators

In another attack in Johannesburg's white suburbs, blacks tried to set two buses on fire late Wednesday night In both incidents the drivers put out the blaze

Police said they believed the attacks on the two black buses were timed to coincide with Friday s visit to the capital of Pretoria by Secretary of State Henry A Kissinger for his third round of talks with Prime Minister John Vorster on the problems of white-ruled southern Africa

In Cape Town, Police Maj Gen David Kriel said police shot and killed one colored man and wounded three others in renewed racial violence on the second day of a work boycott which has forced some small industries to close completely

Kriel who heads South Africa's police anti-riot operations, gave no details More than 30 coloreds, the official designation for persons of mixed race, have been killed in rioting in Cape Town and surrounding ghettos since violence erupted there Aug 31

Between 80 and 90% of colored workers stayed off their jobs during the second day of a general strike Thursday, forcing dozens of small industries to shut down completely while larger firms operated with skeleton white staffs

A three-day work boycott by black workers ended in Joahnnesburg, and police reported the situation in segregated black townships was calm

The Cape Town job boycott came in response to strike calls by unidentified militants who distributed pamphlets in black and colored suburbs warning residents they would go to work at their own risk

The pamphlets called for the boycott to continue through Friday but employers expected their workers to return Friday, pay day for weekly paid employes

At Wellington, 40 miles northeast of Cape Town, white civilians armed with shotguns formed vigilante squads and patroled the streets during the night following reports "trouble" might break out there Some whites stood guard on factory roofs and armed men stood on almost every street corner of the fruit growing center

Rhodesians Give Smith Free Hand

Umtali, Rhodesia (UPI) — The ruling Rhodesia Front Party Thursday gave Premier Ian Smith a free hand to negotiate peace for his country with Secretary of State Henry A Kissinger and South African Prime Minister John Vorster

The 600 delegates to the white minority party gave Smith a unanimous vote of confidence after a four-hour meeting on the second day of the party s annual congress in this border city on the frontier with Mozambique

Government spokesmen would not comment on news reports Smith may fly to the South African Capital Pretoria, for his second meeting in a week with Vorster to discuss the Rhodesian situation

The reports said Smith might also meet Kissinger, due in Pretoria Friday to discuss America s peace initiatives with Vorster

The congress gave Smith "and his team full backing to negotiate on its behalf for the future of all the people of Rhodesia ' It also reaffirmed its belief in the basic principles of the Rhodesian Front (Party)," and for keeping government control in "responsible" (meaning white) hands

Smith recently said he did not mind if blacks or whites were in power, provided those in government were "qualified" to run the country

Smith told reporters after the morning session, which was closed to the press and the public he did not think the vote had strengthened his hand in negotiations with Vorster and Kissinger

' I think I was in a strong position in any case ' he said

Deputy Premier David Smith (no relation), said, "The congress was generally very united behind the prime minister

"I believe he is the only man who can lead this country to its destiny," he said

Smith last month squashed reports some senior members of his party were divided over his leadership, fearing the U S intervention in the situation could mean an unconditional handover of power by the 275 000 whites to the 6 1 million black population

Rhodesia, a country about the size of Montana, has faced growing guerrilla raids by black nationalists striking across its borders from Mozambique

Both Washington and Pretoria are trying to arrange a negotiated settlement of the Rhodesia problem without an escalation of the war South African officials say Vorster wants a settlement that would bring power a moderate, capitalist-oriented black government.

Naderites See Risk In Detector

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Ralph Nader organization urged the government Thursday to ban and recall more than four million smoke detectors which it said expose homeowners and workers to americium, a radioactive metal that causes cancer in laboratory animal tests

"Ionization smoke detectors unnecessarily subject Americans to the risks involved in radiation exposure," Nader's Health Research Group said. "They serve as an obvious example of the disturbing trend to promote the use of radioactive materials "

The U S Nuclear Regulatory Commission, which is responsible for testing and licensing the smoke detectors, said they give off less radiation in a year than a person would get in one plane flight from Washington to Los Angeles

The Nader group did not allege that the smoke detectors have injured anyone, but it said they could pose a hazard if their protective covering failed or they were exposed to fire. Such risks are unnecessary since photoelectric smoke detectors are available which have no radioactive material and do as good a job of alerting homeowners or factory workers of a fire, it said.

Dr Sidney M. Wolfe, director of the Health Research Group, sent letters to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission urging it to stop licensing manufacturers and distributors of ionization smoke detectors and to order the recall of those already sold, and to the Department of Housing and Urban Development, urging it to modify its regulations requiring smoke detectors in VA and FHA-financed housing to disallow the use of ionization-type units.

"At this point, I'm not aware of any health risk," said Richard E. Cunningham, who heads the licensing division of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

A person flying coast-to-coast would get a five-times-heavier dose of radiation than he would from sitting next to an ionization smoke detector 40 hours a week for a year, Cunningham said. The air traveler is exposed to cosmic radiation.

The Nader group said the government does not require manufacturers to conduct fire safety tests on the units. But Cunningham said the foil barrier around the americium has been subjected to a 1 700-degree fahrenheit fire for one hour "with no substantive leakage '

An eight-page report accompanying the Health Research Group's letters said 4,172,000 americium-containing ionization smoke detectors have been marketed in the last five years, most of them for home use. It urged the government to advise consumers who are unsure whether they own an ionization or photoelectric smoke detector to return it

Consumers Want 'Bones' Off Shelves

Washington (UPI) — A consumer coalition Thursday said it will ask a federal court to order off the market hot dogs chili and other processed foods which contain particles of bone from mechanically deboned meat' unless Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz acts voluntarily

If Butz doesn't voluntarily issue a recall by next Monday, of the foods from retail store shelves, the coalition said, it will ask a federal district court to compel him to act.

A district judge ruled last week he considered the deboned meats adulterated because the Agriculture Department had not conclusively determined they were free from potential health threats

Butz, bowing to the court order won by a consumer coalition Tuesday ordered a halt in further production of the controversial meats — which are mixed into frankfurters, bologna pizza luncheon meats and other processed foods — at least until his department adopts permanent regulations covering their use

But Ellen Haas, consumer coordinator of the Community Nutrition Institute, said the ban on new production didn t fully comply with the court s opinion because it didn't protect consumers against sales of existing stocks of the deboned meat

The consumer coalition Thursday delivered to Butz a petition asking him to —Ban sale of the "substantial" deboned meat stocks in processors warehouses

—Ban sale of processed foods containing deboned meat which have not yet been shipped to retail stores

—Order a recall of such foods which are currently in retail stores

—And make public the names of specific products containing deboned meat so consumers can check their pantry shelves and decide what to do with them

Kissinger Given Only 'Days'

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — President Kenneth Kaunda told Henry A. Kissinger on Thursday the American secretary of state has "days, not weeks" to succeed in his effort to avert a racial war in southern Africa.

Kissinger replied, "President Ford shares your view that time is running out. We (Americans) have an obligation to all and you can be sure I am conscious of the responsibilities I face."

Word spread that Kissinger had raised with Kaunda and President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania — whom he saw in Dar es Salaam before coming here — the possibility of his meeting with Prime Minister Ian Smith of white-ruled Rhodesia.

African sources said neither president wanted such a session but neither ruled it out. Kissinger has pledged not to meet with anyone or take action without being asked to do so by black African leaders.

Smith has arranged to be in Pretoria, South Africa nominally to watch a football game Saturday during the middle of Kissinger's three-day visit there. A senior American official with Kissinger said the secretary would not negotiate with Smith if they met, but presumably only would try to convince him to yield power to the black majority by 1978.

Kaunda, in his short speech after Kissinger arrived, mentioned five times that black Africans will fight if Kissinger's mission fails.

"You have only a few days, not weeks, to succeed, because we all have reached the point of no return," Kaunda said. "If you don't succeed, the alternatives will be too ghastly to contemplate.

"Our stand is clear. For us there can be no compromise. We have no romantic views about an armed struggle."

KISSINGER . . . 'obligated.'

Kissinger said he agreed with Kaunda's list of the fundamental issues — "the dignity to man irrespective of color, justice for men regardless of their color, independence and freedom for all."

Nyerere told Kissinger he was pessimistic about averting racial conflict. U.S. informants said Kissinger rates his chances of setting up meaningful black-white negotiations on Rhodesia and Namibia at slightly less than even.

Kissinger had expected a firm stand by Nyerere and Kaunda. Neither was likely to yield until hearing the outcome of talks this week between South African Prime Minister John Vorster and Ian Smith. Vorster reportedly urged Smith privately to soften his stand on accommodation with Rhodesian blacks.

Leave Meters, Fines Alone

Mayor Boosalis says she will raise parking meter rates from a nickel to a dime per hour and will ask the City Council to approve increases in parking violation fines. The mayor said she will recommend that the $1 parking fine be doubled and that the penalty for paying fines after five working days be increased from $2 to $5.

These recommendations are the upshot of a downtown parking study which apparently showed that many of the metered spaces are being used by people who work downtown and who plug the meters every couple of hours or so rather than find permanent off-street parking.

The increase in parking meter fees and extended parking and overparking fines is intended as a move to encourage long-term parkers to find other space, or car-pool or take the bus, thus freeing the metered spaces in front of the stores for use by shoppers and those with other business errands downtown.

Even theoretically, the idea has holes in it, in our opinion. People who park downtown for the day won't be budged from metered spaces by raising the meter fee from a nickel to a dime.

They may be encouraged to move after getting hit with several $2 fines (or $5 fines, if they're like many people who put off paying fines).

But just as many or more shoppers will get bitten by the meter maids, we think, and they will resent it.

Doubling the price of anything will never be greeted with wild enthusiasm. But if the idea sounded like it might work, it could be greeted with grudging respect.

Yet we haven't heard many people outside City Hall who think doubling meter fees and fines will result in more parking spaces for shoppers and those with errands downtown.

Most comment centers on the thought that upping meter fees and parking fines will hurt downtown business.

We doubt that the idea will yield the desired results. And it will be politically damaging to both the city administration and the City Council, especially if the doubled parking fines are approved.

We think the city should let the people get used to the new improvements downtown, and the new bus loop before it imposes stiffer parking costs.

Even generally progressive Lincoln will choke on too much change all at once.

Uniform Nonenforcement

A story carried in the Thursday Star began, "If you did any long-distance driving this summer, you were made aware of — and may even have suffered financial distress because of — wide variations in enforcement of the uniform nationwide highway speed limit."

It is our observation after several thousand miles of driving this summer that the only thing uniform about the speed limit is the lack of enforcement.

The story quoted the American Automobile Association as being concerned about the increasing nonenforcement of the posted 55 m.p.h. limit, adopted as a fuel conservation measure in 1974. The AAA noted that motorists have no way of knowing what the "effective" speed limits are from state to state, that standards differ and that there are contradictions within regional patterns. Some states enforce and some states don't, depending on law enforcement attitudes or local political considerations, the story said. For example, New Mexico and Virginia were added recently to the AAA's unofficial list of strict-enforcement states, joining Maryland, Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

New Mexico traditionally has been acknowledged as a strict-enforcement state. But it was our experience this summer that speed limit enforcement was almost nonexistent in Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas and Colorado.

Traffic moved at a rapid clip, well above the maximum, and troopers kept their distance. We saw an Ohio trooper pull somebody over; the motorist might have been speeding. And we saw a Nebraska trooper poking through somebody's trunk.

Nonenforcement, in our opinion, is more widespread than is admitted.

The point of this observation?

The lowered speed limit was a noble experiment in saving fuel and lives.

But it's a law that few people follow, and it's become a joke.

Jimmy Carter And The Catholics

WASHINGTON — It's time to challenge one of the most unfair interpretations of 1976 politics — the one that seeks to pin Jimmy Carter's difficulties among Catholic voters to the abortion issue and the right-to-life militance of so many bishops and cardinals. That explanation is altogether too simplistic.

Now let me back up a minute. Even though national polls show that almost as many Catholics as Protestants support certain limited abortion rights, there's no denying that the abortion issue has focused 1) heavy criticism of Carter by the Catholic clergy and 2) wide media discussion of Carter's Catholic "problem." In that respect, it has been extremely important, even pivotal.

But a much broader suspicion is also at work in making U.S. Catholics leery of the Georgian. Remember that Carter is a former Baptist lay missionary. Not just a believer, but a former missionary — a convert-seeker. In two 1966-67 trips into Pennsylvania and New England, many of his efforts were aimed at Spanish-speaking immigrant Catholics. Howard Norton's recent book "The Miracle of Jimmy Carter" quotes Carter as saying he was involved in 70 to 75 conversions on those two trips. ("The people up there would look at the Southern Baptists as if they were Holy Rollers or something," Carter told a Georgia church group in 1970.)

An important distinction needs to be drawn. Northeastern Catholics are not anti-Baptist. When Missouri Baptist Harry Truman ran in 1948, he swept Irish New England neighborhoods like a St. Patrick's Day parade. But HST was a bourbon-drinking, poker-playing sort who cut his political eyeteeth as a stalwart of the Irish and Catholic-dominated Kansas City Pendergast machine. A lot of his closest political associates were Catholics. Not so with Carter.

A second point. The Carter-Mondale ticket, unlike the cussin' and drinkin' Truman-Barkley ticket, occasionally comes across as an updated fusion of the Georgia Women's Christian Temperance Union and the Minnesota Anti-Saloon League. Deacon Carter breaks his campaign to teach Sunday school, but he doesn't drink during working hours. And one notch down on the Democratic ticket, the Honorable Mondale, son of a Norwegian Methodist minister, wears a Farm Belt moralist image that may not sit too well in ethnic big city neighborhoods. As Attorney General of Minnesota, he led a crackdown on bingo parlors ("Many of our citizens have become addicted to bingo," he lamented) and crowned his tenure with an investigation of padded expenses in the Sister Elizabeth Kenney Foundation.

What's more, some Democratic theorists see Carter as basically out of sympathy with urban Catholics. Father Andrew Greeley, the Chicago sociologist, says: "According to the people I know close to the campaign, the answer seems to be that the top level Northerners on Carter's staff tend to be brilliant Jewish lawyers who think they know everything there is to know about Catholics and in fact don't know much of anything." And ethnic philosopher Michael Novak suggested in June that so far the "indication" is that Carter will "side entirely with blacks" and white Protestant moralists rather than with ethnic Catholics in Northern city conflicts.

So it's simply not fair to say that Carter's Catholic unpopularity stems just from the abortion issue or from his Southern accent. A Tennessee accent didn't stop Estes Kefauver from sweeping the 1952 Democratic primary in New Hampshire, and an Alabama accent didn't stop George Wallace in Michigan in 1972 (or in Boston in 1976).

How much overall Catholic cultural suspicion of Carter will count relative to economic issues remains to be seen. Moreover, Gerald Ford, a Midwestern country club Episcopalian, is not exactly a hot draw in Catholic urban neighborhoods himself. And the President, too, has hemmed and hawed on the abortion issue. But with a tight fight shaping up in states like New Jersey, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan, the election outcome may indeed depend on whether Northern Catholics stick to their traditional Democratic faith. So while that's still an open question, it's a big one.

Schorr, A Reporter Doing His Job

BOSTON — Even in a country that rightly celebrates its freedom, there is a deep strain of deference to authority. When the words "national security" are murmured, some expect the individual to bow automatically to the state. After 200 years, principles of our constitutional liberty still escape understanding.

Those unhappy thoughts were aroused by the hearings of the House Ethics Committee on the matter of Daniel Schorr. It was an extraordinarily instructive occasion, in ways that the committee surely did not intend. For anyone who listened with an open mind ought to have learned a good deal about that prickly idea, the freedom of the press — and the pressures it has to resist.

Most depressing were the comments from committee members deploring the publication of government "secrets." For example, Rep. James H. Quillen, R-Tenn., said he was "appalled" that the Village Voice had printed the report of the House Intelligence Committee despite a House vote to suppress it.

"It's a very serious situation," Quillen said, "that publishers in this country should take it upon themselves to publish secret and classified information against the will of Congress and the people." Rep. Donald J. Mitchell, R-N.Y., said that "in an extreme situation, the inability to keep secrets could destroy this country."

But how many of the great tests of government secrecy in recent years have turned out to involve any genuine risk to the national security? Richard Nixon's efforts to keep the facts of Watergate concealed? President Ford's attempt to suppress the Senate report on CIA assassination plots? Again and again the concern was really about official embarrassment.

Once the claims of secrecy have been exploded, we tend to forget how hysterically officials argued that publication would jeopardize the future of the country. So it may be worthwhile exhuming an example. It comes from the case of the Pentagon Papers.

In the course of trying to stop publication of the Pentagon Papers in 1971, the government filed a number of Top Secret affidavits in court on the damage they would do. One was by Butts Macomber, then deputy undersecretary of state. His affidavit has only recently been declassified.

"I cannot over-emphasize," Macomber said under oath, "the breadth, intensity and severity of the harm which would be caused to the national security. I conclude, as an experienced professional diplomat and a senior diplomatic officer of the United States government, that further publication of such materials would irreparably harm the United States."

Macomber's pomposities notwithstanding, the courts refused to prohibit publication in that case — and the Republic still stands. Today, hardly anyone can remember a single item of the papers that cause all the fuss.

The House Intelligence Committee report is an even more extreme example of hysteria over a mole hill. The CIA had effectively pressured the committee into deleting any remotely sensitive disclosures, and the substance of the report had already been published when Schorr obtained the text and gave it to the Village Voice. The House vote to suppress the tame final document was a result of internal politics and of public reaction against the whole intelligence investigation.

Still, the House was entitled to decide against publishing the report itself. The question that plainly troubled some members of the ethics committee was why the House should not be able to enforce that judgment on others. Floyd D. Spence, R-S.C., said the press was saying that "one person can determine for himself what should be secret and what should not."

But the whole theory of the Constitution is that the government and the press must each be free, separately, to perform its own function. The government will always try to control its information; the press's duty is to seek the facts and publish. It is "an untidy accommodation," as the late Alexander Bickel said, but our system prefers it to the alternative of monolithic control.

Of course the press does not always or even mostly perform its function in the grand style. The Ethics Committee hearing made television of rare drama and importance, but the commercial networks left it to the public stations to carry. The media are a disorderly, unpredictable lot — but that is the point. The press is meant to be outside the established order.

A good many editors and broadcasters have been unsympathetic to Daniel Schorr. But I think they would understand and respect him if they heard him explain to the Ethics Committee why he could not disclose his sources without risking the American public's rights.

He and other reporters like him do not endanger national security; they serve their country by doing their job, even when it annoys. Committee members seemed to understand when Schorr said: "There is a necessary tension between what you do and what I do."

Promises Broken

Stamford, Neb.

It is about time that farmers and livestock people realize that President Ford may make some promises but that he hasn't kept much in the way of good intentions for the farmer.

One of the dark days in agriculture during the Nixon-Ford-Butz reign came when Congress passed by an excellent margin the Emergency Farm Bill in April, 1975. Plenty of congressmen on both sides of the political fence told President Ford this was legislation "that would be in the public interest."

Every farmer should read the Ford veto document (H. Doc. No. 1 94-125) where President Ford very readily vetoed any chance the farmer had of getting target or loan price support to keep protection for cost of production. Then President Ford continued by saying, "I will not act to distort the market," and just about four months after this noble promise, it was broken with the costly embargo of Russian grain sales. This probably cost Nebraska farmers nearly $1 billion in lost income and billions more to our Main Street businessmen.

Only talk and the pat-on-the-wrist type approaches have been given to the unreasonable methods of letting foreign countries ship their beef to the free port of Mayaguez in Puerto Rico to be diced and cubed so it could add further death blows to an already badly crippled livestock feeding industry.

Unless we get a change in the route for agriculture, we are going to see farmers and ranchers going broke by the thousands and along with them, many businessmen. Our only chance is the forthcoming election and I think we will find many answering the struggle for existence by voting for Jimmy Carter for president. Carter has assured farmers he would support loan rates that cover the cost of production and that's a good place to start.

Water Problems

Omaha, Neb.

Nebraska has water problems, but like the weather, nobody seems to be able to do anything about them.

"Trout Hatchery In Trouble" and "Pumps Siphon Dam Water" were headline warnings in early 1975 that water used in one place can't be used in another.

The Game and Parks Commission's only trout hatchery at the headwaters of Rock Creek in Dundy County was being threatened by declining spring flows. The cause — rapid groundwater irrigation development in the watershed above Rock Creek. At the same time it was reported that Enders Reservoir in southwest Nebraska would not fill to capacity. Pump irrigators upstream from the reservoir were using the water that had been planned for the downstream irrigators.

Lincoln's well fields on the Platte River will go dry by the year 2005 if present trends continue, according to the Platte Level B study completed last year by the Missouri River Basin Commission.

More recently in many parts of Nebraska, more than stream flows have been affected. Municipal and domestic wells are drying up because of the mad rush to sink more irrigation wells.

The long, hot, dry summer of 1976 has proven beyond any doubt that the same water can't be used in two different places at the same time. Yet water development interests with backing from dam-building contractors, irrigation and other equipment suppliers, suppliers of credit capital, and businessmen who expect economic gain keep trying.

Proponents of water development projects argue that surface water must be used in conjunction with ground water for irrigation and to recharge ground water aquifers.

For example, one project, the O'Neill Unit, would take water from the Niobrara River and use it to supplement ground water that is being depleted by pump irrigation. A certain amount of surface water would seep through and become ground water, thus tending to recharge or raise the water table.

Hydrologists contend that ground water is a local phenomenon. Ground water moves at a maximum rate of about five feet a day in gravel deposits to as low as a few inches per year in clay. Recharging can take place only in a small, limited area at extremely high cost.

"Conjunctive use" ignores the hydrological cycle. The surface water intended for use in conjunction with ground water is already being pumped from the aquifers that feed the upstream stretches of the river. When this happens, three options are left open: use less water than planned for the project; curtain irrigation pumping in the upstream aquifers; or reduce the already inadequate flows downstream from the reservoirs.

The use and planned use of water are creating many problems in Nebraska and throughout the Great Plains.

The Abortion Issue

Lincoln, Neb.

What are Patty Beutler and Dick Holman doing to us?! (Star, Column A, Sept. 13).

Please! Lincoln doesn't need to be a clearing house for more abortions. The article would be unbiased except for the fact that all the information would help anyone who wants to get a cheaper abortion or who wants to know where to go to get one.

Inside, I am sick! There is so much that we are doing here that is not right. Neither fornication, adultery, nor haphazard sexual irresponsibility will strengthen anyone, not men nor women nor families. Never have they in the past and never will they in the future.

The Star's "statistical" coverage reports only those who have abortions and will make such practice more acceptable to the public because there are so many.

Unless The Star runs an equal amount of space (in Column A, red outline) on the Birthright organization and practice of ovulation, it is not giving fair coverage to this issue and is helping to deaden the consciences of those who are unaware of the choice and responsibility they have regarding becoming pregnant and then being a parent.

Knowing and respecting Dr. Forsberg as I do, I am certain his leaving results in a loss for our entire community. Many of us are better for having known him.

Clarence Forsberg is a talented and good man — a preacher, an educator, a spokesman for simple justice. The basic message his evident sincerity always conveys is simply: "You matter. I care."

Unfortunately, this is the last Sunday to experience his special grace. I'm sure many join me as I salute him and wish him well.

Value In Vitamins

Lincoln, Neb.

I must respond to The Star article of Sept. 9, "Vitamins Said Overrated." This article can be very misleading. Too many people readily accept anything a doctor says. I wonder how many classes in nutrition a doctor takes in medical school?

The article's statements about over-the-counter vitamins are true. These are synthetic vitamins, man-made from chemicals, and can be toxic to the human body.

We cannot get all the vitamins and nutrition we need from food. So much of our food contains chemical additives to make up for the nutrients lost through refining processes, and these chemicals can be very harmful to us.

The book, "Feel Like A Million," by Catharyn Elwood, gives many examples of what is happening to our foods. The book tells it all for those concerned about the health of their families and themselves.

I agree with the statement made by Dr. Stohs. He advised not overcooking foods. Heat does destroy vitamins, so we're better off cooking as little as possible and for as short a time as possible.

To make up for what we should be getting in our foods but aren't, we need to add organic vitamins, food supplements, to our diet. As people become more aware and concerned about what is being done to the food in the grocery stores, they will realize the importance of food supplements as an aid to our good health. Perhaps not the whole answer, but an important part of it.

Telephone Rates, Service

Lincoln, Neb.

It has been suggested by my opponent for the Public Service Commission that an audit of Nebraska telephone companies be performed in order to improve service.

This suggestion is a typically legislative approach to an obvious problem and one that amounts to nothing more than another government-supported study. After an unbelievable amount of money and an unbelievable amount of time have been spent on such an audit, what will Nebraskans know? That telephone companies are making a lot of money? We already know that. That service is poor? We already know that, too.

I believe that an audit approach will tell us nothing about the level of telephone service in Nebraska. The Public Service Commission already has an engineering division with monitoring equipment. The Nebraska taxpayer has already made the necessary investment. It will cost Nebraskans nothing more to document trouble spots in statewide service.

We must utilize the tools we have already bought to improve the level of telephone service. And those tools must be held in the hands of public officials who have the nerve to say "no" to telephone rate increases until telephone companies bring their service to an acceptable level.

Leave Meters, Fines Alone

Mayor Boosalis says she will raise parking meter rates from a nickel to a dime per hour and will ask the City Council to approve increases in parking violation fines. The mayor said she will recommend that the $1 parking fine be doubled and that the penalty for paying fines after five working days be increased from $2 to $5.

These recommendations are the upshot of a downtown parking study which apparently showed that many of the metered spaces are being used by people who work downtown and who plug the meters every couple of hours or so rather than find permanent off-street parking.

The increase in parking meter fees and extended parking and overparking fines is intended as a move to encourage long-term parkers to find other space, or car-pool or take the bus, thus freeing the metered spaces in front of the stores for use by shoppers and those with other business errands downtown.

Even theoretically, the idea has holes in it, in our opinion. People who park downtown for the day won't be budged from metered spaces by raising the meter fee from a nickel to a dime.

They may be encouraged to move after getting hit with several $2 fines (or $5 fines, if they're like many people who put off paying fines).

But just as many or more shoppers will get bitten by the meter maids, we think, and they will resent it.

Doubling the price of anything will never be greeted with wild enthusiasm. But if the idea sounded like it might work, it could be greeted with grudging respect.

Yet we haven't heard many people outside City Hall who think doubling meter fees and fines will result in more parking spaces for shoppers and those with errands downtown.

Most comment centers on the thought that upping meter fees and parking fines will hurt downtown business.

We doubt that the idea will yield the desired results. And it will be politically damaging to both the city administration and the City Council, especially if the doubled parking fines are approved.

We think the city should let the people get used to the new improvements downtown, and the new bus loop before it imposes stiffer parking costs.

Even generally progressive Lincoln will choke on too much change all at once.

Uniform Nonenforcement

A story carried in the Thursday Star began, "If you did any long-distance driving this summer, you were made aware of — and may even have suffered financial distress because of — wide variations in enforcement of the uniform nationwide highway speed limit."

It is our observation after several thousand miles of driving this summer that the only thing uniform about the speed limit is the lack of enforcement.

The story quoted the American Automobile Association as being concerned about the increasing nonenforcement of the posted 55 m.p.h. limit, adopted as a fuel conservation measure in 1974. The AAA noted that motorists have no way of knowing what the "effective" speed limits are from state to state, that standards differ and that there are contradictions within regional patterns. Some states enforce and some states don't, depending on law enforcement attitudes or local political considerations, the story said. For example, New Mexico and Virginia were added recently to the AAA's unofficial list of strict-enforcement states, joining Maryland, Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

New Mexico traditionally has been acknowledged as a strict-enforcement state. But it was our experience this summer that speed limit enforcement was almost nonexistent in Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas and Colorado.

Traffic moved at a rapid clip, well above the maximum, and troopers kept their distance. We saw an Ohio trooper pull somebody over; the motorist might have been speeding. And we saw a Nebraska trooper poking through somebody's trunk.

Nonenforcement, in our opinion, is more widespread than is admitted.

The point of this observation?

The lowered speed limit was a noble experiment in saving fuel and lives.

But it's a law that few people follow, and it's become a joke.

Jimmy Carter And The Catholics

WASHINGTON — It's time to challenge one of the most unfair interpretations of 1976 politics — the one that seeks to pin Jimmy Carter's difficulties among Catholic voters to the abortion issue and the right-to-life militance of so many bishops and cardinals. That explanation is altogether too simplistic.

Now let me back up a minute. Even though national polls show that almost as many Catholics as Protestants support certain limited abortion rights, there's no denying that the abortion issue has focused 1) heavy criticism of Carter by the Catholic clergy and 2) wide media discussion of Carter's Catholic "problem." In that respect, it has been extremely important, even pivotal.

But a much broader suspicion is also at work in making U.S. Catholics leery of the Georgian. Remember that Carter is a former Baptist lay missionary. Not just a believer, but a former missionary — a convert-seeker. In two 1966-67 trips into Pennsylvania and New England, many of his efforts were aimed at Spanish-speaking immigrant Catholics. Howard Norton's recent book "The Miracle of Jimmy Carter" quotes Carter as saying he was involved in 70 to 75 conversions on those two trips. ("The people up there would look at the Southern Baptists as if they were Holy Rollers or something," Carter told a Georgia church group in 1970.)

An important distinction needs to be drawn. Northeastern Catholics are not anti-Baptist. When Missouri Baptist Harry Truman ran in 1948, he swept Irish New England neighborhoods like a St. Patrick's Day parade. But HST was a bourbon-drinking, poker-playing sort who cut his political eyeteeth as a stalwart of the Irish and Catholic-dominated Kansas City Pendergast machine. A lot of his closest political associates were Catholics. Not so with Carter.

A second point. The Carter-Mondale ticket, unlike the cussin' and drinkin' Truman-Barkley ticket, occasionally comes across as an updated fusion of the Georgia Women's Christian Temperance Union and the Minnesota Anti-Saloon League. Deacon Carter breaks his campaign to teach Sunday school, but he doesn't drink during working hours. And one notch down on the Democratic ticket, the Honorable Mondale, son of a Norwegian Methodist minister, wears a Farm Belt moralist image that may not sit too well in ethnic big city neighborhoods. As Attorney General of Minnesota, he led a crackdown on bingo parlors ("Many of our citizens have become addicted to bingo," he lamented) and crowned his tenure with an investigation of padded expenses in the Sister Elizabeth Kenney Foundation.

What's more, some Democratic theorists see Carter as basically out of sympathy with urban Catholics. Father Andrew Greeley, the Chicago sociologist, says: "According to the people I know close to the campaign, the answer seems to be that the top level Northerners on Carter's staff tend to be brilliant Jewish lawyers who think they know everything there is to know about Catholics and in fact don't know much of anything." And ethnic philosopher Michael Novak suggested in June that so far the "indication" is that Carter will "side entirely with blacks" and white Protestant moralists rather than with ethnic Catholics in Northern city conflicts.

So it's simply not fair to say that Carter's Catholic unpopularity stems just from the abortion issue or from his Southern accent. A Tennessee accent didn't stop Estes Kefauver from sweeping the 1952 Democratic primary in New Hampshire, and an Alabama accent didn't stop George Wallace in Michigan in 1972 (or in Boston in 1976).

How much overall Catholic cultural suspicion of Carter will count relative to economic issues remains to be seen. Moreover, Gerald Ford, a Midwestern country club Episcopalian, is not exactly a hot draw in Catholic urban neighborhoods himself. And the President, too, has hemmed and hawed on the abortion issue. But with a tight fight shaping up in states like New Jersey, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan, the election outcome may indeed depend on whether Northern Catholics stick to their traditional Democratic faith. So while that's still an open question, it's a big one.

Knowing and respecting Dr. Forsberg as I do, I am certain his leaving results in a loss for our entire community. Many of us are better for having known him.

Clarence Forsberg is a talented and good man — a preacher, an educator, a spokesman for simple justice. The basic message his evident sincerity always conveys is simply: "You matter; I care."

Unfortunately, this is the last Sunday to experience his special grace. I'm sure many join me as I salute him and wish him well.

Value In Vitamins

Lincoln, Neb.

I must respond to The Star article of Sept. 9, "Vitamins Said Overrated." This article can be very misleading. Too many people readily accept anything a doctor says. I wonder how many classes in nutrition a doctor takes in medical school?

The article's statements about over-the-counter vitamins are true. These are synthetic vitamins, man-made from chemicals, and can be toxic to the human body.

We cannot get all the vitamins and nutrition we need from food. So much of our food contains chemical additives to make up for the nutrients lost through refining processes, and these chemicals can be very harmful to us.

The book, "Feel Like A Million," by Catharyn Elwood, gives many examples of what is happening to our foods. The book tells it all for those concerned about the health of their families and themselves.

I agree with the statement made by Dr. Stohs. He advised not overcooking foods. Heat does destroy vitamins, so we're better off cooking as little as possible and for as short a time as possible.

To make up for what we should be getting in our foods but aren't, we need to add organic vitamins, food supplements, to our diet. As people become more aware and concerned about what is being done to the food in the grocery stores, they will realize the importance of food supplements as an aid to our good health. Perhaps not the whole answer, but an important part of it.

Telephone Rates, Service

Lincoln, Neb.

It has been suggested by my opponent for the Public Service Commission that an audit of Nebraska telephone companies be performed in order to improve service.

This suggestion is a typically legislative approach to an obvious problem and one that amounts to nothing more than another government-supported study. After an unbelievable amount of money and an unbelievable amount of time have been spent on such an audit, what will Nebraskans know? That telephone companies are making a lot of money? We already know that. That service is poor? We already know that, too.

I believe that an audit approach will tell us nothing about the level of telephone service in Nebraska. The Public Service Commission already has an engineering division with monitoring equipment. The Nebraska taxpayer has already made the necessary investment. It will cost Nebraskans nothing more to document trouble spots in statewide service.

We must utilize the tools we have already bought to improve the level of telephone service. And those tools must be held in the hands of public officials who have the nerve to say "no" to telephone rate increases until telephone companies bring their service to an acceptable level.

Girl Scout Sustaining Membership Approved

By LINDA OLIG
Star Staff Writer

Starting next spring parents enrolling their daughters in the Girl Scouts will be asked to become members themselves by contributing to the Homestead Girl Scout Council.

The council's proposal to raise funds through the Sustaining Membership Enrollment program was approved Thursday by the United Way board.

The Girl Scouts are facing a $27,000 deficit for 1977. The council had requested $45,000 from United Way for next year, but the tentative allocation was reduced to $18,000.

In its sustaining membershp drive, the council will emphasize that no girl will be left out of Girl Scouting because her parents were unable to be sustaining members.

This year it costs the Girl Scout Council $45.12 per girl enrolled. By national Girl Scout policy, the council is prohibited from adjusting membership fees to increase income.

In addition to the United Way allocation, the Girl Scouts receive money from United Ways in other counties served by the council, plus proceeds from cookie sales.

The Girl Scouts' plan for an all-out community campaign for sustaining members was tabled by the United Way board until the council can identify prospective contacts.

"I would be reluctant to see an all-out drive in the community from one of our member agencies," said Bill Putnam, United Way executive director.

Action on the Girl Scouts' fund-raising proposals brought on the discussion of a larger issue: Whether United Way agencies should be allowed to accumulate cash reserves earmarked for specific projects.

The 13-County Girl Scout Council at one time had been funded at the $20-$25,000 level, and had amassed a $124,000 reserve for a campsite.

The United Way instructed the council to dissolve the reserve over a period of years, using the money for day-to-day operations. Since then, its United Way allocation has ranged from a token $1,000 to the $18,000 tentative figure for next year.

Meanwhile, the reserve has dwindled to less than $60,000. United Way policy prohibits member agencies accumulating liquid reserves unless they are gifts designated for specific uses.

Board members, including Bill Edgecomb, questioned the difference between liquid and real assets. While the Girl Scouts have a bank account, other agencies own campsites and/or valuable downtown property, he pointed out.

The board agreed to reevaluate the United Way policy but, upon the recommendation of Walt Stephenson, delayed the review until after the current community-wide United Way fund drive. Stephenson also urged that a list of all agencies and their assets be available to board members.

In other action, the board routinely approved the Salvation Army's request for its annual Tree of Lights campaign.

The Tree of Lights goal this year will be $40,000.

No Fair Quarters For Horses May Split Up County Events

By BOB REEVES
Star Staff Writer

Either they'll have swine, sheep, poultry, rabbits, goats, and dogs, but no cattle and horses . . .

. . . or they'll have swine, sheep, and cattle, but no horses . . .

. . . or they'll have horses, but no swine, sheep, etc.

Whichever way they do it, it looks like the 1977 Lancaster County Fair will turn out to be two or three different fairs, held at different places, and probably at different times.

Some fifty persons, representing Lancaster County 4-H families, met Thursday night to discuss animal housing problems at the fairgrounds caused by next year's horse racing schedule.

It appears that every available stall big enough for a horse or cow will be reserved for a racehorse during Lincoln's racing season, which the State Racing Commission has set for July 25-Aug. 30 next year.

The State Fair board toid the County Fair board that there was no room at the fairgrounds in August for horses and cattle, and that the county would have to hold its fair in early July.

But the 4-H people meeting Thursday voted to hold as much of the County Fair as possible in mid-August at the State Fairgrounds.

Many felt a July date would give younger horse exhibitors insufficient time to prepare, and that other animals would not be in prime shape until nearer to State Fair time.

They authorized the County Fair board and an ad-hoc committee to try to arrange housing for cattle at the fairgrounds in a building not usually used for livestock, such as Agriculture Hall.

They also authorized this committee to try to work out a long-term solution to the space problems at the fairgrounds. This might mean the county would help finance a building for racehorses in exchange for a guarantee of horse-barn and cow-barn space for August county fairs in future years.

Gaylord Blanc, meeting chairman, said the committee would try to have the whole fair in August, but said that in 1977 the horse division may have to be held someplace other than the state fairgrounds.

Suggested alternatives were a private stable or a county fairground in another county.

There are about 300 horses and 200 head of cattle expected to compete in the county fair next year.

Durand Suggests PSC Give Utility Assistance

Joyce Durand suggested Thursday creating "an open line of exchange" between the tax-supported Public Service Commission and local policy-makers who set electric rates — particularly in Lincoln.

"For the first time ever," said the Democratic nominee for the 1st District PSC seat, "Nebraskans are beginning to pay more in utility bills than in rent or house payments.

"Most Nebraskans pay more to power companies in a year than they pay in taxes."

Mrs. Durand said the PSC "is well-equipped to offer technical assistance to local decision-makers in matters of public utilities, and it ought to."

A City Council which "finds itself overwhelmed by continuous requests for rate increases from a public power body" should rely on the PSC's 70-year experience and expertise, she said.

"Recently the Lincoln Electric System served notice that it would not consider alternate rate structures. That is, they opted to maintain — without examination — an extravagant 'the more you use the less you pay' rate structure.

"I believe a well intentioned City Council equipped with technical details could be effective in endorsing a rate structure of greater advantage to the average citizen, despite LES' reluctance.

"Unfortunately the mayor and City Council have no ready access to alternate expertise and must rely on LES alone for valuable facts. I believe Lincolnites could only be enriched by another competent point of view, as well as all southeast Nebraska residents."

"For once, the taxpayers have already paid the bills for this expertise" at the PSC. "No consultants, no ponderous studies are needed," said the commission budget-research director.

Nationally Known Speed Reading Course To Be Taught In Lincoln

(Lincoln, Spec.) United States Reading Lab will offer a 4 week course in speed-reading to a limited number of qualified people in the Lincoln area.

This recently developed method of instruction is the most innovative and effective program available in the United States.

Not only does this famous course reduce your time in the classroom to just one class per week for 4 short weeks but it also includes an advanced speed reading course on cassette tape so that you can continue to improve for the rest of your life. In just 4 weeks the average student should be reading 4-5 times faster. In a few months some students are reading 20-30 times faster attaining speeds that approach 6000 words per minute. In rare instances speeds of up to 13,000 wpm have been documented.

Our average graduate should read 7-10 times faster upon completion of the course with marked improvement in comprehension and concentration.

For those who would like additional information, a series of free, one hour, orientation lectures have been scheduled. At these free lectures the course will be explained in complete detail, including classroom procedures, instruction methods, class schedule and a special 1 time only introductory tuition that is less than one half the cost of similar courses. You may attend any of the meetings for information about the Lincoln classes.

These orientations are open to public, above age 14, (persons under 18 should be accompanied by a parent if possible.)

If you have always wanted to be a speed reader but found the cost prohibitive or the course too time consuming . . . now you can! Just by attending 1 evening per week for 4 short weeks you can read 7 to 10 times faster, concentrate better and comprehend more.

If you are a student who would like to make A's instead of B's or C's or if you are a business person who wants to stay abreast of today's everchanging accelerating world then this course is an absolute necessity.

These special one-hour lectures will be held at the following times and places:

Tuesday, September 14 at 6:30 and again at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 15 at 6:30 and again at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, September 16 at 6:30 and again at 8:30 p.m. Monday, September 20 at 6:30 and again at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, September 21 at 6:30 and again at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 22 at 6:30 and again at 8:30 p.m. These free lectures will be held in the conference room of the Radisson Cornhusker Hotel, 13th and M Sts.

If you are a businessman, student, housewife or executive this course, which took 5 years of intensive research to develop, is a must. You can read 7-10 times faster, comprehend more, concentrate better, and remember longer. Students are offered an additional discount. This course can be taught to industry or civic groups at "Group rates" upon request. Be sure to attend whichever free orientation that fits best in your schedule.

Girl Scout Sustaining Membership Approved

By LINDA OLIG
Star Staff Writer

Starting next spring parents enrolling their daughters in the Girl Scouts will be asked to become members themselves by contributing to the Homestead Girl Scout Council.

The council's proposal to raise funds through the Sustaining Membership Enrollment program was approved Thursday by the United Way board.

The Girl Scouts are facing a $27,000 deficit for 1977. The council had requested $45,000 from United Way for next year, but the tentative allocation was reduced to $18,000.

In its sustaining membershp drive, the council will emphasize that no girl will be left out of Girl Scouting because her parents were unable to be sustaining members.

This year it costs the Girl Scout Council $45.12 per girl enrolled. By national Girl Scout policy, the council is prohibited from adjusting membership fees to increase income.

In addition to the United Way allocation, the Girl Scouts receive money from United Ways in other counties served by the council, plus proceeds from cookie sales.

The Girl Scouts' plan for an all-out community campaign for sustaining members was tabled by the United Way board until the council can identify prospective contacts.

"I would be reluctant to see an all-out drive in the community from one of our member agencies," said Bill Putnam, United Way executive director.

Action on the Girl Scouts' fund-raising proposals brought on the discussion of a larger issue: Whether United Way agencies should be allowed to accumulate cash reserves earmarked for specific projects.

The 13-County Girl Scout Council at one time had been funded at the $20-$25,000 level, and had amassed a $124,000 reserve for a campsite.

The United Way instructed the council to dissolve the reserve over a period of years, using the money for day-to-day operations. Since then, its United Way allocation has ranged from a token $1,000 to the $18,000 tentative figure for next year.

Meanwhile, the reserve has dwindled to less than $60,000. United Way policy prohibits member agencies accumulating liquid reserves unless they are gifts designated for specific uses.

Board members, including Bill Edgecomb, questioned the difference between liquid and real assets. While the Girl Scouts have a bank account, other agencies own campsites and/or valuable downtown property, he pointed out.

The board agreed to reevaluate the United Way policy but, upon the recommendation of Walt Stephenson, delayed the review until after the current community-wide United Way fund drive. Stephenson also urged that a list of all agencies and their assets be available to board members.

In other action, the board routinely approved the Salvation Army's request for its annual Tree of Lights campaign.

The Tree of Lights goal this year will be $40,000.

No Fair Quarters For Horses May Split Up County Events

By BOB REEVES
Star Staff Writer

Either they'll have swine, sheep, poultry, rabbits, goats, and dogs, but no cattle and horses . . .

. . . or they'll have swine, sheep, and cattle, but no horses . . .

. . . or they'll have horses, but no swine, sheep, etc.

Whichever way they do it, it looks like the 1977 Lancaster County Fair will turn out to be two or three different fairs, held at different places, and probably at different times.

Some fifty persons, representing Lancaster County 4-H families, met Thursday night to discuss animal housing problems at the fairgrounds caused by next year's horse racing schedule.

It appears that every available stall big enough for a horse or cow will be reserved for a racehorse during Lincoln's racing season, which the State Racing Commission has set for July 25-Aug. 30 next year.

The State Fair board told the County Fair board that there was no room at the fairgrounds in August for horses and cattle, and that the county would have to hold its fair in early July.

But the 4-H people meeting Thursday voted to hold as much of the County Fair as possible in mid-August at the State Fairgrounds.

Many felt a July date would give younger horse exhibitors insufficient time to prepare, and that other animals would not be in prime shape until nearer to State Fair time.

They authorized the County Fair board and an ad-hoc committee to try to arrange housing for cattle at the fairgrounds in a building not usually used for livestock, such as Agriculture Hall.

They also authorized this committee to try to work out a long-term solution to the space problems at the fairgrounds. This might mean the county would help finance a building for racehorses in exchange for a guarantee of horse-barn and cow-barn space for August county fairs in future years.

Gaylord Blanc, meeting chairman, said the committee would try to have the whole fair in August, but said that in 1977 the horse division may have to be held someplace other than the state fairgrounds.

Suggested alternatives were a private stable or a county fairground in another county.

There are about 300 horses and 200 head of cattle expected to compete in the county fair next year.

Durand Suggests PSC Give Utility Assistance

Joyce Durand suggested Thursday creating "an open line of exchange" between the tax-supported Public Service Commission and local policy-makers who set electric rates — particularly in Lincoln.

"For the first time ever," said the Democratic nominee for the 1st District PSC seat, "Nebraskans are beginning to pay more in utility bills than in rent or house payments.

"Most Nebraskans pay more to power companies in a year than they pay in taxes."

Mrs. Durand said the PSC "is well-equipped to offer technical assistance to local decision-makers in matters of public utilities, and it ought to."

A City Council which "finds itself overwhelmed by continuous requests for rate increases from a public power body" should rely on the PSC's 70-year experience and expertise, she said.

"Recently the Lincoln Electric System served notice that it would not consider alternate rate structures. That is, they opted to maintain — without examination — an extravagant 'the more you use the less you pay' rate structure.

"I believe a well intentioned City Council equipped with technical details could be effective in endorsing a rate structure of greater advantage to the average citizen, despite LES' reluctance.

"Unfortunately the mayor and City Council have no ready access to alternate expertise and must rely on LES alone for valuable facts. I believe Lincolnites could only be enriched by another competent point of view, as well as all southeast Nebraska residents."

"For once, the taxpayers have already paid the bills for this expertise" at the PSC. "No consultants, no ponderous studies are needed," said the commission budget-research director.

Holmes School Mural Sort Of Family Affair

Art is something of a family affair at Holmes School, 5230 Sumner

For several months, mothers and fathers have been helping their sons and daughters paint and glaze ceramic tiles which have gone into a 14 by 35-foot mural in the main hallway of the school

But the helpers haven't been limited to family ties Holmes alumni, retired teachers and others have stopped by the school cafeteria to help decorate the 1,800 tiles which were donated by the Holmes PTA, sponsors of the project.

The painting has been an extracurricular activity and the artists, following a short course in how to mix paint, were turned loose and allowed to "do their thing," according to Marilynn Rademacher, physical education teacher at the school and one of the project supervisors

The themes that sprung from that freedom ranged from Bicentennial to Holmes' Nostalgia (Milk 3¢) There's a sprinkling of Holmes No 1 in the patterned mosaic, as well as some plain old flowers and splashes of color

After the tiles were completed, they were fired in the Holmes' art department ovens and were attached to the wall Aug 26, ending the three months of work.

PTA members Janet Coleman and Connie Manbeck were prime movers in the project, as was Holmes Principal Ruth Eickman, Ms Rademacher said

Opening lead — seven of clubs

This deal was played in the match between Ireland and Denmark during the 1960 women's world championship. The Danish East-West pair were playing their opening three notrump as a gambling bid indicating a long, strong minor suit with very little on the side

The Irish South, Mrs Fellows, overcalled with four spades, and the Danish West, aware that her partner's long suit was clubs, bid five clubs with the 7-4-2!

Mrs Maguire, North, decided to do some gambling on her own by raising the ante to six spades. She reasoned that South had at most one club, and she bravely contracted for a slam.

This proved to be a good decision when Mrs. Fellows proceeded to make the contract by executing a squeeze.

West led a club. East won and played another club, which declarer ruffed. Mrs. Fellows now led four rounds of trumps, West discarding a club and two diamonds. She then finessed the queen of diamonds, cashed the ace, and ruffed a diamond, producing this position·

New York's New Lottery Sets Ticket Sales Record

New York (AP) — The new state lottery the Empire Stakes, has set a national record with its first-week sales lottery director John D Quinn, reported Thursday

Calling public response to the new lottery overwhelming Quinn said that more than 18 9 million $1 tickets were sold during the first week The previous one-week sales record was nine million tickets sold in Michigan he said

The Empire Stakes has a goal of raising $60 million in revenue in the current fiscal year for the state's general fund Quinn predicted that the final total will be far beyond that

"The public is having a lot of fun playing the game and obviously has confidence in it," the director said

The old New York State Lottery was suspended 10 months ago after revelation that unsold tickets were drawn in winners pools

The new instant lottery game awards immediate prizes ranging from $2 to $5 000 The game also features a jackpot drawing giving the winner $1,000 a week for life with a $1 million guarantee

To date there have been 76 winners of $5,000 prizes and 102 winners of another special game feature the offers a prize of $2 500 in groceries

dear abby

Abby Doesn't Accept 'Family Planner' God

DEAR ABBY I'm 17 and have been going steady with a guy I'll call David for two years. He's 17, too I'm really in love with him, and his folks know we plan to be married in a couple of years

The problem is his mother When I'm at his house, she treats me like an outsider If I happen to be there during mealtime, she never asks me to join them. She makes me feel unwanted. David's father and grandparents seem to like me, but his mother doesn't.

I've never said anything to David about my hurt feelings because he and his mother are very close, and I don't want to start trouble between them

I'd like for his mother to make me feel like one of the family, Abby, but I don't know how to go about it Can you give me your views on this matter, or some good advice?

OUTSIDER

DEAR OUTSIDER: David's mother is communicating to you in non-verbal language that she is not pleased with your relationship with her son. Perhaps she feels you are both too young to be thinking of marriage — even "in a couple of years." You say, "If I happen to be there at mealtime she never asks me to join them." You shouldn't be there at mealtime unless you were invited. My advice is to avoid going where you are made to feel "unwanted."

DEAR ABBY Here is a suggestion for parents to help safeguard their daughters during their courting days. First, make a rule that your daughter cannot go out with a young man unless he comes to the house so you can meet him first

When he shows up, the mother should entertain him while the father goes outside and takes down his license number and a good description of his car. Color, model, etc During the evening, if the daughter has any trouble with him, she could say, "My father took down your license number and will call the police if I am not home at the time they specified" This is foolproof protection for any girl

THINKING AHEAD

DEAR THINKING: And what happens if a creep with evil intentions shows up in a taxi?

DEAR ABBY My sister is 18 and her husband is 19. They've been married for two years and have two children

The problem is her housekeeping Her house is so filthy it smells She wasn't raised that way My mother, may two sisters and I keep clean houses and we can't understand what's wrong with that girl. She doesn't keep herself clean, either In fact she smells of B.O. We don't know how her husband can stand to be near her.

We have all hinted to her about her house and person, but when we do, she gets mad. We think she needs to be told so she can improve, but we don't know who should tell her

My husband says I should stay out of it, but I will tell her if you think I should. Please help me decide

OLDER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Your husband is right. If she gets mad when you've hinted, mind your own business. If her husband doesn't object, I see no need for anyone to tell her anything.

The Irish South, Mrs. Fellows, overcalled with four spades, and the Danish West, aware that her partner's long suit was clubs, bid five clubs with the 7-4-2!

Mrs. Maguire, North, decided to do some gambling on her own by raising the ante to six spades. She reasoned that South had at most one club, and she bravely contracted for a slam.

This proved to be a good decision when Mrs. Fellows proceeded to make the contract by executing a squeeze.

West led a club. East won and played another club, which declarer ruffed. Mrs. Fellows now led four rounds of trumps, West discarding a club and two diamonds. She then finessed the queen of diamonds, cashed the ace, and ruffed a diamond, producing this position:

North

West
♥J 7 3
♦K

East
♥Q 8
♣Q J

South
♥K 10 9

When South now led the eight of spades, West was forced to discard a heart. As a result, Mrs. Fellows lost no heart tricks and scored the well-earned slam.

When the other Danish pair held the North-South cards at the second table, they stopped at four spades on this bidding:

East	South	West	North

New York's New Lottery Sets Ticket Sales Record

New York (AP) — The new state lottery, the Empire Stakes, has set a national record with its first-week sales, lottery director John D. Quinn, reported Thursday.

Calling public response to the new lottery "overwhelming," Quinn said that more than 18.9 million $1 tickets were sold during the first week. The previous one-week sales record was nine million tickets sold in Michigan, he said.

The Empire Stakes has a goal of raising $60 million in revenue in the current fiscal year for the state's general fund. Quinn predicted that the final total will be far beyond that.

"The public is having a lot of fun playing the game and obviously has confidence in it," the director said.

The old New York State Lottery was suspended 10 months ago after revelation that unsold tickets were drawn in winners' pools.

The new instant lottery game awards immediate prizes ranging from $2 to $5,000. The game also features a jackpot drawing giving the winner $1,000 a week for life, with a $1 million guarantee.

To date there have been 76 winners of $5,000 prizes and 102 winners of another special game feature the offers a prize of $2,500 in groceries.

dear abby

Abby Doesn't Accept 'Family Planner' God

DEAR ABBY: I'm 17 and have been going steady with a guy I'll call David for two years. He's 17, too. I'm really in love with him, and his folks know we plan to be married in a couple of years.

The problem is his mother. When I'm at his house, she treats me like an outsider. If I happen to be there during mealtime, she never asks me to join them. She makes me feel unwanted. David's father and grandparents seem to like me, but his mother doesn't.

I've never said anything to David about my hurt feelings because he and his mother are very close, and I don't want to start trouble between them.

I'd like for his mother to make me feel like one of the family, Abby, but I don't know how to go about it. Can you give me your views on this matter, or some good advice?

OUTSIDER

DEAR OUTSIDER: David's mother is communicating to you in non-verbal language that she is not pleased with your relationship with her son. Perhaps she feels you are both too young to be thinking of marriage — even "in a couple of years." You say, "If I happen to be there at mealtime she never asks me to join them." You shouldn't be there at mealtime unless you were invited. My advice is to avoid going where you are made to feel "unwanted."

DEAR ABBY: Here is a suggestion for parents to help safeguard their daughters during their courting days. First, make a rule that your daughter cannot go out with a young man unless he comes to the house so you can meet him first.

When he shows up, the mother should entertain him while the father goes outside and takes down his license number and a good description of his car. Color, model, etc. During the evening, if the daughter has any trouble with him, she could say, "My father took down your license number and will call the police if I am not home at the time they specified." This is foolproof protection for any girl.

THINKING AHEAD

DEAR THINKING: And what happens if a creep with evil intentions shows up in a taxi?

DEAR ABBY: My sister is 18 and her husband is 19. They've been married for two years and have two children.

The problem is her housekeeping. Her house is so filthy it smells. She wasn't raised that way. My mother, may two sisters and I keep clean houses and we can't understand what's wrong with that girl. She doesn't keep herself clean, either. In fact she smells of B.O. We don't know how her husband can stand to be near her.

We have all hinted to her about her house and person, but when we do, she gets mad. We think she needs to be told so she can improve, but we don't know who should tell her.

My husband says I should stay out of it, but I will tell her if you think I should. Please help me decide.

OLDER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Your husband is right. If she gets mad when you've hinted, mind your own business. If her husband doesn't object, I see no need for anyone to tell her anything.

MISS BARTZATT . . . Atrium her favorite.

It's Exciting For Boosters Of Downtown

By GORDON WINTERS
Star Staff Writer

In the continuing attempt to foster a special spirit of Camaraderie, downtown Lincoln now has its own newspaper

At the helm of "The Developer," of which 20,000 copies are distributed monthly, is Tami Bartzatt, one of the people on whom the movers and shakers depend to get the job done

An employe of the Lincoln Center Development Association, Miss Bartzatt is doing her part to turn downtown Lincoln into the desired "people place"

In addition to putting out the free newspaper, distributed in work lunchrooms, bank lobbies and doctor's offices, Miss Bartzatt lines up entertainment for the Lincoln Foundation Garden summer programs, helps coordinate Ride and Shop and Park and Shop efforts and handles other tasks

All around her she can see things happening O, J and 13th Sts are being beautified The Centrum block is being demolished and the retail-office complex dubbed the Atrium is being created with the renovation of the old Sears building at 13th and N

"It's really an exciting time to have this job," she said of the bustle of activity

"I think my favorite is the Atrium," she said "When they take an old building that's really dingy and make it neat that's more exciting than a brand new one"

One of the features of the Atrium she finds especially appealing is the large skylight that will allow sunlight to stream through openings in the floors to the ground level.

Miss Bartzatt, a 1975 graduate of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln with a major in political science, has long-established roots in downtown Lincoln

While a junior in high school she began working as a waitress in the Miller and Paine Tea Room, where she remembers thinking of herself as a plebian and fearing the "big hot shots"

Now she rubs elbows with some of the hot shots and her viewpoint has changed "They're human, no matter what you may think,' she said

One task she enjoys is lining up entertainment for the free shows in the Lincoln Foundation Gardens It isn't always difficult to fill the spots

To line up the nationally known Byron Berline and Sundance blue grass band she had only to answer the telephone On the other end was a worker at the Nebraska Student Union asking if she would be interested in having them appear in the "Garden"

Miss Bartzatt is quick to point out she doesn't work alone At the desk next to her in the jumbled LCDA offices is Mrs Julie Laessle "We work as a team," Miss Bartzatt said.

To get things going it takes one flaky one and one to organize things She says Julie is the one who organizes things

Both agree that it is fun being a part of the transformation of downtown Lincoln into a comfortable "people place"

Government Profiles Typical Adult Cyclist

(c) Newhouse News Service

Washington — He is in his mid-30s and owns a lightweight, multi-gear bicycle He rides three times in most months and pedals more than 2,300 miles a year — mainly for the exercise. Dogs are not his best friends

That is the composite picture of the American adult who regularly rides bicycles, according to a government survey

Other findings of the survey, conducted for the Federal Highway Administration, include —More than half the riders have been regularly using bicycles for less than five years

—The vast majority of the riding takes place on regular streets not on bike trails or in special areas

—The average male rides almost 40% more miles than the average female, and mileage seems to increase with experience

—Serious injuries — usually involving autos and frequently caused by dogs — are twice as likely to happen to frequent bicyclists than the average motorist (Once every 14 years vs once every 28 years)

A 125-page report based on the survey noted that no attempt was made to portray the average cyclist.

"Some experts feel that of the approximately 90 million bicycles currently owned in this country, perhaps as much as 50% are only taking up storage space in a basement or garage, or are used very infrequently," the report said.

"The remaining bicycling most likely consists of the child riding around his neighborhood, usually on the sidewalk, or the adult who uses his bicycle for recreation riding or purposeful trip-making."

While some studies have been done on the habits and accident involvement of school-age riders there has been almost no research on the fairly recent phenomenon of adult (16 and up) bicycle riders

Bicycle sales have soared in recent years particularly of light multi-speed models

From 1972 through 1975, more bicycles were sold in the United States than new cars for the first time since World War I The high was reached in 1973 when 15 3 million bicycles were purchased

By GORDON WINTERS
Star Staff Writer

In the cold black of midnight, in the first glow of dawn, under leaden rain clouds, in the red twilight, the volunteers stayed at their posts

Thursday they presented a governmental group with an example of volunteer mobilization and citizen participation

It was a traffic count of trucks, aimed at gauging the amount of truck traffic on 84th St., conducted by the residents of the area

Members of the Greater Eastside Citizens Association conducted the study despite two earlier studies conducted by state and city officials

"We didn't bring this in as a challenge We brought this in as additional information we thought you ought to have," the group's president, Al Johnson, told a subcommittee of the Technical Committee, a group of city transportation planners

The group's study showed 696 trucks on 84th St at O St. during a 24-hour period, or an average of about one truck every two minutes. The figure does not include pickups, recreational vehicles or sport vans

Although covering a 24-hour period, the study was actually conducted over three days In addition to the 84th and O site, volunteers were also stationed at 84th and Hwy 2, 84th and A, 84th and Hwy 6 and the intersection of Hwy 2 and Hwy 77

Although the group's data agreed with governmental traffic counts at 84th and O, it disagreed with counts at 84th and A. That was the only other intersection for which the group had time to tabulate its data.

At 84th and A, a governmental study had registered a count of 159 trucks in a six-hour period from 10 to 4 p.m The group's study showed 255 trucks passing the intersection during the same period.

The government study at 84th and A, however, had a facet not included in the volunteer's study. City officials stopped trucks to find out where they were coming from and where they were going.

And the analysis of that information brought discouragement to the 84th St. residents, who are trying to restrict truck traffic on 84th

The analysis of the truckers' replies showed that only about 15% of the trucks were using 84th St as a bypass of Lincoln without stopping in the city.

The rest of the trucks were making local stops, according to the city study For example, 40 of the 159 trucks counted were hauling loads to the ADM plant in Northeast Lincoln

To legally keep that sort of traffic from using 84th St. is extremely difficult, City Engineer Bob Holsinger and State Roads official Derald Kohles said.

"Even if the signs (designating 84th as a truck route) go down, 85% to 90% of the trucks will still be on 84th St.," Kohles said.

Holsinger pointed out an alternate route, Hwy. 50, already exists for truckers hauling grain to the ADM plant from Southeast Nebraska, "but they don't use it," he said.

If another alternate route to the ADM plant is created by paving 112th St., Holsinger said, it still will divert only about 25% of the traffic

The 84th St. residents, however, said that the 84th St. route could be made less attractive to truckers by lowering the speed limit and installing more stop lights.

Double-Deckers Back In Big Apple

The double-decker buses are back in New York City. Eight of them, closed on top, have been lumbering around the city this week as part of a Transportation Authority study on ways to ease traffic clogging. British Leyland Co. built the new double-deckers at a cost of $105,192.50 each to the city

No Hasty Action Seen For Loop

The Lincoln Transportation System (LTS) board Thursday maintained its position that no hasty action should be taken on the new downtown bus loop.

Last week petitions carrying 508 names opposing the loop, established in early August, were given to LTS manager Jim Donaghy

City Council Chairman Max Denney had also called for the loop to be evaluated after 90 days, rather than the six month period now planned.

But the LTS board ignored the request after member John Alden said the board would be ill-advised to "move now on the loop"

"It's our responsibility to be objective and consider the needs of the whole city," Alden said.

On a related matter, Donaghy said that ridersihp was down 8% during August, but he said the drop can not necessarily be attributed to the loop.

"It changes day to day, month to month," Donaghy said of bus ridership Reasons for the changes, he said, are hard to determine.

He said he believes the reason for the August drop was exceptionally hot weather

South Salt Residents Want New Consultant

Residents protesting a railroad relocation project in their neighborhood want the railroad study given to a new consulting firm

The entire scope of the consulting work on corridor C (roughly the area between 3rd and 4th Sts. from O St. south,) should be turned over to the Kansas City firm of Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, a letter from the South Salt Creek Community Organization said.

The study is currently being conducted by a St. Louis firm which is also studying other railroad relocation projects in the county.

The South Salt Creek group has been asking for a separate study on their area in order to determine if an alternate plan for relocating the railroads in the area can be found.

Members of the local Railroad Transportation Safety District have said they would support another outside consultant as long as the price wasn't too high or the time involved too long.

Changing to the Kansas City firm would probably delay the plan at least nine months.

Two other firms interviewed for the Corridor C work indicated they had large numbers of former railroad employes on their staffs, wrote Gwen Peterson, president of the South Salt Creek group. That means they would bring a "one-sided perspective to their work," she said.

Unless the work is turned over to the Kansas City firm, the hiring of another outside consultant will be "but an empty gesture or an attempt to placate the community," she wrote.

Fremont St. Gets Alternatives

Unlike residents in some other parts of the city, citizens living along Fremont between 48th and 68th St. want their street widened — or at least enough of them do to have petitioned the city about it.

This section of Fremont St. is only 20 feet wide and has soft shoulders with no curb in most places. Several blocks are without storm sewers.

"I've lived here (on Fremont St.) since 1953. We've petitioned several times, but nothing was ever done," said Burt Boquet, a member of the Fremont Area Citizens Organization.

The City Council always replied that since Fremont St. was to be part of the Northeast Radial, the residents had to wait until that project was finalized.

Now that the radial has been semi-definitely killed, the citizens have petitioned again to get their street widened, curbed and guttered, and fully storm sewered.

This time the city has responded. Thursday night the Public Works department met with citizens to present four alternative plans for improving Fremont between 48th and 70th Sts

All four call for curbs and storm sewers, but differ in designs for handling traffic.

One plan is to make Fremont and Hartley one-way pairs, each 26 feet wide. This is the most costly plan, since it would mean removing 14 houses in order to extend Hartley to 70th St. It now ends at 66th

Another plan is to make Fremont 26 feet wide for two way traffic with no on-street parking.

A third plan, apparently favored by most of the residents, would make Fremont 38 feet wide, two-way, with on-street parking on one side of the street.

The fourth plan would make the street 38 feet wide, but with no on-street parking and with a painted median. This would permit left-turn lanes at each intersection and an "emergency lane" for fire trucks and ambulances.

The most recent petition, signed by 80 Fremont St. residents last December, asked for a 38-foot street with parking.

The City Council will hold a public hearing on the alternatives October 25.

County Road Improvement Plan Submitted

Lancaster County plans to improve a road three miles north of Waverly, extending north and east for 7½ miles to the Lancaster-Saunders County Line

The improvement includes a new bridge plus grading and asphalting at a later date, according to a release from the State Department of Roads.

The work must be approved by the department and copies of the design study are available for inspection at the Secondary Roads Division, 14th and Burnham Sts

Former Associate Judge Found Guilty Of Forgery

Holdrege (AP) — After about seven hours of deliberation, an eight-man, four-woman jury found a former associate judge guilty of forgery early Friday morning

The Phelps County District Court jury received the forgery case of former Harlan and Phelps County Associate Judge Roger Metzger of Alma at 5:30 p.m Thursday and returned its verdict at 12.08 a.m. Friday.

Metzger had taken the witness stand on his own defense Thursday afternoon and the defense afterwards.

Metzger allegedly forged a signature to a $7,000 check, later converting the proceeds to his own use

Shortly after the cash shortage was discovered, he was suspended.

Testifying Thursday, Metzger said the money, presumably from the posting of bonds, was stolen from his desk drawer on Dec. 13, 1974. He said he placed it in the desk for safekeeping until he could deposit it in a bank But when he checked the next day, he said he found that the money was gone.

Fearing that he would be suspected in the theft, Metzger told the jury he did not report it, but instead began his own search for the missing money.

District Court Judge Jack Hendrix said a presentence investigation would start Sept. 20.

By GORDON WINTERS
Star Staff Writer

In the cold black of midnight, in the first glow of dawn, under leaden rain clouds, in the red twilight, the volunteers stayed at their posts.

Thursday they presented a governmental group with an example of volunteer mobilization and citizen participation.

It was a traffic count of trucks, aimed at gauging the amount of truck traffic on 84th St., conducted by the residents of the area.

Members of the Greater Eastside Citizens Association conducted the study despite two earlier studies conducted by state and city officials.

"We didn't bring this in as a challenge. We brought this in as additional information we thought you ought to have," the group's president, Al Johnson, told a subcommittee of the Technical Committee, a group of city transportation planners.

The group's study showed 696 trucks on 84th St. at O St. during a 24-hour period, or an average of about one truck every two minutes. The figure does not include pickups, recreational vehicles or sport vans.

Although covering a 24-hour period, the study was actually conducted over three days. In addition to the 84th and O site, volunteers were also stationed at 84th and Hwy. 2, 84th and A, 84th and Hwy. 6 and the intersection of Hwy. 2 and Hwy. 77.

Although the group's data agreed with governmental traffic counts at 84th and O, it disagreed with counts at 84th and A. That was the only other intersection for which the group had time to tabulate its data.

At 84th and A, a governmental study had registered a count of 159 trucks in a six-hour period from 10 to 4 p.m. The group's study showed 255 trucks passing the intersection during the same period.

The government study at 84th and A, however, had a facet not included in the volunteer's study. City officials stopped trucks to find out where they were coming from and where they were going.

And the analysis of that information brought discouragement to the 84th St. residents, who are trying to restrict truck traffic on 84th.

The analysis of the truckers' replies showed that only about 15% of the trucks were using 84th St. as a bypass of Lincoln without stopping in the city.

The rest of the trucks were making local stops, according to the city study. For example, 40 of the 159 trucks counted were hauling loads to the ADM plant in Northeast Lincoln.

To legally keep that sort of traffic from using 84th St. is extremely difficult, City Engineer Bob Holsinger and State Roads official Derald Kohles said.

"Even if the signs (designating 84th as a truck route) go down, 85% to 90% of the trucks will still be on 84th St.," Kohles said.

Holsinger pointed out an alternate route, Hwy. 50, already exists for truckers hauling grain to the ADM plant from Southeast Nebraska, "but they don't use it," he said.

If another alternate route to the ADM plant is created by paving 112th St., Holsinger said, it still will divert only about 25% of the traffic.

The 84th St. residents, however, said that the 84th St. route could be made less attractive to truckers by lowering the speed limit and installing more stop lights.

Budget Slash Is Rare Item

By DICK HOLMAN
Star Staff Writer

"There's a program that's come to an end." The state budget administrator seemed taken aback.

He checked. Sure enough, the State Oil and Gas Conservation Commission, which is spending $5,000 of Nebraskans' tax money this fiscal year, asked for a 100% decrease in 1977-78.

That means zero. John H. Jacobson's check revealed the oil/gas agency capped all the unsafe abandoned wells.

"In the state of Nebraska," Jacobson said after he reviewed the budget requests, "the sun is going to set on quite a few activities" that now spend tax money. "Other states are talking about it, but we are doing it."

Some cuts to zero will occur by design. The Nebraska-American Revolution Bicentennial Commission obviously goes out of business in 1977. It's now spending $48,890 in general fund dollars. The Technical Assistance Agency, another example, was transferred to Welfare.

And numerous state agencies get no state tax appropriations. For example, Aeronautics, the Brand Committee, Banking, Insurance operate on cash funds, all self-supporting.

The Roads Department, while seeking a 51% general fund increase beginning next July (to $1.2 million from $794,000), gets the lion's share of its $120 million budget from other sources, mainly federal.

Although the budget submission deadline was Wednesday, Jacobson said he expects the last requests will trickle in early next week.

Any gains registered by agencies which cut budgets by about 1% to 5% could be offset by a $2-2.5 million reduction of the federal matching support for Medicaid and Aid to Dependent Children.

Don Leuenberger, assistant state budget officer, said Nebraska is left, with the choice of either picking up the increased Medicaid and ADC tab for reviewing the benefit payout policies to discontinue some of the broad options available.

"To continue the program, it will cost us $2-2.5 million more" than in this fiscal year, Leuenberger said. "If it hadn't been for that, welfare costs have substantially stabilized." Only minimal growth is expected in foster care, and no growth elsewhere.

The Welfare federal fund slash was a result of bi-annual recalculation of Nebraska's per capita position relative to other states. The state now receives a 56% federal match, and a 2% drop is anticipated. The minimum is 50%.

Despite the drought, Leuenberger said, "Other states have been worse off than we are." He noted Iowa reportedly will lose 5% of the welfare subsidies. In 1977-78, the main expense will be in Medicaid, while ADC payments are expected to decrease.

Other factors offsetting savings include proposals for significantly increased tax support. The Education Department wants a 26% increase. The University of Nebraska wants $108 million (plus a supplemental ag request to be determined next month); that sum is already equal to the amount NU and the state colleges combined are spending this year.

Budget details to date are shown in the accompanying chart. Agencies not yet submitting requests are noted, and asterisks indicate rough estimates by budget analysts.

2 Banks Lose $12,000 In Check Cashing Scheme

The National Bank of Commerce and the First National Bank are out about $12,000 in a check cashing scheme run by two men, police said Thursday.

Lincoln police are searching for two men who arrived in Lincoln earlier this month, rented an apartment at 18th and B St., and opened up checking accounts in the banks. The men also obtained Nebraska driver's licenses.

According to police reports, authorities discovered that the apartment was never lived in. The apartment apparently was used only as a mailing address where the men could receive personalized check blanks from the banks.

One of the men wrote $9,461 in bad checks on the First National Bank's account. The second man collected $2,474 from NBC.

Gamblers Leave $1 Billion

Carson City, Nev. (UPI) — Gamblers left a record $1.18 billion in the coffers of Nevada's gambling casinos during the fiscal year which ended June 30.

The state Gaming Control Board said that the amount was $122 million more than the figure for the previous year.

By DICK HOLMAN
Star Staff Writer

"There's a program that's come to an end." The state budget administrator seemed taken aback.

He checked. Sure enough, the State Oil and Gas Conservation Commission, which is spending $5,000 of Nebraskans' tax money this fiscal year, asked for a 100% decrease in 1977-78.

That means zero. John H. Jacobson's check revealed the oil/gas agency capped all the unsafe abandoned wells.

"In the state of Nebraska," Jacobson said after he reviewed the budget requests, "the sun is going to set on quite a few activities" that now spend tax money. "Other states are talking about it, but we are doing it."

Some cuts to zero will occur by design. The Nebraska-American Revolution Bicentennial Commission obviously goes out of business in 1977. It's now spending $48,890 in general fund dollars. The Technical Assistance Agency, another example, was transferred to Welfare.

And numerous state agencies get no state tax appropriations. For example, Aeronautics, the Brand Committee, Banking, Insurance operate on cash funds, all self-supporting.

The Roads Department, while seeking a 51% general fund increase beginning next July (to $1.2 million from $794,000), gets the lion's share of its $120 million budget from other sources, mainly federal.

Although the budget submission deadline was Wednesday, Jacobson said he expects the last requests will trickle in early next week.

Any gains registered by agencies which cut budgets by about 1% to 5% could be offset by a $2-2.5 million reduction of the federal matching support for Medicaid and Aid to Dependent Children.

Don Leuenberger, assistant state budget officer, said Nebraska is left, with the choice of either picking up the increased Medicaid and ADC tab for reviewing the benefit payout policies to discontinue some of the broad options available.

"To continue the program, it will cost us $2-2.5 million more" than in this fiscal year, Leuenberger said. "If it hadn't been for that, welfare costs have substantially stabilized." Only minimal growth is expected in foster care, and no growth elsewhere.

The Welfare federal fund slash was a result of bi-annual recalculation of Nebraska's per capita position relative to other states. The state now receives a 56% federal match, and a 2% drop is anticipated. The minimum is 50%.

Despite the drought, Leuenberger said, "Other states have been worse off than we are." He noted Iowa reportedly will lose 5% of the welfare subsidies. In 1977-78, the main expense will be in Medicaid, while ADC payments are expected to decrease.

Other factors offsetting savings include proposals for significantly increased tax support. The Education Department wants a 26% increase. The University of Nebraska wants $108 million (plus a supplemental ag request to be determined next month); that sum is already equal to the amount NU and the state colleges combined are spending this year.

Budget details to date are shown in the accompanying chart. Agencies not yet submitting requests are noted, and asterisks indicate rough estimates by budget analysts.

Get Hooked The Next Couple Of Weeks

By JOHN CAMPER
(c) Chicago Daily News

If you intend to turn on your television set during the next couple of weeks, be careful. The networks, particularly ABC, will use every imaginable trick to hook you on their fall programs. Once you've got the habit, it can be hard to break.

The networks don't just lay their shows before you and let you pick and choose. They use such schemes as "cross-pollination," "front-loading" and "cliff-hanging," all of which come under the general heading of "stunting," to suck you in. If you're not aware of what's going on, you may become another helpless victim.

Cross-pollination is the placing of the star of one series on an early episode of another, often more popular, series. Consciously or subconsciously you think, "What a wonderful actor. I have to see more of him." The network makes it easy for you to do so, thus hooking you on another series.

Front-loading means making the initial episode of a series particularly exciting. Sometimes this involves spending an inordinate amount of money on the premiere, which the studios recover by running cheaper episodes later in the season, after you're hooked and can't tell the difference. Or it may mean doubling the length of the first show, which has the advantage of keeping you away from the other networks for an extra 30 or 60 minutes.

Cliff-hanging is splitting a show into two parts. The show builds up to a climax, and then, when you can hardly bear the suspense, you learn that it will be completed next week. After a week of uneasiness, you turn your set on early to avoid missing a single exciting minute of the concluding show — and thereby become hooked on the show that precedes the one you planned to watch.

Here is an example of how ABC has combined all these tricks into one huge stunt so elaborate and complex it practically leaves you gasping.

The "Six Million Dollar Man" will open the season Sunday with a show called "The Return of Bigfoot." Bigfoot is a horrible monster, familiar to Man fans (of which I am not one), who has been programmed by repel aliens from another planet to plunder Earth. This is front-loading.

And who should show up to help series hero Steve Austin (Lee Majors) fight this fiend? Why, Jamie Sommers (Lindsay Wagner), the bionic woman. As Austin is headed for certain death, we learn that the drama will conclude Wednesday on "The Bionic Woman" with guest star Lee Majors).

If you watch the "Six Million Dollar Man" the following Sunday, whom will you see? Not Bigfoot but Big Something Else — Farrah Fawcett-Majors, Lee Majors' wife, playing a glamorous test pilot. She is such a wonderful actress, you will want to see more of her, and you can on "Charlie's Angels."

The other two networks have quite a few two-parters and lengthened shows, but they'll play fewer tricks than ABC. CBS has Sonny Bono (of Sonny and Cher) appearing Tuesday on "Switch." On NBC, Chevy Chase (of "Saturday Night") will be on "Van Dyke and Co. Monday; James Garner of "The Rockford Files" will guest-star on a "World of Disney" two-parter Sept. 26 and Oct. 3, and Freddie Prinze of "Chico and the Man" will star Wednesday in a made-for-TV movie called "The Million Dollar Rip-Off."

Paris (UPI) — French authorities said they will soon convert the disused Tremblay horse-racing course, southeast of Paris, into one of Europe's largest recreation parks. The area will be planted with 45,000 trees, a special bicycle course, 17 tennis courts, 10 football and rugby fields, plus a horse-riding school. The park will be completed in two years.

New Gangster Film 'Custard Pie' Satire

By VINCENT CANBY
The New York Times

New York — "If it were raining brains," says the narrator at the start of "Bugsy Malone," "Roxy Robinson wouldn't even get wet." We then see a close-up of the terrified face of Roxy Robinson as he's pursued down a dark Manhattan alley by the gunmen of a rival gang. Suddenly he's cornered. Roxy pleads for his life. "Hey fellas . . . " But in vain. Right in front of our eyes Roxy Robinson is executed with gangland's newest secret weapon, the Splurge gun, a machine gun loaded with what looks like whipped cream.

That custard pies can maim and whipped cream should kill are only two of the ways in which some basic laws of the cinema are cheerfully junked in this wildly uneven but imaginative and stylish satire of 1920s gangster movies. The film was written and directed by Alan Parker, an Englishman with a lot of improbable talent.

I mean that only someone with an improbable talent and an emerging death wish would attempt to make such a film, which also includes a first-rate musical score and choreography, along with a cast of kids. They aren't "Our Gang" toddlers by any means, but young teenagers, some of whom look prepubescent and others in their mid-20s, a discrepancy that haunts the film and makes for some uneasy moments.

But discrepancy is virtually the method of the movie, which is at its best when the satire is played straight without cute mannerisms. When one isn't aware that most of the girls look years older than the boys, and when we don't see that the cars they are driving are propelled by pedals, "Bugsy Malone" has a good deal of the charm of the stage version of Sandy Wilson's "The Boy Friend."

In addition to Parker's very funny screenplay and his apparent ability to tone down the natural stridency of his young actors, the film's chief assets are the 10 Paul Williams songs that are very much of this decade, but presented in orchestrations that wittily recall the sounds of the 1920s.

They are lipsynched by the actors, but sung on the soundtrack with much verve by Williams and some other uncredited singers, including a young woman who does two Streisand-like numbers, "I'm Feeling Fine" and "Ordinary Fool."

Gilliam Gregory's choreography, with much emphasis on the Charleston, is the first real choreography we've had on the screen in a couple of years.

While Cat's Away, Etc. . .

Prichard, Ala. (AP) — While Patrolman Jule Franklin was inside a night spot investigating a reported theft, someone stole his black and white police car.

The car was found two miles away about an hour later, but a 12-gauge shotgun and the keys were missing.

"He also took my four hamburgers and vanilla milkshake," Franklin said.

(c) Chicago Daily News

If you intend to turn on your television set during the next couple of weeks, be careful. The networks, particularly ABC, will use every imaginable trick to hook you on their fall programs. Once you've got the habit, it can be hard to break.

The networks don't just lay their shows before you and let you pick and choose. They use such schemes as "cross-pollination," "front-loading" and "cliff-hanging," all of which come under the general heading of "stunting," to suck you in. If you're not aware of what's going on, you may become another helpless victim.

Cross-pollination is the placing of the star of one series on an early episode of another, often more popular, series. Consciously or subconsciously you think, "What a wonderful actor. I have to see more of him." The network makes it easy for you to do so, thus hooking you on another series.

Front-loading means making the initial episode of a series particularly exciting. Sometimes this involves spending an inordinate amount of money on the premiere, which the studios recover by running cheaper episodes later in the season, after you're hooked and can't tell the difference. Or it may mean doubling the length of the first show, which has the advantage of keeping you away from the other networks for an extra 30 or 60 minutes.

Cliff-hanging is splitting a show into two parts. The show builds up to a climax, and then, when you can hardly bear the suspense, you learn that it will be completed next week. After a week of uneasiness, you turn your set on early to avoid missing a single exciting minute of the concluding show — and thereby become hooked on the show that precedes the one you planned to watch.

Here is an example of how ABC has combined all these tricks into one huge stunt so elaborate and complex it practically leaves you gasping.

The "Six Million Dollar Man" will open the season Sunday with a show called "The Return of Bigfoot." Bigfoot is a horrible monster, familiar to Man fans (of which I am not one), who has been programmed by repel aliens from another planet to plunder Earth. This is front-loading.

And who should show up to help series hero Steve Austin (Lee Majors) fight this fiend? Why, Jamie Sommers (Lindsay Wagner), the bionic woman. As Austin is headed for certain death, we learn that the drama will conclude Wednesday on "The Bionic Woman" with guest star Lee Majors).

If you watch the "Six Million Dollar Man" the following Sunday, whom will you see? Not Bigfoot but Big Something Else — Farrah Fawcett-Majors, Lee Majors' wife, playing a glamorous test pilot. She is such a wonderful actress, you will want to see more of her, and you can on "Charlie's Angels."

The other two networks have quite a few two-parters and lengthened shows, but they'll play fewer tricks than ABC. CBS has Sonny Bono (of Sonny and Cher) appearing Tuesday on "Switch." On NBC, Chevy Chase (of "Saturday Night") will be on "Van Dyke and Co. Monday; James Garner of "The Rockford Files" will guest-star on a "World of Disney" two-parter Sept. 26 and Oct. 3, and Freddie Prinze of "Chico and the Man" will star Wednesday in a made-for-TV movie called "The Million Dollar Rip-Off."

Paris (UPI) — French authorities said they will soon convert the disused Tremblay horse-racing course, southeast of Paris, into one of Europe's largest recreation parks. The area will be planted with 45,000 trees, a special bicycle course, 17 tennis courts, 10 football and rugby fields, plus a horse-riding school. The park will be completed in two years.

New Gangster Film 'Custard Pie' Satire

By VINCENT CANBY
©The New York Times

New York — "If it were raining brains," says the narrator at the start of "Bugsy Malone," "Roxy Robinson wouldn't even get wet." We then see a close-up of the terrified face of Roxy Robinson as he's pursued down a dark Manhattan alley by the gunmen of a rival gang. Suddenly he's cornered. Roxy pleads for his life. "Hey fellas . . . " But in vain. Right in front of our eyes Roxy Robinson is executed with gangland's newest secret weapon, the Splurge gun, a machine gun loaded with what looks like whipped cream.

That custard pies can maim and whipped cream should kill are only two of the ways in which some basic laws of the cinema are cheerfully junked in this wildly uneven but imaginative and stylish satire of 1920s gangster movies. The film was written and directed by Alan Parker, an Englishman with a lot of improbable talent.

I mean that only someone with an improbable talent and an emerging death wish would attempt to make such a film, which also includes a first-rate musical score and choreography, along with a cast of kids. They aren't "Our Gang" toddlers by any means, but young teenagers, some of whom look pre-pubescent and others in their mid-20s, a discrepancy that haunts the film and makes for some uneasy moments.

But discrepancy is virtually the method of the movie, which is at its best when the satire is played straight without cute mannerisms. When one isn't aware that most of the girls look years older than the boys, and when we don't see that the cars they are driving are propelled by pedals, "Bugsy Malone" has a good deal of the charm of the stage version of Sandy Wilson's "The Boy Friend."

In addition to Parker's very funny screenplay and his apparent ability to tone down the natural stridency of his young actors, the film's chief assets are the 10 Paul Williams songs that are very much of this decade, but presented in orchestrations that wittily recall the sounds of the 1920s.

They are lipsynched by the actors, but sung on the soundtrack with much verve by Williams and some other uncredited singers, including a young woman who does two Streisand-like numbers, "I'm Feeling Fine" and "Ordinary Fool."

Gilliam Gregory's choreography, with much emphasis on the Charleston, is the first real choreography we've had on the screen in a couple of years.

While Cat's Away, Etc. . .

Prichard, Ala. (AP) — While Patrolman Jule Franklin was inside a night spot investigating a reported theft, someone stole his black and white police car.

The car was found two miles away about an hour later, but a 12-gauge shotgun and the keys were missing.

"He also took my four hamburgers and vanilla milkshake," Franklin said.

Public Masses Allowed For Dead Non-Catholics

Vatican City (UPI) — Pope Paul VI Thursday decreed Roman Catholic priests may say public masses for the repose of dead non-Catholic Christians under special circumstances

The Vatican Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, in a decree issued under the pope's authority, said the existing ban on such masses "shall continue to be the general rule," but bishops could grant exceptions in particular cases

The decree said such exceptions could be granted "whenever both the following conditions are verified

— "The public celebration of the masses must be explicitly requested by the relatives, friends or subjects of the deceased person for a genuine religious motive

— "In the (bishop's) judgement, there must be no scandal for the faithful "

The congregation said Roman Catholic priests in many countries were being asked to celebrate such masses, "Particularly when the departed showed special devotion and honor for the Catholic religion or held public office at the service of the whole civil community "

The decree said the restrictions applied only to public masses

"There is, of course, no difficulty about the celebration of private masses for these deceased persons," the decree said

The congregation said Roman Catholic priests in many countries were being asked to celebrate such masses, "Particularly when the departed showed special devotion and honor for the Catholic religion or held public office at the service of the whole civil community."

The decree said the restrictions applied only to public masses.

"There is, of course, no difficulty about the celebration of private masses for these deceased persons," the decree said.

Politics Blamed

Iowa City, Iowa (UPI) — Independent Presidential candidate Eugene McCarthy's supporters have blamed big-party politics for the cancellation of a speaking invitation offered to McCarthy by the Iowa League of Municipalities earlier this month.

WHEREAS, it is for the convenience of the inhabitants of said City and for the public that said plat be approved and accepted as filed.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That the plat of BEL-MAR FIFTH ADDITION, as an addition to the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, filed in the office of the Planning Department of said City by ROBERT R. GRECKEL and DIANE N. GRECKEL, husband and wife and KARL A. WITT d/b/a WITT'S, LTD., a partnership as owners, are hereby accepted and approved, and said owners are hereby given the right to plat said BEL-MAR FIFTH ADDITION as an addition to said City in accordance therewith. Such acceptance and approval are conditioned upon the following:

First: That said owners shall at their own cost and expense pay for all labor, material, engineering, and inspection costs in connection with the construction of sidewalks to be constructed in the sidewalk space along both sides of all interior streets and along the east side of North 14th Street adjacent to this subdivision, and in the sidewalk easement located between 15th Street and 14th Street crossing Lots 11 and 12, Block 1. The construction of said sidewalks shall be completed not later than September 1, 1980.

Second: That said owners shall at their own cost and expense pay for all labor, material, engineering, and inspection costs in connection with the construction of a system of storm sewerage and drainage to serve said plat. Said system of storm sewerage and drainage shall be constructed as follows:

a. A 30-inch R.C.P. storm sewer along the lot line between Lots 6 and 7 of Block 1 from the northern limits of this final plat to Dodge Street.

The above-named owners shall be required to grade the land to the north of this plat so that this storm sewer pipe can be utilized. A properly executed agreement, to the approval of the City Attorney with the owners to the north of this final plat, granting permission to grade the land and certifying that the newly established contours will not be disturbed without written approval from the City, shall be obtained. If the required grading has already been done, a grading plan shall be submitted. Final approval of the drainage system shall be withheld until the grading issue has been settled to the satisfaction of the City.

b. A 30-inch storm sewer along the common lot line of Lots 7 and 8 of Block 2; and along the rear lot line of Lots 11 through 14 inclusive of Block 2.

c. An 18-inch R.C.P. storm sewer from 14th Street easterly between Lots 22 and 23 of Block 1 from the west limits of the plat to 15th Street, and in 15th Street to the lot line extended of Lots 14 and 15 of Block 2.

d. An 18-inch R.C.P. in 15th Street from the north lot line of Lot 16, Block 1 to the south lot line of Lot 21, Block 1.

e. A 30-inch R.C.P. storm sewer along the lot line between Lots 14 and 15 of Block 2 from 15th Street to the rear lot line of Lots 14 and 15 of Block 2.

f. A 42-inch R.C.P. storm sewer along the common lot line of Lots 28 and 29 of Block 2 from the rear lot lines of Lots 28 and 29 of Block 2 to North Gate Circle.

g. A 42-inch R.C.P. storm sewer in North Gate Circle from the lot line between Lots 28 and 29 of Block 2 south to an existing storm sewer.

The aforesaid system of storm sewerage and drainage shall be designed and constructed in conformance with "Storm Sewer Design Criteria" published by the Department of Public Works for the City of Lincoln in June, 1974, filed in the office of the City Engineer. Construction of said system of storm sewerage and drainage shall be completed not later than September 1, 1978.

Third: That said owners shall at their own cost and expense pay for all labor, material, engineering, and inspection costs in connection with the construction of an ornamental street lighting system along all interior streets of this final plat, all of which construction shall be equivalent to standards and specifications for residential street lighting for the City of Lincoln. As an alternative, the said owners, on or before the effective date of this ordinance, may petition the City for the creation of an ornamental street lighting district as required by ARticle VI, Section 3, of the City Charter to accomplish the construction of said ornamental street lighting system. The construction of said ornamental street lighting system shall be completed not later than September 1, 1978.

Fourth: That prior to the effective date of this ordinance, said owners shall enter into a written agreement with City which shall provide as follows:

a. That said owners, their successors and assigns to Lots 11 and 12, Block 1 shall be responsible for the perpetual maintenance of the sidewalk easement and the sidewalk located therein, the same as if the sidewalk were located in front of their lots in the street right-of-way.

b. That said owners agree to have this proposed subdivision included within an assessment district, only at the City's option; however, if the creation of an assessment district would not be feasible or desirable, the owners shall furnish a bond or escrow or security agreement to guarantee construction of the street improvements, the installation of public water mains and fire hydrants, public sanitary sewers and manholes, as approved within the preliminary plat. All of the above shall be accomplished in accordance with the design standards of the City of Lincoln and the design standards recommended by the Department of Public Works.

Section 2. That said owners shall, prior to final passage of this ordinance, execute and deliver to the City of Lincoln:

a. A bond in the sum of $22,000.00 conditioned upon the strict compliance by said owners with the conditions contained in paragraph designated "First" of the next preceding section of this ordinance;

b. A bond in the sum of $35,000.00 conditioned upon the strict compliance by said owners with the conditions contained in paragraph designated "Second" of the next preceding section of this ordinance; and

c. A bond in the sum of $10,000.00 conditioned upon the strict compliance by said owners with the conditions contained in paragraph designated "Third" of the next preceding section of this ordinance.

The bonds required above shall be subject to approval by the City Attorney. In the event said owners or their surety shall fail to satisfy the conditions herein set forth within the time specified in this ordinance, the City Council may order the required work to be performed by the City and recover the cost thereof from said owners and their surety. Such work shall be performed in the manner set forth in Title 26 of the Lincoln Municipal Code known as the Land Subdivision Ordinance as now existing or as may hereafter be amended.

Section 3. Immediately upon the taking effect of this ordinance, the City shall cause the final plat and a certified copy of this ordinance together with the written agreement required herein to be filed in the office of the Register of Deeds of Lancaster County, Nebraska. Filing fees shall be paid by said owners.

Section 4. Whereas, an emergency exists, this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

Zorinsky's Senate Voting May Break With Majority

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Omaha Mayor Edward Zorinsky Thursday said he would not hesitate to vote for his convictions as a Democratic senator even though they may run contrary to the will of a Democratic Congress.

He's been a maverick before, Zorinsky noted, and he "could care less who I offend" in voting for what he considers to the taxpayer's interests.

But, the Democratic senatorial nominee said, he would hope to be able to persuade other senators to adopt his views as "a salesman for Nebraska."

Zorinsky reitereated his support for a constitutional amendment to prohibit mandated busing as a means of desegregating schools and his opposition to a program of national health insurance.

Both positions run contrary to the Democratic Party's national policy.

Zorinsky told 40 persons at an Optimists Club luncheon that he disagrees with "many" positions taken by Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter and the party platform.

But he supports Carter, he noted, and he can think of "more reasons why I can't support President Ford."

Chief among them, he indicated, was Ford's pardon of former President Richard Nixon.

Zorinsky's comments were triggered by a questioner who asked whether the mayor, as a Democratic senator, would really "fight a Democratic Congress" when he disagrees with its majority position.

His record shows that he would, the mayor suggested.

Zorinsky's public service began as "a lone maverick" member of the Omaha Public Power District board of directors, he noted.

Zorinsky said he would like to bring "one or two senators at a time back to Nebraska with me to spend a weekend in Lincoln . . . or out on a farm . . . or with a sugar beet farmer in western Nebraska."

In that way, senators from other states could see Nebraska's needs first hand, he said. And he would want to learn about the needs of other states, Zorinsky said.

"I think that's more important than going for a ride on the Potomac or going to embassy parties," he said.

Zorinsky said he believes he could be an effective salesman.

"I have a long history of being effective . . . of getting things done," he said.

Nebraska's incumbent members of Congress often tell Nebraskans how they voted for their constituents' interests, the mayor noted.

"But did they ever tell you how many times they were on the winning side?" he asked.

Zorinsky said he hopes to persuade other senators to agree with his views, thereby both voting his constituents' interests and winning a majority to his side.

Mandated busing "in no way helps attain a higher level of education," Zorinsky said. Mayors in some other cities whose schools were desegregated before this year's Omaha desegregation have told him that their level of education has actually been reduced, he said.

Better alternatives are voluntary busing, integrated neighborhoods, equal job opportunities and the development of magnet schools, he said.

Zorinsky said he favors a federal insurance program for catastrophic illness, but not an all-encompassing health insurance plan which would "become another welfare program."

The federal government has "already proved that it is too fiscally irresponsible" to manage such a massive program, he said.

DOT Railroad Ratings Worry Grain Industry

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI) — Representatives of the grain industry expressed concern Thursday that a Department of Transportation report may encourage the demise of small "uneconomical" railroads in the Midwest and across the nation.

Farmland Industries, Bunge Corp., Lincoln Grain, Inc., and the Kansas Grain and Feed Dealers Association testified at a public hearing about their disapproval of a preliminary report classifying railroads into categories such as A-mainlines, B-mainlines and branch lines.

The Transportation report is the initial step started in January when Congress passed the Railroad Revitalization, Regulation and Reform Act. The avowed purpose of that act is "to categorize the rail lines of national accessability to reasonable measures of priority so that investments in track can be directed where they can do the most good." Classifying rail lines is one step toward determining which lines will get federal money when the purse opens.

Charles Craig, attorney for the Office of Public Counsel, which coordinated the Kansas City hearing, said no official decision has been made on which classifications will receive federal dollars.

However, Craig said, speculation has been strong that only A-mainlines and potential A-mainline railroads will receive any federal money. Of the $1.6 billion Congress authorized, the Transportation Department has asked to administer only $470 million. Craig noted that money could maintain a lot of track

"Most people weren't pleased with the standards the department came up with to designate railroads," Craig said. "They seemed concerned that only the A- and A-mainline railroads would get the money, and those that really need it won't be able to get it."

E. K. Brennen, spokesman for Farmland, said the company "strongly opposes the elimination of existing main line trackage" because the economy eventually will make all lines, including branch lines, essential

The other grain industry spokesman said that uneven distribution of federal money could end up penalizing small branch lines that did not have the funds to maintain their track. Further, they complained that creating one mainline from two could end service for intermediate points on the extinct line.

Craig said giving money only to A-mainlines would defeat the purpose of the act, part of which was is to encourage consolidations of lines where economically sound.

"That way it leaves it up the railroads which lines they want to be A-mainlines," he said. "However, even though the report recommends it, we really don't think the railroad's are going to do it"

The final report, to be made with consideration of the testimony at 26 public hearings across the country, will list the categories of lines. The report, due Jan. 30, will then be used to determine "priorities for allocating the funds authorized for rehabilitation and improvement" of the lines

Peace Group Seeks Candidates' Views

By United Press International

The new coordinator for the Nebraskans for Peace said Thursday that questionnaires will be sent to political candidates to learn their positions on issues.

Betty Olson said the questions will be on disarmament, military spending, arms sales, sanctions against Rhodesia, United Nations support, recognition of and aid to Vietnam, amnesty and gun control.

The responses will be released to the news media in mid-October.

Also, Miss Olson said the peace organization is circulating a petition as part of a nationwide drive to resolve four "legacies" of the Vietnam war. The petition will be addressed to newly elected public officials.

It calls upon government to:

— "Normalize" diplomatic, trade and cultural relations with Indochina nations and accept admission of Vietnam to the United Nations.

— Provide reconstruction aid to war-torn nations.

— Grant unconditional amnesty to all draft, military and civilian resisters and veterans with less than fully honorable discharges.

The petition drive is being cosponsored by the Coalition for a New Foreign and Military Policy, Friendshipment and the National Council for Universal Unconditional Amnesty.

City Registration Drive Targets Minority Voters

A voter registration drive aimed at registering more minority residents is underway in Lancaster County.

An offshoot of a national drive, Operation Big Vote is a joint project of several local groups including the Coalition of Black Women, Lincoln-Lancaster COPE (Committee on Political Education), the National Council of Negro Women and Kappa Alpha Psi, a black fraternity.

The group plans to use a van for registration throughout the city, particularly at places of employment and community gathering places, said Donald Polk, project director.

Black churches are also being asked to cooperate in the drive by allowing registration at the church on Sunday and informing members about candidates and issues in the church bulletins.

The group will present information and register voters at Quinn Chapel, 1225 S. 9th St., on Sept. 19 and at Christ Temple Mission Church, 500 N. 25th, on Sept. 26.

In addition to voter registration, Operation Big Vote, a nonpartisan effort, will provide information on candidates and issues and particularly those issues affecting low income neighborhoods, said Ms. Polk.

Boosters Give John Y. $5,000 For Campaign

Republican senatorial candiate John McCollister received $5,000 from the Washington-based Republican Congressional Booster Club, according to reports filed Thursday with the secretary of state.

No other Republican congressional candidate was listed as a recipient of funds in the organization's financial report.

McCollister's Democratic opponent, Edward Zorinsky, revealed a $20,000 loan from the Northside Bank of Omaha and an amendment to his July 1 financial statement. The loan was made to the Omaha mayor on June 8.

Republicans To Ring Doorbells For Raising Funds And Interest

The Lancaster County Republican Party is planning to send volunteers into every neighborhood in Lincoln Sept. 27 to raise funds.

It's called "Buck Night," but Chairman Sandra Kinsey said its purpose is more than raising money for the GOP.

"We want to stimulate interest in partisan politics and the governmental process," she said.

Republicans hope to have a volunteer stop at every home in Lincoln between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. that night.

GOPs Dominate Campus Poll

Republicans won all but one contest in a straw poll conducted on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus by UNL College Republicans

Three hundred students participated

Birth Method Is Topic

A baby's right to be born without violence is the topic of a public film night and discussion by a Lincoln obstetrician and new parents at 8 p.m. Friday at Bryan Hospital School of Nursing Auditorium

"A Gentle Birth" centers on the theory of the necessity of dim lights, soft music, low voices and a warm bath for a newborn. The innovative method was introduced by the French obstetrician, Frederick LeBoyer.

The film night is sponsored by the Childbirth Education Association of Lincoln. Admission is 50 cents a couple.

Reaganites Shifting To Ford Side

By The Associated Press

President Ford's state campaign chief says most of the Republican activists who supported Ronald Reagan have agreed to work for the President.

"The Reagan people are, have been and will continue to come over" to the Ford side, said William Barrett of Lexington.

"There was some genuine disappointment after the convention," Barrett said in a telephone interview. "But I am extremely pleased with the response from many of the Regan supporters."

Several GOP leaders expressed concern after the GOP convention about the possibility of the Reaganites being reluctant to work for Ford.

Many of the most active Reagan workers who also delegates to the convetnion.

"A lot of the Reagan workers have been integrated into the Ford campaign at key positions," Barrett said.

Reagan won Nebraska's May primary with the help of a well-organized effort headed by Milan Bish of Grand Island.

Nebraska Dole Visit Possible

By The Associated Press

Sen. Robert Dole, Republican candidate for vice president, might visit western Nebraska next week, according to the chairman of President Ford's state campaign.

Bill Barrett of Lexington said he hoped Dole could visit the state next Wednesday, but said arrangements have not been finalized.

Ronald Reagan made his best showing in the 3rd District during the May primary in which he defeated President Ford.

Dole, a senator from Kansas, is seen as a potentially effective weapon for the Republicans in western Nebraska.

He has been espousing the Ford agricultural policy in farm states, pointing to the President's promise of no more grain embargoes.

In a telephone interview, Barrett also said it is hoped that a member of the first family will campaign in the state, but that such plans are "indefinite and extremely tentative."

Barrett said a visit from Ford himself is "not probable," although some "cabinet level" officials are expected to visit the state.

Zorinsky's Senate Voting May Break With Majority

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Omaha Mayor Edward Zorinsky Thursday said he would not hesitate to vote for his convictions as a Democratic senator even though they may run contrary to the will of a Democratic Congress.

He's been a maverick before, Zorinsky noted, and he "could care less who I offend" in voting for what he considers to the taxpayer's interests.

But, the Democratic senatorial nominee said, he would hope to be able to persuade other senators to adopt his views as "a salesman for Nebraska."

Zorinsky reitereated his support for a constitutional amendment to prohibit mandated busing as a means of desegregating schools and his opposition to a program of national health insurance.

Both positions run contrary to the Democratic Party's national policy.

Zorinsky told 40 persons at an Optimists Club luncheon that he disagrees with "many" positions taken by Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter and the party platform.

But he supports Carter, he noted, and he can think of "more reasons why I can't support President Ford."

Chief among them, he indicated, was Ford's pardon of former President Richard Nixon.

Zorinsky's comments were triggered by a questioner who asked whether the mayor, as a Democratic senator, would really "fight a Democratic Congress" when he disagrees with its majority position.

His record shows that he would, the mayor suggested.

Zorinsky's public service began as "a lone maverick" member of the Omaha Public Power District board of directors, he noted.

Zorinsky said he would like to bring "one or two senators at a time back to Nebraska with me to spend a weekend in Lincoln . . . or out on a farm . . . or with a sugar beet farmer in western Nebraska."

In that way, senators from other states could see Nebraska's needs first hand, he said. And he would want to learn about the needs of other states, Zorinsky said.

"I think that's more important than going for a ride on the Potomac or going to embassy parties," he said.

Zorinsky said he believes he could be an effective salesman.

"I have a long history of being effective . . . of getting things done," he said.

Nebraska's incumbent members of Congress often tell Nebraskans how they voted for their constituents' interests, the mayor noted.

"But did they ever tell you how many times they were on the winning side?" he asked.

Zorinsky said he hopes to persuade other senators to agree with his views, thereby both voting his constituents' interests and winning a majority to his side.

Mandated busing "in no way helps attain a higher level of education," Zorinsky said. Mayors in some other cities whose schools were desegregated before this year's Omaha desegregation have told him that their level of education has actually been reduced, he said.

Better alternatives are voluntary busing, integrated neighborhoods, equal job opportunities and the development of magnet schools, he said.

Zorinsky said he favors a federal insurance program for catastrophic illness, but not an all-encompassing health insurance plan which would "become another welfare program."

The federal government has "already proved that it is too fiscally irresponsible" to manage such a massive program, he said.

DOT Railroad Ratings Worry Grain Industry

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI) — Representatives of the grain industry expressed concern Thursday that a Department of Transportation report may encourage the demise of small "uneconomical" railroads in the Midwest and across the nation.

Farmland Industries, Bunge Corp., Lincoln Grain, Inc., and the Kansas Grain and Feed Dealers Association testified at a public hearing about their disapproval of a preliminary report classifying railroads into categories such as A-mainlines, B-mainlines and branch lines.

The Transportation report is the initial step started in January when Congress passed the Railroad Revitalization, Regulation and Reform Act. The avowed purpose of that act is "to categorize the rail lines of national accessability to reasonable measures of priority so that investments in track can be directed where they can do the most good." Classifying rail lines is one step toward determining which lines will get federal money when the purse opens.

Charles Craig, attorney for the Office of Public Counsel, which coordinated the Kansas City hearing, said no official decision has been made on which classifications will receive federal dollars.

However, Craig said, speculation has been strong that only A-mainlines and potential A-mainline railroads will receive any federal money. Of the $1.6 billion Congress authorized, the Transportation Department has asked to administer only $470 million. Craig noted that money could maintain a lot of track.

"Most people weren't pleased with the standards the department came up with to designate railroads," Craig said. "They seemed concerned that only the A- and A-mainline railroads would get the money, and those that really need it won't be able to get it."

E. K. Brennen, spokesman for Farmland, said the company "strongly opposes the elimination of existing main line trackage" because the economy eventually will make all lines, including branch lines, essential.

The other grain industry spokesman said that uneven distribution of federal money could end up penalizing small branch lines that did not have the funds to maintain their track. Further, they complained that creating one mainline from two could end service for intermediate points on the extinct line.

Craig said giving money only to A-mainlines would defeat the purpose of the act, part of which was is to encourage consolidations of lines where economically sound.

"That way it leaves it up the railroads which lines they want to be A-mainlines," he said. "However, even though the report recommends it, we really don't think the railroad's are going to do it."

The final report, to be made with consideration of the testimony at 26 public hearings across the country, will list the categories of lines. The report, due Jan. 30, will then be used to determine "priorities for allocating the funds authorized for rehabilitation and improvement" of the lines.

Peace Group Seeks Candidates' Views

By United Press International

The new coordinator for the Nebraskans for Peace said Thursday that questionnaires will be sent to political candidates to learn their positions on issues.

Betty Olson said the questions will be on disarmament, military spending, arms sales, sanctions against Rhodesia, United Nations support, recognition of and aid to Vietnam, amnesty and gun control.

The responses will be released to the news media in mid-October.

Also, Miss Olson said the peace organization is circulating a petition as part of a nationwide drive to resolve four "legacies" of the Vietnam war. The petition will be addressed to newly elected public officials.

It calls upon government to:

— "Normalize" diplomatic, trade and cultural relations with Indochina nations and accept admission of Vietnam to the United Nations.

— Provide reconstruction aid to war-torn nations.

— Grant unconditional amnesty to all draft, military and civilian resisters and veterans with less than fully honorable discharges.

The petition drive is being cosponsored by the Coalition for a New Foreign and Military Policy, Friendshipment and the National Council for Universal Unconditional Amnesty.

City Registration Drive Targets Minority Voters

A voter registration drive aimed at registering more minority residents is underway in Lancaster County.

An offshoot of a national drive, Operation Big Vote is a joint project of several local groups including the Coalition of Black Women, Lincoln-Lancaster COPE (Committee on Political Education), the National Council of Negro Women and Kappa Alpha Psi, a black fraternity.

The group plans to use a van for registration throughout the city, particularly at places of employment and community gathering places, said Donald Polk, project director.

Black churches are also being asked to cooperate in the drive by allowing registration at the church on Sunday and informing members about candidates and issues in the church bulletins.

The group will present information and register voters at Quinn Chapel, 1225 S. 9th St., on Sept. 19 and at Christ Temple Mission Church, 500 N. 25th, on Sept. 26.

In addition to voter registration, Operation Big Vote, a nonpartisan effort, will provide information on candidates and issues and particularly those issues affecting low income neighborhoods, said Ms. Polk.

Boosters Give John Y. $5,000 For Campaign

Republican senatorial candiate John McCollister received $5,000 from the Washington-based Republican Congressional Booster Club, according to reports filed Thursday with the secretary of state.

No other Republican congressional candidate was listed as a recipient of funds in the organization's financial report.

McCollister's Democratic opponent, Edward Zorinsky, revealed a $20,000 loan from the Northside Bank of Omaha and an amendment to his July 1 financial statement. The loan was made to the Omaha mayor on June 8.

Republicans To Ring Doorbells For Raising Funds And Interest

The Lancaster County Republican Party is planning to send volunteers into every neighborhood in Lincoln Sept. 27 to raise funds.

It's called "Buck Night," but Chairman Sandra Kinsey said its purpose is more than raising money for the GOP.

"We want to stimulate interest in partisan politics and the governmental process," she said.

Republicans hope to have a volunteer stop at every home in Lincoln between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. that night.

GOPs Dominate Campus Poll

Republicans won all but one contest in a straw poll conducted on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus by UNL College Republicans.

Three hundred students participated.

Birth Method Is Topic

A baby's right to be born without violence is the topic of a public film night and discussion by a Lincoln obstetrician and new parents at 8 p.m. Friday at Bryan Hospital School of Nursing Auditorium.

"A Gentle Birth" centers on the theory of the necessity of dim lights, soft music, low voices and a warm bath for a newborn. The innovative method was introduced by the French obstetrician, Frederick LeBoyer.

The film night is sponsored by the Childbirth Education Association of Lincoln. Admission is 50 cents a couple.

Reaganites Shifting To Ford Side

By The Associated Press

President Ford's state campaign chief says most of the Republican activists who supported Ronald Reagan have agreed to work for the President.

"The Reagan people are, have been and will continue to come over" to the Ford side, said William Barrett of Lexington.

"There was some genuine disappointment after the convention," Barrett said in a telephone interview. "But I am extremely pleased with the response from many of the Regan supporters."

Several GOP leaders expressed concern after the GOP convention about the possibility of the Reaganites being reluctant to work for Ford.

Many of the most active Reagan workers who also delegates to the convetnion.

"A lot of the Reagan workers have been integrated into the Ford campaign at key positions," Barrett said.

Reagan won Nebraska's May primary with the help of a well-organized effort headed by Milan Bish of Grand Island.

Nebraska Dole Visit Possible

By The Associated Press

Sen. Robert Dole, Republican candidate for vice president, might visit western Nebraska next week, according to the chairman of President Ford's state campaign.

Bill Barrett of Lexington said he hoped Dole could visit the state next Wednesday, but said arrangements have not been finalized.

Ronald Reagan made his best showing in the 3rd District during the May primary in which he defeated President Ford.

Dole, a senator from Kansas, is seen as a potentially effective weapon for the Republicans in western Nebraska.

He has been espousing the Ford agricultural policy in farm states, pointing to the President's promise of no more grain embargoes.

In a telephone interview, Barrett also said it is hoped that a member of the first family will campaign in the state, but that such plans are "indefinite and extremely tentative."

Barrett said a visit from Ford himself is "not probable," although some "cabinet level" officials are expected to visit the state.

AT&T Quarter Sets Record

New York (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has apparently set a record for profits earned in any single quarter.

The company said Wednesday that it earned $1.021 billion in the three months ended Aug. 31 — the first time any corporation's profits have crossed the $1 billion mark.

General Motors Corp. was the only other company to come close. It reported $909 million in profits for the second quarter this year.

Du Pont's Procedures Said Followed On Pipe

Fremont (AP) — The president of the Nebraska Natural Gas Co (NNG) isn't denying blame for the Pathfinder Hotel Explosion last Jan 10, but he says his company was following recommended procedures and federal regulations

In a prepared statement, Oliver Peden of Fremont said, ' The Nebraska Natural Gas Company was relying on a major national corporation, Du Pont with a substantial reputation and a long history of development in plastics

' We believed we were buying the 'Cadillac' line of plastic pipe with instructions for use, and were following at that time their (Du Pont s) instructions as well as complying with the federal regulations for pipeline safety "

The blast and ensuing fire killed 18 persons and injured more than 40 others Two women died about a month after the explosion, and suits filed on behalf of their estates attribute the deaths to the explosion

The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) issued a formal report on the explosion Wednesday attributing the explosion to cold weather which caused a plastic natural gas line to loosen from an inadequate joint at a compression coupling

If gas company officials had known of risks involved with these couplings every main compression coupling would have been anchored, said Peden adding that Du Pont officials had told the company that achoring was unnecessary to prevent pullouts such as that which caused the explosion

Peden said Du Pont told NNG officials that a counteracting stress prevented contraction and anchoring was required only on three-inch pipe and larger He said Du Pont knew the local company s pipe was mostly two inches

"We no longer use on new installations compression couplings with Du Pont s metal insert stiffeners on plastic to steel transitions even though they were originally recommended by Du Pont at the time of the Pathfinder installation, and were proper and legal under federal pipeline safety regulations, ' Peden said

Shortly after the explosion, plastic piping was anchored to steel mains in the downtown mains and anchoring is now nearly complete throughout the city, said Peden

"The National Transportation Safety Board recommendations directed to us relative to fitting and leaks have already been substantially accomplished ' said Peden, "except the one involving shutdown valve installations in the city Because our gas distributionl system loops almost every city block it will require a large number of valve installations as determined by consulting engineers and involve a substantial cost of our company "

Peden said compliance with the latter recommendation will not prevent accidental leaks or explosions

Additionally, the board determined that NNG workers used parts built by two different manufacturers to make the compression coupling, and used a strengthening device inside the pipe which was not manufactured by Du Pont

The board also criticized NNG emergency procedures just before the accident, calling them ' inadequate

"Had there been an early reporting to the company of the known gas odor, there could have been at least evacuation of the hotel, ' Peden said Thursday

However, the NTSB determined that the company received the first report of the gas odor 90 minutes before the explosion, and that the first serviceman on the scene had no gas detection equipment on his truck When he got the equipment it didn't work, the board said

About 20 minutes before the explosion, other NNG workers arrived at the hotel and discovered the large concentration of gas

The explosion occurred at 9 32 a m , before the occupants could evacuate the board said

Du Pont officials were not immediately available for comment on Peden s claim that Du Pont had recommended the procedures used in the coupling installation in question

Bike Road Ban Challenged

Omaha (AP) — A Nebraskan and Iowan alleged in U S District Court Wednesday that they may have been deprived of their constitutional rights which prohibit them from riding bicycles on interstate highways and bridges

James A Wherrett of Omaha and James D Turpen of Council Bluffs said there is no practical way for bikers to ride between Council Bluffs and Omaha without crossing an interstate bridge

The suit named Thomas D Doyle, director of the Nebraska Roads Dept as the defendant

In their suit, the hikers alleged the states "have failed to provide an alternative means for bicycle riders to cross the Missouri River — such as a ferry service "

The two men also contend that states unfairly set up "a classification of highway users based on wealth, namely between persons who can afford to own and operate one or more cars and those who cannot "

Omaha Man Charged In Death Of His Son, 7

Papillion (AP) — A preliminary hearing for an Omahan charged in the death of his son was continued Thursday

The continuation was granted in the case of Leslie J. Nelsen. Sr.

Nelsen, 28, is charged with manslaughter in the unintentional death of his 7-year-old son, Christopher, last Aug 25

Nelson is accused of striking the youth in the chest after an incident in the Nelsen backyard

Authorities said an autopsy revealed that the boy died of aspiration, the sudden expulsion of bloody matter into the bronchial system

Young Couple Is Charged With Lighting Church Fire

Omaha (AP) — Douglas Hansen, 23, and his fiancee, Robin Suhr, 19, both of Council Bluffs, Iowa, waived preliminary hearing in Omaha Municipal Court Thursday and were bound over to Douglas County District Court for arraignment Sept 30 on second-degree arson charges

They were released on $1,000 bond each.

The two were charged Thursday with setting a fire which caused about $300,000 damage to Omaha's Calvary Lutheran last weekend

Fire officials said the couple had been barred from youth meetings at the church because of behavior problems

Officials said evidence indicated someone broke a window on the east side of the church and set a fire inside a meeting room.

Former Boys Town Employe Innocent Of Rifling Apartment

Omaha (AP) — Michael J Casey, former director of special projects at Boys Town, was found innocent late Wednesday of feloniously entering a building.

The jury of 10 women and two men deliberated for about an hour

Casey, 32, was charged after Karen Baird, his former girlfriend, told police she returned home June 15 and found her apartment heavily damaged and several items missing.

Casey was arrested a few days later after Miss Baird told police she believed he was jealous of her relationship with another man.

Du Pont's Procedures Said Followed On Pipe

Fremont (AP) — The president of the Nebraska Natural Gas Co. (NNG) isn't denying blame for the Pathfinder Hotel Explosion last Jan. 10, but he says his company was following recommended procedures and federal regulations.

Davenport — Though his easel is in faraway Houston, Boden Portwood's heart has never fled the haunts of his Nebraska boyhood.

Which means his native Thayer County and, mostly, neighboring Clay, Fillmore and Nuckolls. Painting from memory as well as color slides, he chooses their rural settings for at least half his work.

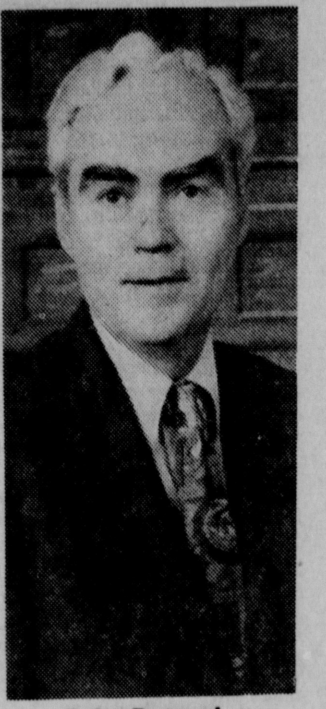
The nostalgia shows as clearly as the colors in his recent exhibit at Miller and Paine's in Lincoln. Both oils and water colors are his media.

Describing himself as "a Sunday artist," the Texas transplant began dabbling in art while a Lincoln resident approximately a decade ago. Nearly 200 of his paintings now hang in several states, mostly in homes.

"Port," as he is remembered by friends in several Nebraska communities, has been with Sears since his 1946 graduation from the University of Nebraska. Grand Island, York, Lincoln and Kansas City stints preceded his current merchandising position in Houston.

Unable to arrange his schedule to return for the exhibit, the 53-year-old artist thus must depend upon a relative as his spokesman. An only brother, Dr. David Portwood of Geneva, obliged.

"He used to be a golfer, but now this art thing is taking all his time," recalled the dentist. "If he did any painting in grade or high school, I can't remember it . . . maybe just a little drawing."



Boden Portwood

Both boys were reared in Davenport, where their father ran a grocery-dry goods store. Their mother, Mrs. Florence Portwood, is now a resident of Geneva Heritage Home.

The artist is married to the former Jane Larson of Grand Island. One daughter, Ann, now lives in that city. Another, Miriam, is a college student in California.

Since leaving Lincoln, Portwood has studied under several prominent Southwestern artists. He has taken honors in numerous art shows.

Bike Road Ban Challenged

Omaha (AP) — A Nebraskan and Iowan alleged in U.S. District Court Wednesday that they may have been deprived of their constitutional rights which prohibit them from riding bicycles on interstate highways and bridges.

James A. Wherrett of Omaha and James D. Turpen of Council Bluffs said there is no practical way for bikers to ride between Council Bluffs and Omaha without crossing an interstate bridge.

The suit named Thomas D. Doyle, director of the Nebraska Roads Dept. as the defendant.

In their suit, the hikers alleged the states "have failed to provide an alternative means for bicycle riders to cross the Missouri River — such as a ferry service."

The two men also contend that states unfairly set up "a classification of highway users based on wealth, namely between persons who can afford to own and operate one or more cars and those who cannot."

Omaha Man Charged In Death Of His Son, 7

Papillion (AP) — A preliminary hearing for an Omahan charged in the death of his son was continued Thursday.

The continuation was granted in the case of Leslie J. Nelsen. Sr. Nelsen, 28, is charged with manslaughter in the unintentional death of his 7-year-old son, Christopher, last Aug. 25.

Nelson is accused of striking the youth in the chest after an incident in the Nelsen backyard.

Authorities said an autopsy revealed that the boy died of aspiration, the sudden expulsion of bloody matter into the bronchial system.

Young Couple Is Charged With Lighting Church Fire

Omaha (AP) — Douglas Hansen, 23, and his fiancee, Robin Suhr, 19, both of Council Bluffs, Iowa, waived preliminary hearing in Omaha Municipal Court Thursday and were bound over to Douglas County District Court for arraignment Sept. 30 on second-degree arson charges.

They were released on $1,000 bond each.

The two were charged Thursday with setting a fire which caused about $300,000 damage to Omaha's Calvary Lutheran last weekend.

Fire officials said the couple had been barred from youth meetings at the church because of behavior problems.

Officials said evidence indicated someone broke a window on the east side of the church and set a fire inside a meeting room.

Former Boys Town Employe Innocent Of Rifling Apartment

Omaha (AP) — Michael J. Casey, former director of special projects at Boys Town, was found innocent late Wednesday of feloniously entering a building.

The jury of 10 women and two men deliberated for about an hour.

Casey, 32, was charged after Karen Baird, his former girlfriend, told police she returned home June 15 and found her apartment heavily damaged and several items missing.

Casey was arrested a few days later after Miss Baird told police she believed he was jealous of her relationship with another man.

Liberties Board Adds 4

Four new members were added to the Nebraska Civil Liberties Union board of directors at the organization's annual meeting.

Elected to three-year terms were Dwight Marsh of Hastings and Hess Dyas and Elaine Carpenter of Lincoln. Virginia Walsh of Omaha was named to a one-year term.

Incumbent directors Christopher J. Beutler and Lawrence Myers of Lincoln and Jerry D. Elrod of Omaha were re-elected.

The NCLU is a private, non-profit group whose purpose is protecting individual rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

New Gibbon School Proposed

Gibbon (AP) — Voters in the Gibbon School District will vote Oct. 12 on a proposed $1,550,000 bond issue to provide funds for construction of a new elementary school and remodeling of the present school building into a junior-senior high school. District officials said enrollment in the district now stands at 601, with all students served by one school building. If the bond issue wins voter approval, officials anticipate a 9.5 mill increase in the mill levy.

Youngquist Named To Hall Co. Post

Grand Island (AP) — Rodney Youngquist, the executive director of the Scotts Bluff County Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Service for the past six years, has been named to the same post in Hall County. A native of rural Holdrege and a graduate of Kearney State College, Youngquist succeeds Art Zinnel who has taken a job with the state ASCS office in Lincoln.

Hastings Man Hurt In Air Crash

Independence, Mo. (AP) — Donald Sharp, 49, of Hastings, Neb., was one of four men injured Wednesday when their twin-engine plane crashed in a field north of Independence Memorial Airport during a landing attempt. They were returning from a business trip to Jefferson City when the crash occurred. Charles M. Coop, 48, of Overland Park, Kan., was listed in critical but stable condition Thursday, while Daniel J. Watkins, 52, of Prairie Village, Kan., was reported in serious condition. Sharp and the pilot, Jack Stillwell, 57, of Independence, were hospitalized with less serious injuries, authorities said.

Assorted Crimes Charged By Grand Jury In Omaha

Omaha (AP) — A federal grand jury returned seven indictments late Wednesday, charging eight persons with crimes ranging from forgery to bank robbery.

Stanley Jones of Omaha was named in a three-count indictment charging him with bank robbery, bank larceny and assault while in the commission of a bank robbery.

The charges against Jones stem from the April 8 holdup of the Omaha Savings and Loan Association. Jones allegedly carried a sawed-off shotgun as he and two other men made off with about $6,000.

Jones has been taken into custody on other charges in Minneapolis, while the other two men involved in the holdup remain at large.

A native of New Delhi,; India, Arun Chawla, was named in a one-count indictment charging him with obtaining a Small Business Administration loan, then disappearing with the proceeds.

According to the indictment, Chawla got the loan to open a small Indian jewelry store at the Westroads Shopping Center here. On March 12, several days after the store was opened, Chawla disappeared. He allegedly took the store's inventory, which was being used as collateral for the SBA loan, and the remaining proceeds from the loan.

Chawla remains at large.

Robert Bruce Wyers of Pontiac, Mich., was indicted on one count of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

He was arrested Wednesday at an Omaha used car lot, and remains in custody in lieu of $10,000 bond.

An Omaha mother and daughter, Lorna L. and Faye A. Brooks, were named in a one-count indictment charging them with using interstate facilities and travel in an illegal gambling bookmaking operation.

Summons for both women were issued late Wednesday.

Another Omahan, Robert Eugene Alexander, was named in a one-count indictment charging him with altering federal currency.

Alexander allegedly altered a $1 bill, replacing its corners with those from a $20 bill, then passed the bill at a local bar.

Forgery charges were returned against two other Omahans, Doris D. Butler and Robert E. Stewart.

A five-count indictment charged the Butler woman with illegally forging a signature on three postal mail orders and attempting to cash two of them.

Stewart allegedly forged an endorsement on a U.S. Treasury check for $702 and tried to cash it.

LCAD Eyes Use Of Lincoln General Intern Quarters

By LINDA OLIG
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln Council on Alcoholism and Drugs (LCAD) board unanimously agreed Thursday to ask the city and Lincoln General Hospital for written information regarding the possibility and cost of using the former Lincoln General intern quarters to centralize city-funded alcoholism counseling services.

LCAD has urged the city to house its newly merged alcoholism services in the building, adjacent to the new Detoxification Center.

The vote came after board members expressed concern whether alcoholism services were actually improved through the merger of four city-funded alcoholism programs.

"I think there is some question as to whether that (improved services) will take place," said the Rev. C. Rex Bevins, LCAD president.

There are "considerable" fears that Intake and Referral's new home in the health and welfare building, 2200 St. Mary's Ave., "is not adequate," said Bob Adams, LCAD director. It may be "harder, not easier, for people to get services" there.

Intake and Referral has moved from its offices in the old federal building since it came under the City-County Health Department and its new alcoholism services division.

Other programs included in the merger are the Detox Center and the counseling programs of the Indian Center and the Lincoln Action Program.

Ray Solee, acting director of the new alcoholism division, defended the new Intake and Referral site. Since it was moved, "four drunks" have been taken directly to the Detox Center, he said. Before, the police would have had to be involved, he said.

In addition, he said, the Health Department is "trying to renovate current space" and is initiating alcohol in-service training for public health nurses.

Adams stressed that the LCAD board's action was not an attack on the health department, which he called "more than cooperative."

The old Lincoln General intern quarters were recommended for the intake and outreach programs in an LCAD study of the four services.

Bevins reported that the Parishoners Assistance advisory committee has decided the program be supported only through free-will offerings conducted at member churches.

Thirteen Lincoln churches, with a membership totaling 10,000, have enrolled in the program which will help ministers counsel laymen with drinking problems.

When the program was established, it was hoped that churches would be assessed 50 cents per member.

Also at the meeting Rich Jochem, LCAD assistant director, announced that the Drug Treatment Planning Committee has reviewed 22 drug-related films at the request of the Lincoln City Libraries. As a result, the review committee recommended that six of the films be removed from the library shelves.

In other action, the LCAD board:

— Recommended the state Division on Alcoholism approve a $6,675 grant request from Houses of Hope for materials and labor to bring the agency in compliance with fire safety standards.

— Referred to the Chemical Dependency Planning Committee a City Council request for evaluation of Full Circle and the Chemical Dependency Unit to determine any duplication of services.

— Accepted a county board request to look at the need for services for the chronic, late-stage alcoholic.

— Accepted the resignation of Loretta Griffin from the board.

AIM Coordinator Is Charged

Rushville (UPI) — Bob Yellow Bird, Nebraska coordinator for the American Indian Movement, has pleaded innocent on two counts of assault with intent to kill, wound or maim.

Yellow Bird, 30, of Gordon, was arraigned Wednesday in Sheridan County District Court, He was charged in connection with a May 4 incident during which two Gordon men were wounded. The incident occurred outside a Gordon motel.

Sheridan County Atty. Michael Smith said a pretrial hearing was set for Nov. 9, and Yellow Bird's trial was scheduled to begin Nov. 29.

Schools Outside Omaha Strained By Enrollment

Omaha (AP) — Enrollments in outlying suburban school districts are up, and the increased numbers are putting a strain on the smaller schools.

At Millard, the enrollment is up 26%, while Elkhorn has recorded a 12% increase this fall.

Many feel court-ordered busing in the Omaha School District is the reason for the westward movement, but officials said they can't tell yet.

One way to assess the impact of the busing is to check enrollments in those grades where busing is most prevalent in Omaha — grades 2, 3 and 9.

In Millard, second-grade enrollment is up 16 per cent from the first grade of last year.

"You know it (busing) had to be a factor," said Millard Supt. Don Stroh.

In Elkhorn, this year's second grade class is 56.4 per cent bigger than last year's first grade class. This year's third grade class is 48.7 per cent larger.

"Obviously, there has to be something (causing the increase), but we're not sure how much," said Elkhorn Supt. Carl White.

"People aren't just moving here to escape integration," said Stroh. "There are a lot of other factors that never get publicity."

Stroh said those other factors include proximity to expanding jobs and shopping centers and the "fresh air" of a small town atmosphere.

Jack Snider, director of the UNL bands, will conduct one number.

The concert will be at 8 p.m. Holders of free tickets will be admitted until 7:45 and the public will be admitted after that.

Four Incidents Reported As Possibly Race-Related

Omaha (AP) — Four possibly racial incidents received the attention of school officials during the first seven days of court-ordered integration in the Omaha School District.

None of the incidents resulted in any one getting hurt, school officials said.

A rock was thrown through a side window of a bus at Horace Mann Ninth Grade Center Tuesday. The bus contained white students living in the Crestridge school area of southwest Omaha. Officials said they believe the rock was thrown by a black youth, about 16, who is not a student.

Another incident at Mann last week involved a black youth and a white girl. Reports differ, but Principal Clarence Barbee said the male student pulled a penknife and said he might cut off a lock of the girl's hair. Barbee said he did not believe the boy meant his remarks to be threatening. Barbee said he paddled the boy and had him call the girl's father to apologize.

A third incident involved a fight between a black and a white student aboard a bus from Lincoln School to Monmouth School.

At Edison School, eight or 10 white and black girls engaged in name-calling during a recess Monday.

"Two girls were egging the others on. There was no fighting. If it weren't for integration, no one would have thought twice about this," said Mrs. Lois Boe, principal.

Shuttles To Be Bricked

An artist's conception shows bricks of pure silica protecting NASA's space shuttle from intense heat that turns its underbelly white hot on re-entry. Lockheed Missiles & Space Co., of Sunnyvale, Calif., is making 34,000 tiles of the unique material, in thousands of sizes, to brick the upper and lower surfaces of each shuttle.

Ex-Professor Dr. Allington Dies At Age 64

Services are set for 2 p.m. Monday at St. Paul United Methodist Church for Dr. William B. Allington, 64, who died Thursday.

Dr. Allington was former chairman of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln plant pathology department and past president of the NU chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

While at UNL, Dr. Allington was active in research projects studying the virus-cell relationship. He left UNL in 1968 to become director of research applications at Instrumentation Specialities Co.

Dr. Allington is survived by his wife, Amy, and sons, Robert W. and John R., both of Lincoln.

7 Lincolnites Join Armed Forces Band

Seven Lincoln high school students will be playing with the Armed Forces Bicentennial Band and Chorus when it appears here Friday night at Kimball Recital Hall on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus.

Performing in the number "Americans We" will be Lisa Warner, alto saxophone player from East High; Patty Tyler, flute, East; Steve Mendyk, trumpet, Lincoln High; David Sharp, clarinet, Lincoln High; Julie Clifford, French horn, Pius X; Kathy Ganzel, trumpet, Southeast, and Chuck Lindbloom, snare drum, Southeast.

Jack Snider, director of the UNL bands, will conduct one number.

The concert will be at 8 p.m. Holders of free tickets will be admitted until 7:45 and the public will be admitted after that.

Nadi — There are no tales of treasure in the South Pacific to compare with the "Treasure Island" stories of the rum-and-pirates of the Caribbean.

There's still World War II abandoned gear. A shipping man from Suva told me: "I was hunting wild pig over in the Gilberts and I ran into a rusty Quonset hut — pigs like to get into hideaways like that.

"Well, the place was stuffed with machinegun ammunition. Still in the boxes. Never been opened. There must be a lot of stuff out there with jungle grown over it.

The posh Fijian resort has spread all over the place now — I can't recognize the original part.

Somewhere under the bar there's an old Fijian burial ground. A lot of villagers were afraid the spirits would be offended.

"I mean sitting on top of great-grandfather and drinking Foster's lager beer would be as if they came to the U.S. and held a picnic at Forest Lawn."

I haven't heard any more about it. The Fijian is doing well. Maybe the spirits enjoy the company. Pretty lonely place out there before they built the hotel.

The South Pacific strips you gradually of excess. First you shed shoes for sandals. Then you get rid of the sandals and go barefoot. When you get down to a wraparound lava lava, you've gone tropical. 'Gone tropo' they say down here."

The sun flashes on white water. The blue Pacific piles up on the living reef. The coconut trees bend into the prevailing trade wind. You pop the top off a bottle of Fiji Bitter . . .

Dangerous reefs and fierce natives kept most ships clear of the Fiji islands.

Captain James Cook stood clear of them after talking to the Tonga islanders, Fiji's nearest neighbors.

"They fear the men of Feejee who are formidable because of the dexterity with which they use their bows and slings; but much more so, on account of the savage practice to which they are addicted of eating their enemies whom they kill in battle."

Sometimes you can get permission to go to the tiny royal island of Bau, not farm from Suva. Few people live there, but once it was a lively place. Headquarters for Cakobau, most powerful war chief in the islands.

Against the stone steps of the council house — abandoned now — is the anchor of the brig "L'Aimable Josephine."

"For good eating, you can't beat the French," said the people of Bau. And there went the crew of "L'Aimable Josephine."

Somewhere out on the booming white water reefs near Narai island are the anchor and bones of the American brig "Eliza." She went down in 1808 with 40,000 Spanish silver dollars.

"An occasional coin still turns up," a Suva newspaperman told me.

Curriculum To Emphasize Writing, Math

Students entering the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration after Jan. 17 will be following a new curriculum, according to Ronald L. Smith, dean.

The new curriculum will emphasize writing and interpersonal comminication skills, more computer science and quantitative methods courses, upgrading of the mathematics requirement and greater flexiblity in choosing electives.

Also, students can now declare formal majors in accounting and finance and pursue informal concentrations in economics, marketing and management.

According to Gary Schwendiman, associate dean and professor of management, the business administration college is increasing about 8 per cent a year. Approximately 2,300 undergraduate and 400 graduate students are currently enrolled in the college.

Exon Appoints Aide, 2 Others To State Posts

Gov. J. James Exon Thursday appointed his administrative aide William R. Hoppner of Lincoln to the Commission on Uniform State Laws through Aug. 11, 1979.

Hoppner will complete the term of Wallace Rudolph, who moved to Washington State to become Puget Sound University Law School dean.

Exon named Sarpy County Atty. Patrick Kelly to the Nebraska Crime Commission, to complete the term ending Dec. 31, 1981, of Cedar County Atty. Patrick Rogers who resigned.

William L. Rynearson of Omaha was reappointed to a five-year term of the State Board of Examiners for Land Surveyors.

Omahan Named To Vacancy On Health Board

Mrs. Emmett Smith of Omaha was named Thursday by Gov. J. James Exon to complete the State Health Board term of Mrs. Maxine Morrison. The wife of former Gov. Frank B. Morrison resigned effective Oct. 1.

Mrs. Smith's term will expire Sept. 14, 1977.

Exon also reappointed two members of the Equal Opportunity Commission for three year terms: Paul Ess of Lincoln and Daniel Ferreyra of Scottsbluff.

Students entering the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration after Jan. 17 will be following a new curriculum, according to Ronald L. Smith, dean.

The new curriculum will emphasize writing and interpersonal comminication skills, more computer science and quantitative methods courses, upgrading of the mathematics requirement and greater flexiblity in choosing electives.

Also, students can now declare formal majors in accounting and finance and pursue informal concentrations in economics, marketing and management.

According to Gary Schwendiman, associate dean and professor of management, the business administration college is increasing about 8 per cent a year. Approximately 2,300 undergraduate and 400 graduate students are currently enrolled in the college.

Exon Appoints Aide, 2 Others To State Posts

Gov. J. James Exon Thursday appointed his administrative aide William R. Hoppner of Lincoln to the Commission on Uniform State Laws through Aug. 11, 1979.

Hoppner will complete the term of Wallace Rudolph, who moved to Washington State to become Puget Sound University Law School dean.

Exon named Sarpy County Atty. Patrick Kelly to the Nebraska Crime Commission, to complete the term ending Dec. 31, 1981, of Cedar County Atty. Patrick Rogers who resigned.

William L. Rynearson of Omaha was reappointed to a five-year term of the State Board of Examiners for Land Surveyors.

Omahan Named To Vacancy On Health Board

Mrs. Emmett Smith of Omaha was named Thursday by Gov. J. James Exon to complete the State Health Board term of Mrs. Maxine Morrison. The wife of former Gov. Frank B. Morrison resigned effective Oct. 1.

Mrs. Smith's term will expire Sept. 14, 1977.

Exon also reappointed two members of the Equal Opportunity Commission for three year terms: Paul Ess of Lincoln and Daniel Ferreyra of Scottsbluff.

Prime Rate Cut Sparks Rally

NEW YORK (AP) —A prime rate reduction by a small St. Louis bank provided the spark for a sharp afternoon rally in the stock market Thursday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks, off a fraction at noontime, had climbed 8.64 to 987.95 by the close of the New York Stock Exchange.

Advances outnumbered declines by about a 5-2 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Big Board volume picked up as prices began rising, totalling 19.62 million shares for the day, up from 17.57 million on Wednesday.

The market drifted aimlessly through the morning in a replay of Wednesday's erratic session, when the Dow eked out a .67 gain.

It started moving ahead, however, after the Southwest Bank of St. Louis announced it was lowering its prime lending rate from 7 to 6¾ per cent.

Analysts said the move seemed to raise hopes for similar reductions by larger banks in the key minimum rate on blue chip loans.

New York's Citibank, second largest in the nation, regularly discloses its plans for the prime on Friday mornings.

Expectations that Citibank would cut the rate heightened late in the day when the Federal Reserve issued weekly figures showing a sharp drop in the basic measure of the money supply.

The drop theoretically leaves more room for the Fed to relax its credit policy if it wants to do so to give the economic recovery a boost.

Among glamor stocks, IBM jumped 5 points to touch a new high for the year; Texas Instruments added more than 2 points, and Polaroid, Disney, Burroughs and Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing each rose 1 or more.

Even the gold stocks, which often run counter to the over-all market, joined in the advance. Bullion prices rose sharply in Europe after the latest International Monetary Fund auction.

Analysts said investors fearful of further downward pressure on the gold price had been relieved at the level of the bids received by the IMF.

General Motors rose more than a point, and Ford Motor added a fraction. Late in the day the United Auto Workers said it had held an informal meeting with Ford aimed at speeding up progress of future talks to end a strike against the company.

S. S. Kresge, the day's most active issue, advanced almost a point. Trading in the stock included a 100,000 share block.

Servomation, which announced plans to offer $17.50 apiece for 700,000 of its outstanding common shares, gained more than a point.

Molex To Build Plant In Lincoln

By The Associated Press

Molex Inc., said Wednesday it will build a $1.5 million plant in Lincoln by early next year that will have an annual payroll of about $1 million.

John H. Krehbiel Sr., chairman of the Lisle, Ill.-based firm, said Lincoln was chosen over Ames, Iowa and Jackson, Tenn., because of the availability of trained toolmakers in the area.

Molex, founded in the 1930s, makes electrical connections for a variety of equipment, including television sets, automobiles and refrigerators.

Krehbiel said the exact site of the Lincoln plant will be chosen within a month and the construction contract will then be let.

The plant, to be located in one of the city's industrial parks, initially will have 25,000 square feet and will employ 35 to 40 persons, he said.

Plans call for later expansion to 60,000 square feet as soon as possible with the total employment to rise to 100 to 150.

Total cost of the enlarged plant would be about $3.5 million.

Krehbiel said he hopes to have the plant operating by Jan. 1, 1977 and no later than Feb. 1.

Bank To Control Papillion Hospital

Omaha (AP) — The new Midlands Community Hospital near Papillion has been placed under control of an Omaha bank, but a hospital spokesman said Midlands will remain open.

The current hospital board has been appointed by the trust department of the Northwest National Bank to continue operation of the 208-bed hospital, the spokesman said. Northwest is the trustee for the holders of $21.7 million in bonds which largely financed the facility.

Placing the bank in control should help ease the problem of providing operating funds, the spokesman said.

This stop releases the hospital from conditions of the bond agreement which required that income be used first to pay interest and principal on the bonds and secondly to provide operating and maintenance funds.

Midlands' projected income has been lower than expected because occupancy has been less than expected. The hospital, just south of Papillion opened in January, and has been about 20% full in recent months.

Before the hospital was built there was opposition to its construction, opponents claiming there were already more than enough hospital beds in the Omaha-area.

Gallery Won't Be In Penney Building

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—The downtown Omaha J.C. Penney Co. building will not be converted to a gallery of small shops, because property trustees say it isn't economically feasible for them, a Downtown Omaha, Inc., spokesman said Thursday.

Downtown Omaha, which is advocating the gallery, is looking at other possible sites along and near 16th Street, Executive Director Steve Thompson said.

The organization's proposal to the Penney building trustees called for the owner or trustees to subsidize operating costs for 18 months, after which those costs would be gradually repaid by the tenants, Thompson said.

The Omaha National Bank, acting as a trustee for the property owner, offered to turn the property over to Downtown Omaha to operate or tear down the building, he said.

Douglas County assessor's records show the building and land are valued at $555,000 and had taxes of $23,169 this year.

Downtown Omaha is not in a position to take over the building with its operating costs, Thompson said.

Ethnic Motif Gift Boom Seen For Christmas

New York (UPI) — Ethnic gifts are expected to be big sellers this coming Christmas, according to retail store buyer sat the 83rd California Gift Show in Los Angeles.

Home Furnishings Daily, a trade newspaper, said buyers were going for ethnic motifs, but not necessarily authentic work from groups such as Americna Indians, African tribesmen and Far Eatern craftsmen. The African look is bigger on the East Coast, the paper said.

Hog Prices Dip Sharply

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Pressed by sagging wholesale prices and reports that production levels are up this year, hog prices continued sharply downward on the Omaha livestock market Thursday.

The day's hog run was estimated at about 3,500 head, and the closing trade on barrows and gilts was active, but the trend was 50-cents to $1.00 lower.

Sows trended 50-cents to $1.00 lower on tickets marked generally from $32.50-$33.00, some to $33.25.

There were only about 1,700 cattle and calves on offer, about 1,000 on them consigned to the 26th annual T-Bone Special out of Audubon County, Iowa.

Slaughter steers and heifers were termed steady to firm in moderate activity, while the trade on cows was slow and the trend was mostly 50-cents lower.

$1 Billion Cotton Crop Possible

College Station, Tex. (UPI) — Cotton farmers in Texas could produce a billion dollar crop this year, an economist with the state agricultural extension service predicts.

Charles Baker said the cotton crop probably will reach the billion dollar mark if market conditions and good harvest weather prevail.

"This would make the crop second only to that produced in 1973, which tipped the scales at $1.2 billion," Baker said.

Texas farmers planted 4.9 million acres in cotton this year.

Prime Rate Cut Sparks Rally

NEW YORK (AP) —A prime rate reduction by a small St Louis bank provided the spark for a sharp afternoon rally in the stock market Thursday

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks off a fraction at noontime, had climbed 8 64 to 987 95 by the close of the New York Stock Exchange

Advances outnumbered declines by about a 5-2 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues

Big Board volume picked up as prices began rising totalling 19 62 million shares for the day up from 17 57 million on Wednesday

The market drifted aimlessly through the morning in a replay of Wednesday s erratic session when the Dow eked out a 67 gain

It started moving ahead however, after the Southwest Bank of St Louis announced it was lowering its prime lending rate from 7 to 6¾ per cent

Analysts said the move seemed to raise hopes for similar reductions by larger banks in the key minimum rate on blue chip loans

New York s Citibank, second largest in the nation, regularly discloses its plans for the prime on Friday mornings

Expectations that Citibank would cut the rate heightened late in the day when the Federal Reserve issued weekly figures showing a sharp drop in the basic measure of the money supply

The drop theoretically leaves more room for the Fed to relax its credit policy if it wants to do so to give the economic recovery a boost

Among glamor stocks IBM jumped 5 points to touch a new high for the year Texas Instruments added more than 2 points, and Polaroid Disney, Burroughs and Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing each rose 1 or more

Even the gold stocks, which often run counter to the over-all market, joined in the advance Bullion prices rose sharply in Europe after the latest International Monetary Fund auction

Analysts said investors fearful of further downward pressure on the gold price had been relieved at the level of the bids received by the IMF

General Motors rose more than a point, and Ford Motor added a fraction Late in the day the United Auto Workers said it had held an informal meeting with Ford aimed at speeding up progress of future talks to end a strike against the company

S S Kresge, the day's most active issue, advanced almost a point Trading in the stock included a 100,000 share block

Servomation which announced plans to offer $17 50 apiece for 700 000 of its outstanding common shares gained more than a point

Molex To Build Plant In Lincoln

By The Associated Press

Molex Inc said Wednesday it will build a $1 5 million plant in Lincoln by early next year that will have an annual payroll of about $1 million

John H Krehbiel Sr chairman of the Lisle Ill based firm said Lincoln was chosen over Ames Iowa and Jackson Tenn because of the availability of trained toolmakers in the area

Molex founded in the 1930s makes electrical connections for a variety of equipment including television sets automobiles and refrigerators

Krehbiel said the exact site of the Lincoln plant will be chosen within a month and the construction contract will then be let

The plant to be located in one of the city s industrial parks initially will have 25 000 square feet and will employ 35 to 40 persons he said

Plans call for later expansion to 60 000 square feet as soon as possible with the total employment to rise to 100 to 150

Total cost of the enlarged plant would be about $3 5 million

Krehbiel said he hopes to have the plant operating by Jan 1 1977 and no later than Feb 1

Bank To Control Papillion Hospital

Omaha (AP) — The new Midlands Community Hospital near Papillion has been placed under control of an Omaha bank but a hospital spokesman said Midlands will remain open

The current hospital board has been appointed by the trust department of the Northwest National Bank to continue operation of the 208-bed hospital the spokesman said Northwest is the trustee for the holders of $21 7 million in bonds which largely financed the facility

Placing the bank in control should help ease the problem of providing operating funds the spokesman said

This stop releases the hospital from conditions of the bond agreement which required that income be used first to pay interest and principal on the bonds and secondly to provide operating and maintenance funds

Midlands projected income has been lower than expected because occupancy has been less than expected The hospital just south of Papillion opened in January and has been about 20 c full in recent months

Before the hospital was built there was opposition to its construction opponents claiming there were already more than enough hospital beds in the Omaha-area

Gallery Won't Be In Penney Building

OMAHA, Neb (AP)—The downtown Omaha J C Penney Co building will not be converted to a gallery of small shops, because property trustees say it isn t economically feasible for them, a Downtown Omaha, Inc, spokesman said Thursday

Downtown Omaha, which is advocating the gallery, is looking at other possible sites along and near 16th Street Executive Director Steve Thompson said

The organization s proposal to the Penney building trustees called for the owner or trustees to subsidize operating costs for 18 months after which those costs would be gradually repaid by the tenants, Thompson said

The Omaha National Bank, acting as a trustee for the property owner, offered to turn the property over to Downtown Omaha to operate or tear down the building he said

Douglas County assessor's records show the building and land are valued at $555,000 and had taxes of $23 169 this year

Downtown Omaha is not in a position to take over the building with its operating costs, Thompson said.

Ethnic Motif Gift Boom Seen For Christmas

New York (UPI) — Ethnic gifts are expected to be big sellers this coming Christmas according to retail store buyers at the 83rd California Gift Show in Los Angeles

Home Furnishings Daily a trade newspaper said buyers were going for ethnic motifs but not necessarily authentic work from groups such as Americna Indians African tribesmen and Far Eatern craftsmen The African look is bigger on the East Coast the paper said

Hog Prices Dip Sharply

OMAHA, Neb (AP)—Pressed by sagging wholesale prices and reports that production levels are up this year, hog prices continued sharply downward on the Omaha livestock market Thursday

The day's hog run was estimated at about 3,500 head, and the closing trade on barrows and gilts was active, but the trend was 50-cents to $1 00 lower

Sows trended 50-cents to $1 00 lower on tickets marked generally from $32 50-$33 00, some to $33 25

There were only about 1 700 cattle and calves on offer, about 1 000 on them consigned to the 28th annual T-Bone Special out of Audubon County, Iowa

Slaughter steers and heifers were termed steady to firm in moderate activity while the trade on cows was slow and the trend was mostly 50-cents lower

$1 Billion Cotton Crop Possible

College Station Tex (UPI) — Cotton farmers in Texas could produce a billion dollar crop this year an economist with the state agricultural extension service predicts

Charles Baker said the cotton crop probably will reach the billion dollar mark if market conditions and good harvest weather prevail

This would make the crop second only to that produced in 1973 which tipped the scales at $1 2 billion Baker said

Texas farmers planted 4 9 million acres in cotton this year

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE – Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

☆ By SIDNEY OMARR ☆

Friday, Sept. 17, 1976

I don't think any of the zodiacal signs can be put in your pocket. I feel that each of the signs can rebel or show us another side of themselves. Virgo is an excellent example. Those natives can overturn pigeon-hold concepts and act like Aries. In turn, the independent Aries native can become a Gemini as far as responses are concerned. Of course, it all depends on the complete horoscope, the month, date, year, hour and place of birth. But the Sun signs, the month and date of birth, provide valuable clues, enable us to detect subtle nuances. The Sun is the engine of the horoscope.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Be factual, Stress basics. Check information. Take nothing for granted. Complete transaction by checking on finances, money available, credit to be extended. Home environment, property values come into sharp focus.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Emphasis on ideas, bringing together bits of information and coming up with complete story. Family member wants — and deserves — more attention. Know it and act accordingly. Check costs. Avoid wild-goose chase.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Money, possessions, what is of value to you — these are emphasized. See places and people as they are, not merely as you wish they could be. Means avoid self-deception. Streamlike techniques. What you seek is hidden — temporarily.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cycle high — get going on your own. Be a self-starter. Highlight independence of thought, action. Welcome new contracts, experiences, challenges. Take care with apparel. Your appearance is more important than usual. Your timing is on target.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): What occurs behind scenes may have impact on you. Know it — prepare by having alternatives at hand. Cycle is elevated — you land on your feet. Means you have more strength, support than might be imagined. Someone is working on your behalf — you're going to surprise many persons.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You meet people, socialize, have fun, relax; there is relief from tension and "headache" disappears. Leo, Aquarius persons could be in picture. You may be wined and dined and your morale soars. Enjoy it!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Career gets boost. Personal ambitions come into focus. You're able to overcome red tape, to rise above details and view situation in entirety. Aquarian figures prominently. Authority figure pays meaningful compliment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Good Moon aspect coincides now with long-range views, projects. You're able to gain accurate glimpse of future. Your extrasensory perception is activated. Be confident — invest in your own capabilities.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Money, practial procedures, rights and persmissions grab spotlight. Gain cooperation of one who is familiar with time, motion, budget. You'll have chance to correct an error. Don't permit pride to block progress. You could locate valuable that had been lost.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Accent on marital status, public relations, cooperative ties, legalities. Be ready for movement, change, travel — analyze situation. Avoid rushing to judgment. Gemini, Virgo figure prominently. A relationship intensifies. If you're playing games, the stakes are high.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Low key approach should be advocated. Go slow — be familiar with basic requirements. Eschew sensationalism. Keep diet, health resolutions. Taurus, Libra individuals are part of your personal scenario. Good news comes close to home base.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Lunar aspect highlights affairs of heart, dealings with children and members of opposite sex. Creativity is accented — popularity is on upsurge. You gain valuable insights through "quiet visit with one confined to home or hospital.

IF SEPTEMBER 17th IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are practical, dynamic, a natural organizer, capable of executive duty, of handling responsibility. In October, you get chance for more freedom of movement and expression. Capricorn, Cancer persons play important roles in your life. Older people aid you, mean much to you — and you could be in love with one who is your senior.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

☆ By SIDNEY OMARR ☆

Friday, Sept. 17, 1976

I don't think any of the zodiacal signs can be put in your pocket. I feel that each of the signs can rebel or show us another side of themselves. Virgo is an excellent example. Those natives can overturn pigeon hold concepts and act like Aries. In turn, the independent Aries native can become a Gemini as far as responses are concerned. Of course, it all depends on the complete horoscope, the month, date, year, hour and place of birth. But the Sun signs, the month and date of birth, provide valuable clues, enable us to detect subtle nuances. The Sun is the engine of the horoscope.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Be factual. Stress basics. Check information. Take nothing for granted. Complete transaction by checking on finances, money available, credit to be extended. Home environment, property values come into sharp focus.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Emphasis on ideas, bringing together bits of information and coming up with complete story. Family member wants — and deserves — more attention. Know it and act accordingly. Check costs. Avoid wild-goose chase.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Money, possessions, what is of value to you — these are emphasized. See places and people as they are, not merely as you wish they could be. Means avoid self-deception. Streamlike techniques. What you seek is hidden — temporarily.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cycle high — get going on your own. Be a self starter. Highlight independence of thought, action. Welcome new contracts, experiences, challenges. Take care with apparel. Your appearance is more important than usual. Your timing is on target.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): What occurs behind scenes may have impact on you. Know it — prepare by having alternatives at hand. Cycle is elevated — you land on your feet. Means you have more strength, support than might be imagined. Someone is working on your behalf — you're going to surprise many persons.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You meet people, socialize, have fun, relax; there is relief from tension and headache disappears. Leo, Aquarius persons could be in picture. You may be wined and dined and your morale soars. Enjoy it!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Career gets boost. Personal ambitions come into focus. You're able to overcome red tape, to rise above details and view situation in entirety. Aquarian figures prominently. Authority figure pays meaningful compliment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Good Moon aspect coincides now with long-range views, projects. You're able to gain accurate glimpse of future. Your extrasensory perception is activated. Be confident — invest in your own capabilities.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Money, practical procedures, rights and permissions grab spotlight. Gain cooperation of one who is familiar with time, motion, budget. You'll have chance to correct an error. Don't permit pride to block progress. You could locate valuable that had been lost.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Accent on marital status, public relations, cooperative ties, legalities. Be ready for movement, change, travel — analyze situation. Avoid rushing to judgment. Gemini, Virgo figure prominently. A relationship intensifies. If you're playing games, the stakes are high.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Low key approach should be advocated. Go slow — be familiar with basic requirements. Eschew sensationalism. Keep diet, health resolutions. Taurus, Libra individuals are part of your personal scenario. Good news comes close to home base.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Lunar aspect highlights affairs of heart, dealings with children and members of opposite sex. Creativity is accented — popularity is on upsurge. You gain valuable insights through "quiet" visit with one confined to home or hospital.

Huskers, Hoosiers Improved; But An Easy NU Victory Seen

Sports Signals

By Bob Owens
Star Sports Editor

Huskers Will Romp

Indiana can't play defense like Louisiana State did last week against Nebraska and the Cornhuskers will roll up a convincing 35-7 victory over the Hoosiers Saturday afternoon in Bloomington.

Nebraska picked up 30 first downs to six and rushed for 300 yards to 69 against the Hoosiers here last season. The Huskers also had a 170-28 edge in passing yards. The Hoosiers may be improved (though I doubt it), but so is Nebraska.

Every rating system I've seen and every handicapper thinks the same way. Jimmy "The Greek" Snyder says NU by 22; Mort Olshan says NU 34-0; Herschel Nissenson of Associated Press says NU 38-0; Bill Madden of United Press International says NU 44-14; the AP's Fred Rothenberg, who earned a game ball from the Huskers by picking Indiana last season, says it'll be 35-7 this time — Huskers.

I was one of few to pick Texas Tech over Colorado last week. This week, I like Washington over the Buffaloes because of hard-running Huskie backs Robin Earl and Ronnie Rowland. Colorado, however, is favored by professional oddsmakers.

I'm tempted to pick another upset — California over Oklahoma, but the Sooners have to be better than they looked against Vanderbilt. Texas A&M will beat Kansas State and Arkansas will stop Oklahoma State.

Make it Kansas over Kentucky, Missouri (no rollercoaster this time) over Illinois, and Iowa State over Air Force to round out the Big Eight schedule.

Ohio State Wins Again

Movies of Penn State's victory over Stanford last week show the Nittany Lions had 12 men on the field when they scored their winning touchdown. They'll need 12 throughout the game against Ohio State.

Michigan will stop Stanford, Michigan State will beat Wyoming, Syracuse over Iowa, Minnesota over Washington State, North Carolina over Northwestern, Wisconsin over North Dakota and Purdue to upset Notre Dame.

When Vince Gibson was at Kansas State he called the Wildcats the "Purple Pride." At Louisville, his Cardinals are the "Red Rage" but the only rage there is coming from irate fans. They wish they had Lee Corso back. Louisville will fall to Mississippi State. Later on, Gibson sends his team against such powers as Alabama, Pittsburgh, Memphis State and Tulsa. Maybe Corso will be available at the end of the season.

Georgia over Clemson, Florida over Houston, Vanderbilt over Wake Forest, LSU over Oregon State, and Mississippi over Tulane in other games involving Southeastern Conference teams. In the Atlantic Coast area, Duke over South Carolina,North Carolina State over East Carolina, Virginia over William & Mary and Maryland over West Virginia.

Texas, Alabama and Southern Cal will bounce back. It's Texas over North Texas State, Alabama over SMU, USC over Oregon, ULCA over Arizona, Baylor over Auburn, Rice over Utah, New Mexico State over Texas-Arlington, Long Beach State over Utah State, Texas-El Paso over New Mexico, San Diego State over Fresno State.

Also, Pacific over Idaho, San Jose State over Fullerton State, Colorado State over Brigham Young, Wichita State over West Texas State, Tulsa over Memphis State.

Both Miamis Will Win

Miami of Ohio will snap a two-game losing streak by beating Ball State while Miami of Florida will open with a warmup victory over Florida State. The Hurricanes will be in Lincoln to play the Huskers in two weeks.

Nebraska's home opening foe, Texas Christian, will lose its second game when it goes to Tennessee in a battle matching a pair of good wide receivers — Mike Renfro of TCU and Larry Seivers of Tennessee.

Pittsburgh will roll over Georgia Tech while Texas A&I, last week's conqueror of Slippery Rock, will whip the Hawaii Rainbow Warriors.

In the East, it's Army over Holy Cross, Yale over Brown, Rutgers over Bucknell, Navy over Connecticut, Princeton over Cornell, Dartmouth over Penn, Harvard over Columbia and Grambling over Temple.

Some other picks: Cincinnati over Southwestern Louisiana, VMI over Appalachian State, Virginia Tech over Southern Mississippi, Western Michigan over Northern Illinois, Kent State over Ohio U., Arkansas State over Indiana State, Marshall over Illinois State, Southern Illinois over Drake, Eastern Michigan over Bowling Green, Central Michigan over Toledo, Dayton over Villanova.

Slippery Rock opens its home schedule by beating Millersville State of Pennsylvania to even its record at 1-1. The Rockets have another big game next week against C.W. Post, which faces Hofstra on Saturday.

Nearing The End

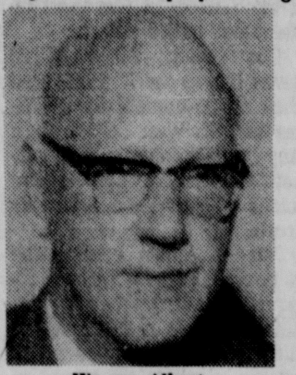
Columbus — The Columbus Races have successfully escaped the "panic period."

"We've gone through the panic days. That's what I call the week after Labor Day, which historically has been our worst week," explained Columbus Races general manager Warren Albert.

"Now with the 15th of the month past and most people having gotten paid, we hope we'll do real good the last week," he added, "I figure we'll do a little better the last week this year than last year since everybody is trying to get their last licks in."

The 25-day Columbus meet ends one week from Saturday. But this year's meet was actually a 35-day meet since the Columbus hosted 10 days of the State Fairgrounds' race meet before its regular campaign.

Albert said the extra days might have hurt the totals a little for his regular season.



Warren Albert
Pleased With Meet

"If we cut off our meet last Saturday after 25 days, then we would have been up almost 10 per cent (in mutuel handle)," Albert said. "Tuesday we did $184,000, which is almost $90,000 below average.

"It's tapering off a little and that big Labor Day weekend is now averaged into 35 days rather than 25 days. It's diluted a little more.

"But who can argue that it hurt us since we're still up seven per cent with 10 extra days," he continued. "You can only get so much water out of the well."

Through the first 26 days, the Columbus Races have handled $7,018,879 including $2,655,179 for the 10-day Lincoln meeting. The average handle is $269,956 compared with last year's final average for a 25-day meet of $252,561.08.

Albert estimated the final week of racing would handle $1,350,000.

Improvements Ahead

While the mutuel handle figures have continued to gain each year, Albert said the grandstand will be enlarged to accommodate the increased attendance.

A first drawing has already been made to add another 100 feet to the south end of the grandstand's existing stands. The exact layout has not been determined, however.

Albert said the first level might contain concession stands and rest rooms or it could contain additional mutuel windows or perhaps be used for storage.

"In any case, we'll definitely have it ready for next season," Albert said. "We hope to start work on it before the end of the month."

The price of the addition has not been decided, he added.

With the increase in this year's mutuel handle averages, the Columbus Races have boosted the minimum purse to $1,700. The season started with a $1,500 minimum.

"We use a current year structure so we have to make adjustments from time to time," Albert explained. "It just keeps getting bigger and bigger, but you have to wonder that somewhere along the line it has to level off. There has to be a limit.

"Fortunately, it still keeps going up," he said. "Last year, when we owed the horsemen money, we went for bigger stakes races. This year, we've gone on both ends (the stakesraces and the minimum races)."

Columbus Notes — Saturday's $4,000 Agricultural Park Handicap, a mile and 1/16th event for 3-year-olds, has attracted the Kansas City Racing Stable's Prairie Music and Les Horn's Ajic Jay. Ajic Jay, trained by Larry Staroscik, has been one of the top fillies on the Nebraska circuit this season and won her first test in Columbus and then finished third in a sprint. Others entered include Jetting Gene, Amie's Man, Speedmonger and Master Shad. The eighth race, a 6-furlong sprint, has lured the Bolark Stable's Amerix, one of the state's top sprinters.

Indiana's Flemming Back In Lineup

From News Wires

Sophomore middle guard Marlon Flemming returned to fulltime duty Wednesday as Indiana's football team concentrated on the game plan for the home opener against Nebraska Saturday.

Flemming, a 6-foot-2, 325-pounder from Evansville, missed the first two days of contact work this week after bruising his toe in last week's game at Minnesota, but will probably start against the Cornhuskers, coach Lee Corso said. Senior Danny Marr, who started at defensive tackle last week, and sophomore Steve Weissert have been working at middle guard in Flemming's absence.

Oklahoma State

Oklahoma State polished its kicking game in an 80-minute workout Thursday in preparation for Saturday's game with Arkansas.

"The kicking game and field position will be a very important part of the game," Coach Jim Stanley forecast.

In an effort to improve on coverage from last week's Tulsa game, Stanley moved wide receiver Les Hankins, who returned a punt for a touchdown two years ago against Arkansas, to punt returner.

Kansas

Three Kansas football players remain in doubtful condition for the Jayhawks' contest with Kentucky Saturday at Memorial Stadium, said Coach Bud Moore Thursday.

The three — defensive end Les Barnes, tight end Jim Michaels and reserve linebacker Tom Andalikiewicz — were injured in Kansas' 35-16 victory over Washington State last week.

Iowa State

Iowa State completed preparations for its non-conference game at Air Force on Saturday with a light, no-contact drill Thursday.

Coach Earle Bruce said the squad is healthy, except for defensive tackle Ron McFarland who underwent corrective knee surgery Wednesday and will be lost for the season.

Bruce said fullback Frank Cooper has been nursing a bruised shoulder this week but definitely will play Saturday, sharing time with Cal Cummins.

Kansas State

Kansas State will have to use its passing game to beat 11th-ranked Texas A&M Saturday at College Station, according to Wildcat Coach Ellis Rainsberger.

Second-team quarterback Duane Howard, who missed Wednesday's practice with the flu, was back at full strength Thursday.

Oklahoma

"This past week we have had the best practices of the year," Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer said Thursday as his Sooners prepared to meet California here this Saturday.

Oklahoma worked on all phases of California's game, which features superb quarterback Joe Roth.

"We tried to look at all of their alignments so we could recognize them when they come up to the line Saturday," Switzer said.

Pillen, Valasek May Miss Trip

The Nebraska football coaching staff will wait until Friday morning before deciding if two ailing Husker players will make the trip to Indiana.

Nebraska travels to Bloomington to meet coach Lee Corso's Hoosiers in a Saturday afternoon contest.

The two hurting Huskers are senior starting linebacker and co-captain Clete Pillen of Monroe and junior safety starter Larry Valasek of Silver Creek.

Assistant NU coach George Darlington said Pillen was hurt during Wednesday's non-contact scrimmage. He slipped on the AstroTurf and badly twisted an ankle. Valasek sustained an arm injury.

Making the trip will be senior I-back Dave Gillespie and junior wingback Curtis Craig. Both are sufficiently recovered from injuries that prevented them from making last Saturday's trip to LSU.

Two new names appear on the tentative travel roster for Indiana. They are sophomore quarterback Tom Sorley and junior defensive back Tim Fischer.

Congress Boosts Sports Taxation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress passed and sent to the President Thursday legislation which increases by millions of dollars the taxes paid by investors in professional sports franchises.

The measure also requires that any one who wins $1,000 on a single horse race bet or $5,000 lottery must pay a 20 per cent withholding tax immediately to the Internal Revenue Service.

Groups fostering national and international amateur sports competition such as the Amateur Athletic Union, can qualify as organizations which can receive tax-deductible contributions under the bill.

The provisions pertaining to sports are included in the general tax-tightening bill, which is expected to be signed into law by President Ford.

The Treasury stands to gain $9 million during the year starting Oct. 1, and up to $20 million annually by 1981, according to congressional staff members.

Under the terms of the bill, the amount allocatable to player contracts by a purchase of a sports franchise could not exceed the amount of the sales price allocated to these contracts by the seller.

There also would be a presumption that no more than half the price would be allocated to player contracts unless the taxpayer involved shows the government it is proper to allocate more than half the amount.

Furthermore, for tax purposes, there would be a system by which the government could recapture some of the tax benefits it had given in the past in the depreciation of player contracts.

Typically, congressional tax experts said, a buyer of sports teams tries to allocate as much as possible of the total purchase price of a franchise to the player contracts, since the cost of these may be depreciated over the useful life of the player.

For instance, a federal court case against the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League showed the team allocated 91 per cent of its purchase price to enter the league to player contracts. The court lowered the allocation to 36 per cent of the purchase price, a decision which the Falcons have under appeal.

There are many who believe the amendment against sports franchises is aimed at baseball for letting Bob Short, the former owner of the Washington Senators, move the team to Texas in 1971 and leaving Washington without a team.

Tax reform measures against professional teams have been discussed foryears on Capitol Hill, but three years ago, then-Rep. Joel Broyhill, R-Va., formally introduced the measure which soon will become law to the House Ways and Means Committee, of which he was a member.

Broyhill also was a member of the congressional ad hoc committee which unsuccessfully sought the return of baseball to the nation's capital.

The measure relating to gambling, which will become law 90 days after signed by the President, caught racing officials off guard, many of whom hadn't known that it was being considered.

"This is going to be devastating," said Arnold Kirkpatrick of the American Horse Council. "This is going to drive everybody right to the (illegal) bookies."

The amendment does not only apply to high-priced triples, exactas or other exotic wagers. If a gambler bets $500 on a winning 2-1 shot, $200 of his profits will be withheld at the cashier's window.

The withholding tax is something which the IRS has wanted for a long time. At present, the service makes bettors acknowledge winnings by filling out form 1099 when they collect a payoff of 300-1 or more. But this is an ineffective method. The IRS has no systematic way to compare the 1099 forms with the actual tax returns to make sure horseplayers are paying taxes on their winnings.

Linebackers Hewitt, Gibbens Bolster Southeast Defense

WILL HEWITT

By RANDY YORK
Prep Sports Writer

When Don Gibbens moved from Kansas City to Lincoln in seventh grade, he and Will Hewitt became immediate best friends.

The friendship continued through midget football, into Irving Junior High and now, as seniors at Lincoln Southeast, the two have reached a mutual goal.

"We've always wanted to start together at linebacker for the Knights," Hewitt says. "I've gotten some recognition, but Donny is just as good as I am. In fact, he's having a better year and I'm happy about it."

Southeast coach Frank Solich says: "There's no question about it. Those two are the best pair of linebacker's we've had in the nine years I've been at Southeast."

Solich raves about Hewitt's strength, speed, quickness and mental toughness. "There's not a better linebacker around," he says, "and if there is, it's probably Gibbens."

Intelligence may have a lot to do with both linebackers' ability. Gibbens ranks in the upper 4% of Southeast's senior class. Hewitt was on Southeast's honor roll both times last year and earned straight 1's the last semester.

Hewitt is a natural leader and a natural puon. At least one teammate calls him the devil. "When he puts on his uniform, his eyes get real big and he almost starts foaming at the mouth," halfback Larry Gilliland says. "I tell him: 'Will, you're the Devil.' "

It's fictional fun, an extension of the psycho game Hewitt takes toward football.

"Three of us (Hewitt, Gilliland and Steve Stromberg) went to "The Omen" together," Will said. "I worked for a trucking company this summer and got some identification decals for our team. The numbers of our jerseys are on the left rear bumpers of our cars."

When Will left for the movie, he asked his mother to neatly tape another 6 on the decal plastered to his 1970 green Buick.

"Larry and Steve saw that when we got home that night," Will says. "It scared them. They still haven't figured it out. It was a good practical joke. I'm glad my mother went along with it."

Hewitt neatly taped the extra 6 on his black jersey and wore it throughout Southeast's 25-0 conquest of Lincoln Northeast. He did not wear the extra 6 in last week's 20-20 tie with Fremont.

"The other 6 must be a good omen, not a bad one," Hewitt reasons. "We'll wear our white jerseys this week. I'm going to take a black magic marker to Ralston and put that other 6 on there."

Southeast may need Hewitt's omen to turn back fourth-rated Ralston Friday night on the road. In other Friday night games, Lincoln Northeast and Millard play at Seacrest Field, Pius X hosts McCook, East plays at Scottsbluff and Lincoln High visits Hastings.

Hewitt's shenanigans shouldn't be taken too seriously. His head in on straight spiritually as well as intellectually.

"Actually," he says, "the devil and I aren't very good friends. I try not to go along with him."

Hewitt is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and attended a conference in Colorado this summer. He helps lead Southeast's team in prayer before each game.

Last year, Hewitt led the city in tackles with 110. This year, since switching to strongside linebacker, the traffic isn't as heavy and he has only 20 tackles. He's been knocked off his feet once — on a double team block.

"To tell you straight," he says, "I don't think I'm playing all that well. I love to make tackles, but our whole defense is better this year and as long as we win, I don't care if I get any."

Hewitt was sidelined two weeks this fall after straining his right knee in a one-on-one drill.

His leg was weak, but his desire to play was stronger than ever. He cut his picture from the Sunday Journal and Star football edition and wrote a two-page letter to himself.

"I asked myself if I deserved this recognition," he relates. "I look at that and read it every day. It's self-motivation, a psychological game I play. So far, it's working."

Huskers, Hoosiers Improved; But An Easy NU Victory Seen

Huskers Will Romp

Indiana can't play defense like Louisiana State did last week against Nebraska and the Cornhuskers will roll up a convincing 35-7 victory over the Hoosiers Saturday afternoon in Bloomington.

Nebraska picked up 30 first downs to six and rushed for 300 yards to 69 against the Hoosiers here last season. The Huskers also had a 170-28 edge in passing yards. The Hoosiers may be improved (though I doubt it), but so is Nebraska.

Every rating system I've seen and every handicapper thinks the same way. Jimmy "The Greek" Snyder says NU by 22; Mort Olshan says NU 34-0; Herschel Nissenson of Associated Press says NU 38-0; Bill Madden of United Press International says NU 44-14; the AP's Fred Rothenberg, who earned a game ball from the Huskers by picking Indiana last season, says it'll be 35-7 this time — Huskers

I was one of few to pick Texas Tech over Colorado last week. This week, I like Washington over the Buffaloes because of hard-running Huskie backs Robin Earl and Ronnie Rowland. Colorado, however, is favored by professional oddsmakers.

I'm tempted to pick another upset — California over Oklahoma, but the Sooners have to be better than they looked against Vanderbilt. Texas A&M will beat Kansas State and Arkansas will stop Oklahoma State.

Make it Kansas over Kentucky, Missouri (no rollercoaster this time) over Illinois, and Iowa State over Air Force to round out the Big Eight schedule.

Ohio State Wins Again

Movies of Penn State's victory over Stanford last week show the Nittany Lions had 12 men on the field when they scored their winning touchdown. They'll need 12 throughout the game against Ohio State.

Michigan will stop Stanford, Michigan State will beat Wyoming, Syracuse over Iowa, Minnesota over Washington State, North Carolina over Northwestern, Wisconsin over North Dakota and Purdue to upset Notre Dame.

When Vince Gibson was at Kansas State he called the Wildcats the "Purple Pride" At Louisville, his Cardinals are the "Red Rage" but the only rage there is coming from irate fans. They wish they had Lee Corso back. Louisville will fall to Mississippi State. Later on, Gibson sends his team against such powers as Alabama, Pittsburgh, Memphis State and Tulsa. Maybe Corso will be available at the end of the season.

Georgia over Clemson, Florida over Houston, Vanderbilt over Wake Forest, LSU over Oregon State, and Mississippi over Tulane in other games involving Southeastern Conference teams. In the Atlantic Coast area, Duke over South Carolina,North Carolina State over East Carolina, Virginia over William & Mary and Maryland over West Virginia.

Texas, Alabama and Southern Cal will bounce back. It's Texas over North Texas State, Alabama over SMU, USC over Oregon, ULCA over Arizona, Baylor over Auburn, Rice over Utah, New Mexico State over Texas-Arlington, Long Beach State over Utah State, Texas-El Paso over New Mexico, San Diego State over Fresno State.

Also, Pacific over Idaho, San Jose State over Fullerton State, Colorado State over Brigham Young, Wichita State over West Texas State, Tulsa over Memphis State.

Both Miamis Will Win

Miami of Ohio will snap a two-game losing streak by beating Ball State while Miami of Florida will open with a warmup victory over Florida State The Hurricanes will be in Lincoln to play the Huskers in two weeks.

Nebraska's home opening foe, Texas Christian, will lose its second game when it goes to Tennessee in a battle matching a pair of good wide receivers — Mike Renfro of TCU and Larry Seivers of Tennessee.

Pittsburgh will roll over Georgia Tech while Texas A&I, last week's conqueror of Slippery Rock, will whip the Hawaii Rainbow Warriors

In the East, it's Army over Holy Cross, Yale over Brown, Rutgers over Bucknell, Navy over Connecticut, Princeton over Cornell, Dartmouth over Penn, Harvard over Columbia and Grambling over Temple

Some other picks: Cincinnati over Southwestern Louisiana, VMI over Appalachian State, Virginia Tech over Southern Mississippi, Western Michigan over Northern Illinois, Kent State over Ohio U., Arkansas State over Indiana State, Marshall over Illinois State, Southern Illinois over Drake, Eastern Michigan over Bowling Green, Central Michigan over Toledo, Dayton over Villanova.

Slippery Rock opens its home schedule by beating Millersville State of Pennsylvania to even its record at 1-1. The Rockets have another big game next week against C W Post, which faces Hofstra on Saturday

Nearing The End

Columbus — The Columbus Races have successfully escaped the "panic period."

"We've gone through the panic days. That's what I call the week after Labor Day, which historically has been our worst week," explained Columbus Races general manager Warren Albert.

"Now with the 15th of the month past and most people having gotten paid, we hope we'll do real good the last week," he added, "I figure we'll do a little better the last week this year than last year since everybody is trying to get their last licks in."

Warren Albert
Pleased With Meet

The 25-day Columbus meet ends one week from Saturday. But this year's meet was actually a 35-day meet since the Columbus hosted 10 days of the State Fairgrounds' race meet before its regular campaign.

Albert said the extra days might have hurt the totals a little for his regular season.

"If we cut off our meet last Saturday after 25 days, then we would have been up almost 10 per cent (in mutuel handle)," Albert said "Tuesday we did $184,000, which is almost $90,000 below average.

"It's tapering off a little and that big Labor Day weekend is now averaged into 35 days rather than 25 days. It's dilluted a little more.

"But who can argue that it hurt us since we're still up seven per cent with 10 extra days," he continued. "You can only get so much water out of the well."

Through the first 26 days, the Columbus Races have handled $7,018,879 including $2,655,179 for the 10-day Lincoln meeting. The average handle is $269,956 compared with last year's final average for a 25-day meet of $252,561.08.

Albert estimated the final week of racing would handle $1,350,000.

Improvements Ahead

While the mutuel handle figures have continued to gain each year, Albert said the grandstand will be enlarged to accommodate the increased attendance.

A first drawing has already been made to add another 100 feet to the south end of the grandstand's existing stands. The exact layout has not been determined, however.

Albert said the first level might contain concession stands and rest rooms or it could contain additional mutuel windows or perhaps be used for storage.

"In any case, we'll definitely have it ready for next season," Albert said. "We hope to start work on it before the end of the month."

The price of the addition has not been decided, he added.

With the increase in this year's mutuel handle averages, the Columbus Races have boosted the minimum purse to $1,700. The season started with a $1,500 minimum.

"We use a current year structure so we have to make adjustments from time to time," Albert explained. "It just keeps getting bigger and bigger, but you have to wonder that somewhere along the line it has to level off. There has to be a limit.

"Fortunately, it still keeps going up," he said. "Last year, when we owed the horsemen money, we went for bigger stakes races. This year, we've gone on both ends (the stakesraces and the minimum races)."

Columbus Notes — Saturday's $4,000 Agricultural Park Handicap, a mile and 1/16th event for 3-year-olds, has attracted the Kansas City Racing Stable's Prairie Music and Les Horn's Ajic Jay. Ajic Jay, trained by Larry Staroscik, has been one of the top fillies on the Nebraska circuit this season and won her first test in Columbus and then finished third in a sprint. Others entered include Jetting Gene, Amie's Man, Speedmonger and Master Shad. The eighth race, a 6-furlong sprint, has lured the Bolark Stable's Amerix, one of the state's top sprinters.

Indiana's Flemming Back In Lineup

From News Wires

Sophomore middle guard Marlon Flemming returned to fulltime duty Wednesday as Indiana's football team concentrated on the game plan for the home opener against Nebraska Saturday.

Flemming, a 6-foot-2, 325-pounder from Evansville, missed the first two days of contact work this week after bruising his toe in last week's game at Minnesota, but will probably start against the Cornhuskers, coach Lee Corso said. Senior Danny Marr, who started at defensive tackle last week, and sophomore Steve Weissert have been working at middle guard in Flemming's absence.

Oklahoma State

Oklahoma State polished its kicking game in an 80-minute workout Thursday in preparation for Saturday's game with Arkansas.

"The kicking game and field position will be a very important part of the game," Coach Jim Stanley forecast.

In an effort to improve on coverage from last week's Tulsa game, Stanley moved wide receiver Les Hankins, who returned a punt for a touchdown two years ago against Arkansas, to punt returner.

Kansas

Three Kansas football players remain in doubtful condition for the Jayhawks' contest with Kentucky Saturday at Memorial Stadium, said Coach Bud Moore Thursday.

Morning Briefing

Don Chaney
Multi-year Contract

Chaney Inks Pact With LA

The Los Angeles Lakers signed Don Chaney, considered one of the finest defensive guards in pro basketball, to a multi-year contract, filling the need of the "big guard" for which the faltering club has been searching.

Chaney, 30, a 6-5, 210-pounder, came to the Lakers as a free agent after playing last season with the now defunct Spirits of St. Louis in the ABA.

A first-round draft out of Houston in 1968, Chaney played seven seasons with Boston, helping the Celtics win two NBA and four division titles from 1969-75.

Other Basketball

Kevin Joyce has rejoiend the Indiana Pacers. Joyce, who played last season with the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA, played his first two seasons after graduation from South Carolina with Indiana.

A recommendation to adopt the use of a third referee for the 1976-77 NBA season was voted down by the league's board of governors.

Football

Kicker Bennie Ricardo has been signed by the Buffalo Bills of the NFL to replace John Leypoldt, the club announced. Ricardo, waived by the Detroit Lions, kicked a 47-yard field goal against the Bills in a preseason game.

The St. Louis Cardinals will be without the services of middle linebacker Greg Hartle when they take on the Green Bay Packers Sunday. Hartle suffered a knee injury, but the team doesn't know yet if it will require surgery.

The Miami Dolphins gained an injunction to prevent Miami from locking them out of the Orange Bowl for the home opener Sept. 26. Miami wants the Dolphins to pay $50,000 more than they have in past years. The Dolphins contend that since it is a public facility and that the city can't charge one price for playoff games, championship games and college games and another for the Dolphins. The Dolphins have been paying $22,222 and the city now wants $75,000.

Marshall University officials voted to accept Morehead State's offer to forfeit its 31-14 season-opening victory over the Thundering Herd. Morehead used an ineligible player unknowingly and then offered the forfeit.

Baseball

Long-time sportscaster Bob Prince and former major leaguer Norm Cash, the announcers for ABC's Monday night baseball this season, will not be on hand for the league playoffs, the network said. "We greatly appreciate their time and effort involved in Monday night baseball, but they didn't fit into our playoff plans," a spokesman said. "We are striving to improve the quality of our telecasts."

If a National League Eastern Division playoff game is necessary, in the event of a tie between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at the close of the regular season, it will be played Oct. 5, at Philadelphia and will be a night game. The site was determined by a coin flip.

Jose Morales of Montreal set a pair of pinch-hitting records when he hit a three-run double against Chicago. It was his 25th successful pinch-hit and his 74th appearance of the season. Dave Philley of Baltimore set the mark of 24 hits in 1961 and Vic Davalillo, who set the mark of 73 appearances in 1970 also had equalled the 24 hit mark.

Right-hander Ken Sanders was sold to the Kansas City Royals by the New York Mets. Sanders will report to the Royals' in time for Friday night's game against Chicago.

Miller Peps South Win

Omaha — Class A's second ranked Omaha South clobbered Council Bluffs 29-14 Thursday night at Berquist Stadium.

South quarterback Tom Miller led his team connecting on 10 of 20 passes for 263 yards including a 70-yard scoring pass to Kelly Swotek.

Other South scores came on one-yard runs by Dave Patlin, Jean Montes and Miller. Kicker Roy Bravo added a 25-yard field goal and two extra points for South, now 3-0.

Elmwood Gains Mudecas Title

Bennet — Top-seeded Elmwood won the Class A title of the Mudecas Volleyball Tournament here Thursday, but unseeded Elk Creek won four straight games in the tourney to claim the Class B title.

Elmwood's Lorie Lannin, Janet Bornemeier, and Susan Backemeyer all contributed sparkling net play and each blocked Lewiston spikes in the 15-9, 15-2 win over the second-seeded team.

Unseeded Elk Creek had to play just to get into the eight-team bracket, but Kathy Rinne contributed 10 points in the first set and Deb Bartels added nine in the second set in Elk Creek's 15-1, 15-11 win over Table Rock.

The Class A consolation game was won by Dawson-Verdon, with a 16-14, 15-13 victory over Murdock. Class B third-place honors went to Barneston with a 7-15, 15-4, 15-10 win over Odell.

French Cyclist Killed In Wreck

Le Mans, France (UPI) — Frenchman Gilbert Lavelle was killed instantly Thursday in an accident practice for Saturday's "Bol D'or" 24 hours motorcycle endurance race on the Bugatti circuit at Le Mans.

Levalle lost control of his 1000 cc Kawasaki machine on a fast bend known as the bull road shortly after trials began.

Unknowns Leading Kings

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (UPI) — Don Pooley and Danny Edwards fired four-under-par 66s to lead a charge of unknowns overshadowing the likes of Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino in Thursday's opening round of the $150,000 Kings Island Open.

Pooley, a 25-year-old PGA Tour rookie from Riverside, Calif., who has never finished higher than 46th in a tournament, shot the best round of his career to tie Edwards for the first day lead.

"Sure I'm an unknown," laughed the University of Arizona graduate. "People are going to read about me leading the tournament and they're going to wonder who I am."

Edwards, 25, from Edmond, Okla., played bogey-free golf in matching his previous best round ever. In his second year on the tour, the mustachioed youngster's best previous finish was a tie for 15th at the Jacksonville Open.

"I haven't been playing well, but I am now, and I feel I can even improve on it," said Edwards. "I want to get in position to be in contention going into the final round."

Way back in the pack was the favored Nicklaus, who designed the Jack Nicklaus Golf Center layout where the tourney is being played. He won the event's inaugural three years ago.

"I didn't have much of a round," shrugged Nicklaus, five strokes back with a 71. "I had 17 pars, one bogey and no birdies. That was about it. It wasn't very exciting."

Trevino fared worse than Nicklaus, shooting a three-over-par 73.

Tops among the "name" players was Gay Brewer, with a three-under 67. Tom Weiskopf, who hasn't won a tourney this year, had a 69, and Ben Crenshaw, who had a brilliant 65 to win Wednesday's pro-am, shot a 69.

Pirates Topple Phillies

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates climbed to within four games of the front-running Philadelphia Phillies in the National League East by beating the Phils 7-6 Thursday night as Rennie Stennett's run-scoring double drove home pinch-runner Miguel Dilone with the winning run in the ninth inning.

The Pirates took an early 5-0 lead, but after a rain delay of one hour 22 minutes, Philadelphia tied it 6-6 in the seventh on a two-run single by Bob Boone.

In the Pirates ninth, leadoff man Duffy Dyer was hit by a pitch by Phils reliever Ron Reed and Dilone came in as a pinch-runner. He moved to second on a sacrfifice bunt by Omar Moreno. After pinch-hitter Ed Kirkpatrick flied out, Stennett stroked his game-winning double.

In other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, the New York Mets topped the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1, the Montreal Expos edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 and the Atlanta Braves beat the Houston Astros 5-3.

In American League action, the Boston Red Sox shaded the Milwaukee Brewers 4-3 and the Texas Rangers trimmed the Chicago White Sox 5-4. The New York Yankees at Cleveland Indians was rained out.

Don Gullett, 9-3, scattered seven hits as the Reds reduced their magic number for clinching the NL West title to four. Any combination of four Cincinnati victories or Los Angeles losses will give the Reds the crown.

Jerry Koosman became the National League's second 20-game winner by beating St. Louis. He gave up just four hits and struck out a career-high 13 batters in raising his record to 20-8 and joining San Diego's Randy Jones at the 20-victory level.

Pinch-hitter Jose Morales' three-run double in the seventh inning was the big blow for Montreal. It was Morales' 25th safety in his 74th pinch-hitting appearace of the season, both major league records.

Jim Wynn tied the score with a pinch-hit homer and then Dave May belted a two-run triple as the Braves rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to beat Houston.

East, LSE Tie In Relay

A win in the final event helped the Lincoln Southeast girls swimming team earn a tie with East Thursday night in the annual Public Schools Girls swimming relays meet at East High.

East and Southeast swept all the first and second places in the four team meet, LSE winning five and East winning five, and all the wins were in record times.

In the five events East won LSE took second place while the opposite held true also. Lincoln Northeast nipped Lincoln High for third place in the four-school meet.

Morning Briefing

Chaney Inks Pact With LA

Don Chaney
Multi-year Contract

The Los Angeles Lakers signed Don Chaney, considered one of the finest defensive guards in pro basketball to a multi-year contract filling the need of the 'big guard' for which the faltering club has been searching

Chaney 30 a 6-5 210-pounder came to the Lakers as a free agent after playing last season with the now defunct Spirits of St. Louis in the ABA

A first-round draft out of Houston in 1968, Chaney played seven seasons with Boston, helping the Celtics win two NBA and four division titles from 1969-75

Other Basketball

Kevin Joyce has rejoiend the Indiana Pacers. Joyce, who played last season with the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA, played his first two seasons after graduation from South Carolina with Indiana

A recommendation to adopt the use of a third referee for the 1976-77 NBA season was voted down by the league's board of governors

Football

Kicker Bennie Ricardo has been signed by the Buffalo Bills of the NFL to replace John Leypoldt, the club announced Ricardo, waived by the Detroit Lions, kicked a 47-yard field goal against the Bills in a preseason game

The St Louis Cardinals will be without the services of middle linebacker Greg Hartle when they take on the Green Bay Packers Sunday Hartle suffered a knee injury but the team doesn't know yet if it will require surgery

The Miami Dolphins gained an injunction to prevent Miami from locking them out of the Orange Bowl for the home opener Sept 26 Miami wants the Dolphins to pay $50,000 more than they have in past years The Dolphins contend that since it is a public facility and that the city can't charge one price for playoff games, championship games and college games and another for the Dolphins The Dolphins have been paying $22,222 and the city now wants $75,000

Marshall University officials voted to accept Morehead State's offer to forfeit its 31-14 season-opening victory over the Thundering Herd Morehead used an ineligible player unknowingly and then offered the forfeit

Baseball

Long-time sportscaster Bob Prince and former major leaguer Norm Cash, the announcers for ABC's Monday night baseball this season, will not be on hand for the league playoffs, the network said "We greatly appreciate their time and effort involved in Monday night baseball, but they didn't fit into our playoff plans," a spokesman said "We are striving to improve the quality of our telecasts"

If a National League Eastern Division playoff game is necessary, in the event of a tie between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at the close of the regular season, it will be played Oct 5, at Philadelphia and will be a night game. The site was determined by a coin flip

Jose Morales of Montreal set a pair of pinch-hitting records when he hit a three-run double against Chicago It was his 25th successful pinch-hit and his 74th appearance of the season Dave Philley of Baltimore set the mark of 24 hits in 1961 and Vic Davalillo, who set the mark of 73 appearances in 1970 also had equalled the 24 hit mark.

Miller Peps South Win

Omaha — Class A's second ranked Omaha South clobbered Council Bluffs 29-14 Thursday night at Berquist Stadium

South quarterback Tom Miller led his team connecting on 10 of 20 passes for 263 yards including a 70-yard scoring pass to Kelly Swotek

Other South scores came on one-yard runs by Dave Patlin, Jean Montes and Miller Kicker Roy Bravo added a 25-yard field goal and two extra points for South now 3-0

Rick Pesek was the leading receiver for South with 133 yards on four catches while Swotek grabbed two passes for 80 yards

Elmwood Gains Mudecas Title

Bennet — Top-seeded Elmwood won the Class A title of the Mudecas Volleyball Tournament here Thursday, but unseeded Elk Creek won four straight games in the tourney to claim the Class B title

Elmwood's Lorie Lannin, Janet Bornemeier, and Susan Backemeyer all contributed sparkling net play and each blocked Lewiston spikes in the 15-9, 15-2 win over the second-seeded team

Unseeded Elk Creek had to play just to get into the eight-team bracket, but Kathy Rinne contributed 10 points in the first set and Deb Bartels added nine in the second set in Elk Creek's 15-1, 15-11 win over Table Rock.

The Class A consolation game was won by Dawson-Verdon, with a 16-14, 15-13 victory over Murdock Class B third-place honors went to Barneston with a 7-15 15-4 15-10 win over Odell

French Cyclist Killed In Wreck

Le Mans, France (UPI) — Frenchman Gilbert Lavelle was killed instantly Thursday in an accident practice for Saturday's "Bol D'or" 24 hours motorcycle endurance race on the Bugatti circuit at Le Mans

Levalle lost control of his 1000 cc Kawasaki machine on a fast bend known as the bull road shortly after trials began

Unknowns Leading Kings

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (UPI) — Don Pooley and Danny Edwards fired four-under-par 68s to lead a charge of unknowns overshadowing the likes of Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino in Thursday's opening round of the $150,000 Kings Island Open

Pooley, a 25-year-old PGA Tour rookie from Riverside, Calif., who has never finished higher than 46th in a tournament, shot the best round of his career to tie Edwards for the first day lead.

"Sure I'm an unknown," laughed the University of Arizona graduate. "People are going to read about me leading the tournament and they're going to wonder who I am."

Edwards, 25, from Edmond, Okla., played bogey-free golf in matching his previous best round ever. In his second year on the tour, the mustachioed youngster's best previous finish was a tie for 15th at the Jacksonville Open.

"I haven't been playing well, but I am now, and I feel I can even improve on it," said Edwards. "I want to get in position to be in contention going into the final round."

Way back in the pack was the favored Nicklaus, who designed the Jack Nicklaus Golf Center layout where the tourney is being played. He won the event's inaugural three years ago.

"I didn't have much of a round," shrugged Nicklaus, five strokes back with a 71. "I had 17 pars, one bogey and no birdies. That was about it. It wasn't very exciting."

Trevino fared worse than Nicklaus, shooting a three-over-par 73.

Tops among the "name" players was Gay Brewer, with a three-under 67. Tom Weiskopf, who hasn't won a tourney this year, had a 69, and Ben Crenshaw, who had a brilliant 65 to win Wednesday's pro-am, shot a 69.

Pirates Topple Phillies

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates climbed to within four games of the front-running Philadelphia Phillies in the National League East by beating the Phils 7-6 Thursday night as Rennie Stennett's run-scoring double drove home pinch-runner Miguel Dilone with the winning run in the ninth inning.

The Pirates took an early 5-0 lead, but after a rain delay of one hour 22 minutes, Philadelphia tied it 6-6 in the seventh on a two-run single by Bob Boone.

In the Pirates ninth, leadoff man Duffy Dyer was hit by a pitch by Phils reliever Ron Reed and Dilone came in as a pinch-runner. He moved to second on a sacrfifice bunt by Omar Moreno. After pinch-hitter Ed Kirkpatrick flied out, Stennett stroked his game-winning double.

In other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, the New York Mets topped the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1, the Montreal Expos edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 and the Atlanta Braves beat the Houston Astros 5-3.

In American League action, the Boston Red Sox shaded the Milwaukee Brewers 4-3 and the Texas Rangers trimmed the Chicago White Sox 5-4. The New York Yankees at Cleveland Indians was rained out.

Don Gullett, 9-3, scattered seven hits as the Reds reduced their magic number for clinching the NL West title to four. Any combination of four Cincinnati victories or Los Angeles losses will give the Reds the crown.

Jerry Koosman became the National League's second 20-game winner by beating St. Louis. He gave up just four hits and struck out a career-high 13 batters in raising his record to 20-8 and joining San Diego's Randy Jones at the 20-victory level.

Pinch-hitter Jose Morales' three-run double in the seventh inning was the big blow for Montreal. It was Morales' 25th safety in his 74th pinch-hitting appearace of the season, both major league records.

Jim Wynn tied the score with a pinch-hit homer and then Dave May belted a two-run triple as the Braves rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to beat Houston.

East, LSE Tie In Relay

A win in the final event helped the Lincoln Southeast girls swimming team earn a tie with East Thursday night in the annual Public Schools Girls swimming relays meet at East High.

East and Southeast swept all the first and second places in the four team meet, LSE winning five and East winning five, and all the wins were in record times

In the five events East won LSE took second place while the opposite held true also. Lincoln Northeast nipped Lincoln High for third place in the four-school meet.

Top Two Face Tough Tests

By United Press International

Top-ranked Ohio State and No. 2 Michigan should sip the heady wine of success while they can because there's a chance they won't be chug-alugging after Saturday's football games.

Ohio State beat Penn State for the first time in five tries last year, 17-9, but the revenge bent seventh-ranked Nittany Lions, a nine-point underdog, have the home field advantage this season.

Michigan, after trying to impress President Ford that the Wolverines really are No. 1 in the nation during a publicity workout Wednesday, is a 13-point choice over Stanford, a 15-12 loser to Penn State last week.

Penn State's Joe Paterno, who ranks fourth to Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes in winning percentage among the major coaches who have been active the last five years, says he's been handed a one-two punch for his first two weeks of the season.

"We go from what may well be the best passing game in the country (Stanford) to what has to be one of the best running attacks in the country," Paterno said.

Penn State counters with freshman Matt Suhey, who rushed for 119 yards against Stanford.

Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler agrees with Paterno that Stanford "possesses the finest passing team in college football" and feels his Wolverines could be in trouble, especially after Wisconsin penetrated their defense last week for 268 yards passing.

"Stanford is the sleeper team on the west coast," says Schembechler, preparing for a possible setback.

In other Saturday games involving top ranked teams, third-ranked UCLA is home to Arizona, fourth-ranked Pittsburgh plays at Georgia Tech, No. 5 Oklahoma entertains California, sixth-rated Missouri takes on visiting Illinois, No. 8 Nebraska is at Indiana, ninth rated Georgia travels to Clemson and No. 10 Texas A&M meets host Kansas State.

Pittsburgh All-America Tony Dorsett, making a strong bid for the Heisman Trophy that eluded him when Ohio State's Archie Griffin won the honor the last two years, is the fourth leading rusher in the nation on the basis of his 181 yards in Pitt's upset of Notre Dame last Saturday. He is expected to continue his awesome ground attack against Georgia Tech.

Dorsettt has now rushed for 4,315 career and is only 863 yards shy of Griffin's total of 5,177.

Deeter, Sasse Lead Huskers

Omaha — Jane Deeter and Rennie Sasse led the University of Nebraska golf teams to wins here Thursday at the Applewood Golf Course over Creighton in the women's dual and Creighton and UNO in the men's triangular.

Deeter shot a one-over-par 77 to sweep medalist honors and lead NU to a 341-369 win over Creighton. She was nine shots ahead of second-place finisher Cathy Morrissey of Nebraska with an 86. Creighton's Theresa Wanek fired an 88 to lead the Bluejays.

Other NU golfers included Sharon Slattery 89, Laurel Smedberg 89, Nan Circo 90 and Mimi Huston 93.

Sasse fired a 69 to take medalist honors in the men's triangular. NU won with 292, while UNO was second with 310 and Creighton had 318. Creighton's Kerry Zuegner was second with 72.

Nebraska's Rick Reynolds and Jim Julian tied for third with 73s, while Tony Pesavento fired a 77 and Randy Sock shot an 83.

Beatrice Tops LNE Spikers

The Beatrice girls volleyball team roared to a strong win in the third set to top Lincoln Northeast 15-9, 12-15, 15-4 Thursday night at Lincoln Northeast.

LNE, now 1-2, was paced by the 11 serving points of Cindy Suzama. The Rockettes will host Lincoln High in a match Tuesday.

Three Cal Grid Players Arrested

DALLAS (AP) — Three University of California football players were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct early Thursday after police said a woman complained that she was harassed in a bar.

The three were identified by police as linebacker Peter Anthony Sitta of San Diego and defensive back Wade Allan Johnson and fullback Paul Kent Jones, both of San Jose, Calif. Johnson also was charged with theft and escape, according to police records. All posted bond and were released after their coach, Mike White, went to the Dallas jail.

The team was in Dallas working out in preparation for Saturday's game with Oklahoma, in Norman, Okla. The team left by bus for Norman later Thursday.

Two other persons were also arrested in the incident.

Dave Maggard, California athletic director, later confirmed that Sitta, Johnson and Jones had been arrested and released on bail.

"All players are with the team," he said upon his arrival in Oklahoma City.

Maggard said White would take disciplinary action against the players involved at some time in the future, but he did not know what the action would be or when it would be taken.

"The entire incident is unfortunate ," Maggard said. "I think at this point the matter is closed and we are preparing to play Oklahoma." he said.

Reds' Anderson Confident Zachry Will Win Award

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pat Zachry's best pitches are nonpolitical. He is leaving the rookie of the year campaigning up to Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson, whose personal poll projects a tight two-way race.

"It's between Pat and Butch Metzger of San Diego," said Anderson after Zachry boosted his record to 13-5 Wednesday night, becoming the first pitcher to defeat the Los Angeles Dodgers five times in a season since Juan Marichal performed the feat in 1969.

"Zack can win it if he wins three of his last four starts. If he wins all four, it's a lock," said Anderson of his prize 24-year-old rookie right-hander.

Anderson says Metzger, a bullpen specialist with a league-leading 11-2 record, stands to benefit from the underdog syndrome. "Some people think that a pitcher who wins 10 games on a losing team is special. Well, I say it is easy to pitch on a losing team. The pressure isn't there. Over here, you have to win."

Surprisingly, Zachry was destined for the bullpen until Anderson decided to test his mettle. "I tell my coaches early that before we go any farther, I want to find out what the kids can do." Zachry responded with a 5-1 start.

With an earned run average which has ranked among the lowest in the league all season, Zachry is bidding to become the first Reds pitcher to win the award since its inception 30 years ago. The last Cincinnati player to win National League rookie honors was catcher Johnny Bench, at age 19, in 1967.

Another top candidate is 21-year-old Dodger starter Rick Rhoden, who is 12-3. But elbow miseries have sidelined him, dimming his chances. Another Cincinnati rookie, 6-foot-7 right-hander Santo Alcala, has an 11-3 record, but a shaky 4.53 earned run average pales next to Zachry's statistics.

Zachry's 5-0 performance against the Dodgers includes a 9-0 shutout, along with 3-1 and 4-1 victories. His ERA against the Dodgers is a miniscule 1.34 over 41 innings.

A year ago, the Waco, Tex. native led the Class AAA American Association with a 2.44 ERA.

A 19th round draft choice of the Reds in 1970, Zachry is a believer in the minor league system. "I was upset at first over being a low draft choice. I guess I had visions of a big bonus."

He settled for a "little bitty one" after his relations with the Reds got off to a rocky start. When the Cincinnati scout came to sign him, "the guy made an offer and my father started hollering at him, saying it was too low. I was a little worried," said Zachry.

Now he is convinced that bonuses undermine incentive. "Personally I don't think anyone should get bonuses. I know a lot of top draft choices ahead of me who never made it because of money," he said.

Rowan Wins Senior Title

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Larry Rowan of Lincoln shot a five-over par 77 Thursday to win the Nebraska Senior Golf Tournament with a three-round 225 at Lochland Country Club here.

In second place was Lincolnite Ben Cowdery, who shot 79 for total of 228.

There was a three-way tie for third place at 231: Jack Hoerner of Southbury, Conn., shot 80 Thursday, Don Eisenhart of Omaha, 78 and Fred Marconnit of Norfolk, 82.

In the 50 to 54 age division Don Bridge of Norfolk shot 85 to finish at 236.

Rowan, the tournament champion, led the 55 to 59 age division, while Hoerner led the 60 to 64 and Cowder the 65 to 69 age division.

In the 70 to 74 bracket, C.K. Buck of Wilber led with 83 and a total 258. In the 80 and over Carl Bolt of Schuyler, who shot 110 Thursday, and C.H. Hosler of Fullerton, who shot 111, tied at 326.

Pisarkiewicz Tops Big Eight Offense

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI) — Because his hand had been cut by a glass while taking out the garbage last week, Missouri quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz had to wear a special bandage in last Saturday's 46-25 win over Southern California.

And despite damp weather, which constantly caused the bandage to come loose, Pisarkiewicz was awesome in guiding the Tigers attack as he hit nine of 16 passes for 171 yards and three touchdowns.

Based on that performance, Pisarkiewicz is leading the Big Eight in passing with 171 yards and total offense with 170 yards.

He is not the only Tiger leading the league in statistics. Joe Stewart tops the league with four receptions and Curtis Brown tops the Big Eight in both scoring with 18 points and all-purpose running with 245 yards.

Laverne Smith of Kansas, who is just 268 yards short of John Riggins' school career rushing record, leads the Big Eight in rushing with an average of 114.5 yards in the Jayhawks first two games. And even more impressive, he is averaging 7.4 yards a carry, the highest average of any league regular.

For the last three years, Cliff Parsley of Oklahoma State, who walked on at the Stillwater school, has led the Big Eight in punting and he is maintaining that edge this year, having averaged 43.8 yards a kick so far.

Other individual statistic leaders are Jerry Anderson of Oklahoma who is averaging 14.5 yards a punt return; Harold Bailey of Oklahoma State who is averaging 25 yards a kickoff return; Jerry Jaksich of Iowa State who has returned his lone interception 46 yards and Kansas State's Bill Sinovic who has connected on both his field goal attempts, including a school record 58-yarder.

Lions Activate OSU's Pierson

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI) — Wide receiver J. D. Hill was placed on the injured reserve list Thursday by the Detroit Lions, who reactivated defensive back Reggie Pierson of Oklahoma State to replace him on the roster.

Hill, obtained from Buffalo for a first-round draft choice this summer, underwent knee surgery earlier this week and will be lost for the season. He suffered an injury after catching a two-yard pass for Detroit in its season-opening 10-3 loss to the Chicago Bears.

Pierson, 23, is a 5-foot-11, 185-pound free agent who was one of the Lions' last cuts. He played free safety in two exhibition games and intercepted a pass.

Senate Approves Olympic Money

Washington (UPI) — The Senate approved and sent to the White House Thursday compromise legislation authorizing $49 million to build facilities for the 1980 Winter Olympics in Lake Placid, N.Y.

The bill, approved by voice vote, would authorize money for the construction of a field house, ski jumps, skating areas, housing, a winter sports arena, a luge run, a scoreboard and other facilities.

Top Two Face Tough Tests

By United Press International

Top-ranked Ohio State and No. 2 Michigan should sip the beady wine of success while they can because there's a chance they won't be chug-alugging after Saturday's football games.

Ohio State beat Penn State for the first time in five tries last year, 17-9, but the revenge bent seventh-ranked Nittany Lions, a nine-point underdog, have the home field advantage this season.

Michigan, after trying to impress President Ford that the Wolverines really are No. 1 in the nation during a publicity workout Wednesday, is a 13-point choice over Stanford, a 15-12 loser to Penn State last week

Penn State's Joe Paterno, who ranks fourth to Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes in winning percentage among the major coaches who have been active the last five years, says he's been handed a one-two punch for his first two weeks of the season.

"We go from what may well be the best passing game in the country (Stanford) to what has to be one of the best running attacks in the country," Paterno said.

Ohio State mauled Michigan State last week with a 463-yard ground attack. Tailback Jeff Logan contributed 112 yards and two touchdowns in the game, while 250-pound fullback Pete Johnson ran for 99 yards and two scores.

Penn State counters with freshman Matt Suhey, who rushed for 119 yards against Stanford.

Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler agrees with Paterno that Stanford "possesses the finest passing team in college football" and feels his Wolverines could be in trouble, especially after Wisconsin penetrated their defense last week for 268 yards passing.

"Stanford is the sleeper team on the west coast," says Schembechler, preparing for a possible setback.

In other Saturday games involving top ranked teams, third-ranked UCLA is home to Arizona, fourth-ranked Pittsburgh plays at Georgia Tech, No 5 Oklahoma entertains California, sixth-rated Missouri takes on visiting Illinois, No. 8 Nebraska is at Indiana, ninth rated Georgia travels to Clemson and No. 10 Texas A&M meets host Kansas State.

Pittsburgh All-America Tony Dorsett, making a strong bid for the Heisman Trophy that eluded him when Ohio State's Archie Griffin won the honor the last two years, is the fourth leading rusher in the nation on the basis of his 181 yards in Pitt's upset of Notre Dame last Saturday. He is expected to continue his awesome ground attack against Georgia Tech.

Dorsettt has now rushed for 4,315 career and is only 863 yards shy of Griffin's total of 5,177.

Deeter, Sasse Lead Huskers

Omaha — Jane Deeter and Rennie Sasse led the University of Nebraska golf teams to wins here Thursday at the Applewood Golf Course over Creighton in the women's dual and Creighton and UNO in the men's triangular.

Deeter shot a one-over-par 77 to sweep medalist honors and lead NU to a 341-369 win over Creighton. She was nine shots ahead of second-place finisher Cathy Morrissey of Nebraska with an 86. Creighton's Theresa Wanek fired an 88 to lead the Bluejays.

Other NU golfers included Sharon Slattery 89, Laurel Smedberg 89, Nan Circo 90 and Mimi Huston 93.

Sasse fired a 69 to take medalist honors in the men's triangular NU won with 292, while UNO was second with 310 and Creighton had 318. Creighton's Kerry Zuegner was second with 72

Nebraska's Rick Reynolds and Jim Julian tied for third with 73s, while Tony Pesavento fired a 77 and Randy Sock shot an 83.

Beatrice Tops LNE Spikers

The Beatrice girls volleyball team roared to a strong win in the third set to top Lincoln Northeast 15-9, 12-15, 15-4 Thursday night at Lincoln Northeast.

LNE, now 1-2, was paced by the 11 serving points of Cindy Suzama. The Rockettes will host Lincoln High in a match Tuesday.

Pisarkiewicz Tops Big Eight Offense

Kansas City, Mo (UPI) — Because his hand had been cut by a glass while taking out the garbage last week, Missouri quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz had to wear a special bandage in last Saturday's 46-25 win over Southern California

And despite damp weather, which constantly caused the bandage to come loose, Pisarkiewicz was awesome in guiding the Tigers attack as he hit nine of 16 passes for 171 yards and three touchdowns

Based on that performance, Pisarkiewicz is leading the Big Eight in passing with 171 yards and total offense with 170 yards

He is not the only Tiger leading the league in statistics Joe Stewart tops the league with four receptions and Curtis Brown tops the Big Eight in both scoring with 18 points and all-purpose running with 245 yards

Laverne Smith of Kansas, who is just 268 yards short of John Riggins school career rushing record, leads the Big Eight in rushing with an average of 114 5 yards in the Jayhawks first two games And even more impressive, he is averaging 7 4 yards a carry, the highest average of any league regular

For the last three years Cliff Parsley of Oklahoma State, who walked on at the Stillwater school has led the Big Eight in punting and he is maintaining that edge this year having averaged 43 8 yards a kick so far

Other individual statistic leaders are Jerry Anderson of Oklahoma who is averaging 14 5 yards a punt return, Harold Bailey of Oklahoma State who is averaging 25 yards a kickoff return, Jerry Jaksich of Iowa State who has returned his lone interception 46 yards and Kansas State s Bill Sinovic who has connected on both his field goal attempts, including a school record 58-yarder

Lions Activate OSU's Pierson

PONTIAC, Mich (UPI) — Wide receiver J D Hill was placed on the injured reserve list Thursday by the Detroit Lions who reactivated defensive back Reggie Pierson of Oklahoma State to replace him on the roster

Hill, obtained from Buffalo for a first-round draft choice this summer, underwent knee surgery earlier this week and will be lost for the season He suffered an injury after catching a two-yard pass for Detroit in its season-opening 10-3 loss to the Chicago Bears

Pierson, 23, is a 5-foot-11, 185-pound free agent who was one of the Lions' last cuts He played free safety in two exhibition games and intercepted a pass

Senate Approves Olympic Money

Washington (UPI) — The Senate approved and sent to the White House Thursday compromise legislation authorizing $49 million to build facilities for the 1980 Winter Olympics in Lake Placid N Y

The bill approved by voice vote would authorize money for the construction of a field house, ski jumps skating areas, housing, a winter sports arena a luge run, a scoreboard and other facilities

Second Unit Delay Suggested At Fort Calhoun

Omaha (AP) — The president of the Omaha Public Power District (OPPD) brought up the possibility Thursday of a delay in the construction of a second unit at the district's Fort Calhoun Nuclear Station.

"For some time I have been concerned with the timing of the construction of a second nuclear unit at the Fort Calhoun Station and the financial impact it will have on OPPD customers," said Richard Dugdale in a letter to OPPD general manager Ralph Shaw.

Dugdale noted that the licensing function of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission has been temporarily suspended, and that the district's peak loads have fallen short of projections.

Dugdale said he believes a reassessment of the new unit's construction schedule is warranted.

"The fact that the planned sale of 20 per cent of the unit's output to Nebraska municipal utilities did not materialize provides us with increased flexibility in scheduling the completion of this unit," Dugdale wrote.

Dugdale said a reassessment of the schedule could possibly allow more time for engineering and construction, which would in turn increase efficiency and save money for OPPD customers.

Dugdale said he personally feels that the completion of the unit, now slated for 1983, could be delayed two years.

Other members of the OPPD generally agreed with Dugdale, but there was no formal vote on the issue.

The largest contract went to the Martin K. Eby Construction Co. of Omaha. It is worth $9,650,000, and calls for the construction of the cooling water intake structure at the new Nebraska City Station.

Other contracts approved included:

—The McArdle Grading Co., Elkhorn, Neb., $155,000 for grading at the West Omaha operation headquarters.

—The Westinghouse Electric Corp., $65,907 for the purchase of four relay terminals, all for use in Omaha.

House Committee Passes Revised Employment Bill

Washington (UPI) — A House committee Thursday approved a version of the Humphrey-Hawkins "Full Employment" bill revised to bring it closer to the views of candidate Jimmy Carter and to answer critics.

The House Education and Labor Committee voted, 24 to 6, to urge the Rules Committee, which schedules bills for House action, to make it a "first order of business."

The bill may figure in debates between Carter, who endorsed it guardedly, and President Ford, who called it "a vast, election year boondoggle."

But most observers gave it no chance of passing Congress this year, and if it did, Ford would veto it.

The revised bill would set a national goal to reduce unemployment among persons aged 20 and over to 3% within four years.

That would correspond to just under 4%, counting everyone 16 and over, the way the Labor Department reports unemployment, which was 7.9% in August.

An earlier House version — about which Carter expressed reservations because of cost and possible inflationary aspects — would have applied the 3% goal to everyone 16 and over.

Second Unit Delay Suggested At Fort Calhoun

Omaha (AP) — The president of the Omaha Public Power District (OPPD) brought up the possibility Thursday of a delay in the construction of a second unit at the district's Fort Calhoun Nuclear Station.

"For some time I have been concerned with the timing of the construction of a second nuclear unit at the Fort Calhoun Station and the financial impact it will have on OPPD customers," said Richard Dugdale in a letter to OPPD general manager Ralph Shaw.

Dugdale noted that the licensing function of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission has been temporarily suspended, and that the district's peak loads have fallen short of projections.

Dugdale said he believes a reassessment of the new unit's construction schedule is warranted.

"The fact that the planned sale of 20 per cent of the unit's output to Nebraska municipal utilities did not materialize provides us with increased flexibility in scheduling the completion of this unit," Dugdale wrote.

Dugdale said a reassessment of the schedule could possibly allow more time for engineering and construction, which would in turn increase efficiency and save money for OPPD customers.

Dugdale said he personally feels that the completion of the unit, now slated for 1983, could be delayed two years.

Other members of the OPPD generally agreed with Dugdale, but there was no formal vote on the issue.

However, Dugdale did formally request management to reassess the current construction schedule.

In other action during Thursday's board meeting, five contracts were awarded.

The largest contract went to the Martin K. Eby Construction Co. of Omaha. It is worth $9,650,000, and calls for the construction of the cooling water intake structure at the new Nebraska City Station.

Other contracts approved included:

—Valmont Industries, Valley, Neb., $215,611 for purchase of 161,000-volt steel transmission towers for use in Omaha.

—The McArdle Grading Co., Elkhorn, Neb., $155,000 for grading at the West Omaha operation headquarters.

—The Lueder Construction Co., Omaha, $108,950 for the construction of a series of sewage lagoons at the Fort Calhoun Station to eliminate sewage effluent discharge into the Missouri River.

—The Westinghouse Electric Corp., $65,907 for the purchase of four relay terminals, all for use in Omaha.

House Committee Passes Revised Employment Bill

Washington (UPI) — A House committee Thursday approved a version of the Humphrey-Hawkins "Full Employment" bill revised to bring it closer to the views of candidate Jimmy Carter and to answer critics.

The House Education and Labor Committee voted, 24 to 6, to urge the Rules Committee, which schedules bills for House action, to make it a "first order of business."

The bill may figure in debates between Carter, who endorsed it guardedly, and President Ford, who called it "a vast, election year boondoggle."

But most observers gave it no chance of passing Congress this year, and if it did, Ford would veto it.

The revised bill would set a national goal to reduce unemployment among persons aged 20 and over to 3% within four years.

That would correspond to just under 4%, counting everyone 16 and over, the way the Labor Department reports unemployment, which was 7.9% in August.

An earlier House version — about which Carter expressed reservations because of cost and possible inflationary aspects — would have applied the 3% goal to everyone 16 and over.

PUBLIC AUCTION
UNIMPROVED 80 ACRE GAGE COUNTY FARM

Held at the farm located one mile south of southeast corner of Adams, NE on:

SAT., SEPT. 18, 1976

LEGAL: N½, SW¼, 35-6-8, Gage County

ASC INFORMATION: Approximately 77.8 acres cropland.

TERNS: 20% down day of sale, balance upon January 3, 1977. Buyer will receive a warranty deed and merchantable abstract of title. Sellers retain all income from for the 1976 crop and will pay the 1976 taxes.

POSSESSION: March 1, 1977

INSPECTION: Anytime prior to sale. Watch for signs. For more information contact Dick Shea.

AUCTIONEERS' NOTE: This 80 is gently rolling, terraced with well established waterways. This farm lays in such a way as it takes no water from any other land. It is in a high state of cultivation and fertility. This farm has nearly all cropland and would be a real investment type of farm, one that the new owner would be proud of. It is located close to a good trade town on a good road.

FOUR YEARS AGO, THE ARGUMENT WENT LIKE THIS:
BUT SON! YOU CAN'T GET ANY KIND OF A DECENT JOB WITHOUT A HIGHER EDUCATION!
A HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA'S NOT ENOUGH! YOU'VE GOT TO GET A COLLEGE DEGREE!
AND NOW IT GOES LIKE THIS:
BUT DAD! I CAN'T GET ANY KIND OF A DECENT JOB WITHOUT A HIGHER EDUCATION!

LANCIA

LANCIA BETA COUPE

Most luxury cars are too big, too expensive, and consume too much gas. An intelligent alternative is the new Lancia Beta Coupe or 4-door sedan from Italy. Both cars have front-wheel drive, a responsive 4 cylinder engine, a 5-speed transmission, and disc brakes all around. They also come with reclining bucket seats, which in the coupe are real leather, an adjustable steering column, deep pile carpeting. Test drive a Lancia Beta Today.

The intelligent alternative.

LANCIA BETA COUPE

Most luxury cars are too big, too expensive, and consume too much gas An intelligent alternative is the new Lancia Beta Coupe or 4-door sedan from Italy Both cars have front-wheel drive, a responsive 4 cylinder engine, a 5-speed transmission, and disc brakes all around. They also come with reclining bucket seats, which in the coupe are real leather, an adjustable steering column, deep pile carpeting Test drive a Lancia Beta Today
